Dr. Smart Speaks at Vespers

On Sunday, March 3rd, the College enjoyed the presence of two visitors—Dr. and Mrs. Smart, of Emory University. The occasion was the greatly anticipated annual visit of Dr. Smart for the purpose of speaking to the L. C. Glee Club. His every word was a message and his messages are always stimulating and helpful, and looked forward to with much eagerness.

"Faith is the title considered, based on the verse, "Faith of things hoped for, not seen."

"Peace in the heart, faith in the Heavenly Father enables his power to bring miraculous results in the lives of his children and his church, which could not be seen through the Savior's sacrifice."

"Faith is in mankind. Faith in God, faith in self and in others, and faith in social problems—are in faith they are all, and they can all be solved."

"Their faith in their own power, things desirable which do not seem to exist, but can be made to exist, and the faith judges more wisely, and sees things which others do not see."

"We as a people as a whole, look forward to the future and see in faith the road to progress."

"The church of America is a church of the people."

"The Glee Club was organized in 1849."

"The Glee Club has been a part of the college life since its founding."

"The Glee Club has been one of the busiest organizations on the campus."
COLUMN OF SOCIALS

Epidemics of sleeping sickness have made themselves felt in practically all larger colleges and universities this season. This fact was brought out in another of these socials on Thursday, February 19. At least five professors have been discussed in their classes, and some have been urged to bring their courses to a close. The University of Georgia will soon occupy a large part of the campus, with the exception of a few small buildings which are still under construction.

The University of Georgia will be finished for inspection in the near future, and the meritorious efforts of the faculty in completing the work will be appreciated. The new home of the University of Georgia will be a large, modern, well-equipped institution, and the students will be proud of having such a splendid school to call their own.

The University of Georgia will be open to all students, and the faculty will be glad to have them come and enjoy the beautiful scenery and the fine educational facilities which the new home offers. The University of Georgia will be a great institution, and the world is looking forward to its success and prosperity.
March brings us spring holidays! This is the signal for counting mid-point of the school year, and year. March is well past the bringing us first hints of the pleasant time for us. First, it pours—that is March.

MARCH WHISPERINGS
The scene was a stage only half set for a morning rehearsal and dimly lighted. From the entrance of Mr. Sud the realistic playwright to the final words, “Oh, shut the author,” the play was a succession of hasty Vaughn. He has gained a reputation as a young and promising playwright. Mr. Sud with his brand-new ideas and his efforts to teach Mr. Woudoir the dramatic principles, Mr. Ivory’s love for his daughter, Mr. Ruler’s forgotten cues—all were laughter—provoking, to Mr. Inkwell’s villainy, and Mrs. Pencil’s stage fright.

All the girls acted their parts entirely showing the skill of the training of natural talent. The play was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

March—-the lion, and March the lamb. Was ever such a month before?

But with all its variety and instability March is a very pleasant time for us. First, it brings the springtime—which is the leader once every four years. It brings our first period of the springtime (and spring fever.) It is the month of Easter this year. A change is well past the mid-point of the school year, and this is an official day for counting the days before commencement. First, best of all new, pleasant March brings us spring holidays!

LaGrange College
March 25, 1929

THE SCROLL

Guy de Maupassant, Subject of French Circle Program

Miss Edith Taylor and Miss Millie Denn presented the program for the French Circle which was held at the High School. The subject of the program was Guy de Maupassant.

The life of Maupassant was discussed by Miss Catherine Chastain. Guy de Maupassant spent his childhood at Etretat, served in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870, took a small post in the ministry of Marines. The nationalistic tendency appears in his early works. After the success of “Triste de Surt” Maupassant decided to devote himself to fiction. Ill health sent him to the Riviera, and there in 1892 he was struck with insanity. He died, of general paralysis, eighteen months later. Miss Elizabeth Ford told one of Maupassant’s stories, the “Monument.”

The writer of the story becomes acquainted with an old dancing master who had taught dancing in the court of Louis XV.

Miss Ruth Hill discussed some of Maupassant’s contemporaries—Flauberti, the Goncourt Brothers, Zola, and Daudet. The villages around the circle were Mr. Mania Hul and Miss Ruth Hill.

