and though there was no particular teacher for that department but from the readiness with which they answered the questions which were proposed to them, it appeared to be beyond a doubt that they had been thoroughly taught in the very important department of elementary education. Classes were examined in Natural Science by Prof. Harris and thorough and rigid examinations were given to himself in the satisfactory and entire satisfaction of the Committee, as clearly understanding the duties which they were examined. Prof. Harris though but recently elected to the presidency of the J.F. college dedicated himself admirably from his leaving its partial premises much into the future work of establishing the institution under which he presided. Prof. Mason examined classes in the various branches of Mathematics and we have seldom witnessed an examination in this subject where such an examination as was conducted to the pupils and so satisfactory to us, their examination was formed, established the question that the mind of woman is capable of comprehending and demonstrating the most difficult problems in mathematics. The young ladies in this department have certainly reflected great credit upon themselves and their teachers.

The examinations of the classes in ancient languages taught by Prof. Waters was both satisfactory and through them of his pupils, though exhibiting a familiarity with the rudiments of the Latin language, which has been seldom equalled and never surpassed. Prof. Ager has proved himself preeminent to teach the ancient languages.

The classes in English literature taught by Mrs. Greene acquitted themselves in the examinations as Mrs. J. D. pupils usually do.

Sir,

I hereby tender you my withdrawal from the office of President of La Grange Female College to take effect immediately, the first day of March, 1857.

I have desired to remain in office in your institution until the first of the above named date, but, the duties of field and labors to which I have been recently invited absolutely demand any services early in the ensuing spring, and a failure or delay on my part to yield this promptly to the demands would in all probability forfeit my election to this new and interesting post of duty. In view of my final and fixed resignation as early as I can.

And in view also of the fact which I might sustain by remaining in my present office longer than the time I have designated, I have therefore proceeded to call this board in order that the offices which I have held as President and also signify by letter my acceptance of the presidency of Chattooga Female College, with the promise of taking charge of said college early in

President Harris met the B's, and informed them that he had determined to withdraw from the college as shown in the following letter to them:

To the B's of the Lafayette College

Gentlemen,

I hereby tender my withdrawal from the office of President of the Lafayette College.

I have sincerely desired to remain in office as long as the constitution, as it is now written, would allow me to do so. I have done my best to carry out the policies and principles of the college as laid down by the founders and have tried to live up to the highest ideals which I hold.

I believe that it is time for me to retire from active service and to turn over the responsibilities of the presidency to a younger and more capable leader.

I hope you will continue to support the college and to work for its continued growth and success.

Sincerely yours,

[Note: The signature is illegible.]

Early in the evening of Nov. 1860, I held a meeting of the faculty and the executive committee to discuss the future of the college. It was decided to appoint a new president and to establish an endowment fund to support the college.

I have always held the college in high regard and have worked hard to make it a success. I hope that the college will continue to thrive and to grow under the leadership of its new president.

Sincerely yours,

We are comfortably situated as regards rooms for carrying on the regular course of the College. The general study room is excellent. The art studio is sufficiently large to accommodate all the College classes. The room is pleasant and well ventilated. There is some inconvenience arising from want of heat, but that will be remedied in a very short time.

The rooms occupied by the professors are sufficiently large to accommodate any of the College classes. Prof. Dudgeon is as well situated as he has been heretofore. Dr. Hard is well provided for as far as room is concerned, but it is very far from being as commodious as it was before the fire. Prof. Wills is growing on with his department as heretofore, but he is well supplied with every thing necessary to carry on the mathematical department of the College. The Chair of the Committee for the president reports as follows.

The Committee to whom it was referred the presidency of the La Grange Female College, beg leave after mature consideration to submit the following preamble and resolutions which they recommend to the board of trustees as the result of their deliberations.

Whereas we regard it as important to the welfare & successful perpetuity of the College in particular, in view of its present financial crisis that it should be fully promptly and permanently of course and that the immediate election of an able and efficient president would greatly tend to inspire public confidence in the future of the College.

Therefore resolved that we humbly recommend to the board of trustees to elect a president of the College during their present session.

We recommend the election of Mrs. J. Fell as president of the LaGrange Female College and respectfully solicit his acceptance of the same, all of which is respectfully submitting by your committee.

The Chairman of the Committee on the Presidency presented the names of their appointees and took a recess of 30 minutes, after which order.

The unfinished business taken up was the report of the Committee on the Presidency. It was read and adopted.

Rev. Dr. Pearson was unanimously elected President.

Dr. Pearson signs a committee to consult with Prof. Bache.

Mr. Lewis, Prof. Rogers, and Prof. Smith present the report of the Committee appointed to see Prof. Pearson and make him President of the College. Dr. Pearson appears before the Board and accepts the Presidency of the College.

The following resolutions were passed:

1. The committee apportioned the present funds of the faculty to make up the deficit, subject to the discretion of the President, to be paid from the income of that Department alone.

2. The faculty unable to make arrangements for that purpose, will the teachers in the college Department be paid the same for emolument to the same as under present arrangement, and that the income of the college be under the present arrangement.

3. The Standard of the President, and each Professor, and the instructors in the college Department, shall receive proportionately.

4. The committee to whom was referred the_sf58681nt of the College, have had the same under special consideration and are now to report as follows:

1. We are satisfied that many of the reports that have been in circulation implicating some members of the faculty are not true.

2. That the fire must have been the result of an accident in some unknown way. It is clear, the College had been left to the care of a traveling musician for a concert on the night of the fatal accident, as from the forces being seen first at the door and about the stage it may have occurred from the dropping of some fire at this time. We can but regret that the College was and for such a purpose is for their irresponsibility, and that such object is to make money by it, not for the College but for themselves.

Hereupon concludes the session. We disapprove the letting of the College chapel for such purposes as this is the most probable cause we can find for the fatal accident.

Respectfully,

L. B. Davis