And That’s Culture

(HARVARD LAMPOON)
Met a poor guy the other day who was kicked off of Harvard College for cribbing. He boasted on the examination paper of the man in front of him and stole his idea. When you do your homework, you can say to her “well done thou me.”

In this college there is just one right idea in every course. And that is the Professor’s idea. The Professor’s idea has been cribbed out of other books.

Now all you have to do is to read the book the Professor’s idea in it. If you are not, you are a success.

As long as you’ve got a good memory and can remember, it you’ve got a good memory and can figure out. And that’s culture.

Recently Miss Ethel Fike, class of ’32, announced her engagement to Mr. Daugherty. The marriage will be solemnized in the near future. Miss Fike is a resident of LaGrange. It is of interest to know that Mr. Daugherty is the brother of Miss Katherine Daugherty, a former teacher of this college.

Callaway’s
131 Main Street
LaGrange, Georgia

We are glad to know that one of our former students, Mrs. Barbara Turner Williams, has moved to LaGrange. A convention of the Teacher’s State College of Alabama, was recently held in Birmingham. A number of LaGrange alumnae are teaching in Alabama and we feel sure they enjoyed attending the convention.

We regret to hear of the death of Miss Elida Murphy, class of ’28. Her life was such that she at her death her creator was able to say to her “well done thou proud and faithful servant.”

Recently Miss Ethel Fike, class of ’32, announced her engagement to Mr. Daugherty. The marriage will be solemnized in the near future. Miss Fike is a resident of LaGrange. It is of interest to know that Mr. Daugherty is the brother of Miss Katherine Daugherty, a former teacher of this college.
LaGrange College

The Negro of the Old South

We all remember as our happiest childhood days those on which our dear old black mammy was a constant companion. She could tell the most wonderful tales of Rabbits and Foxes who went about talking and acting as humans. Those same stories had been told from generation to generation among the slaves and became known to the world through Joel Chandler Harris as the Uncle Remus Stories. Friday afternoon when the English club featured the "Negro of the Old South" we were fortunate enough to have Miss Lassie Warner, grand-daughter of Joel Chandler Harris, to read for us from her works.

On this story reading day Delphine, given by Eloise Wagner, grand-daughter of Joel Chandler Harris, to read for us from his native land.

Mrs. Traylor: "What mood?"

Miss Stewart: "Miss Dunbar, what's the matter?"

Tennie: "Water, Master, with the hot."

The Soph stood on the railroad track.

The train was fast.

The Soph stepped off the railroad track.

And let the Senior pass.

"Will you join me in a bowl of soup?"

Do you think there's room for both of us?"

Mrs. Trayker: "What mood?

Mrs. Ruth, looking out at the window: "The comin' of the May flowers is a sign of Spring that will thrill the world, show the marigold's training of your matchless dress, and reflect the shining love of your Alma Mater.

"If you are going to marry Mat at last—what is he like?"

Evelyn: "He is the most up right, high-minded, honorable fellow in the world."

Madeline: "So you are going to marry Mat at last—what is he like?"

He: "To what security do you belong?"

She: "Kappa Kappa."

He: "I heard you the first time."

A farmer boy's love letter:

Darling.

Do you care at all for me? My heart beats for you and my love is as soft as a squash, but I am on strong as an onion, for you are a peach with a turpentine nose and had hair. If you cant-leap with me, lettuce marry anyway for I am not likely to make a pair.

Loves of love, JAKE.

Miss Davis was drilling during his army career. All went well until cartridges were distributed among the soldiers. The ser-geant gave the order: "Fire at will!"

Pat, puzzled, lowering his gun, yelled, "Hey, your pardon sir, but which one is Wal?"

THE SCROLL

March, 1929

SPRING

and with the new season, costumes take on new gaiety of color, new line interest, a freshness and charm of fabric and style. In Ward's collection of Spring wear there is everything to outfit the smart woman—from Paris-styled coats and frocks to the smallest important accessories.

DRESSES

$18.95 to $23.75

In this collection are soft capes, flopping satin costumes, sheer georgettes, skillfully fashioned into the most charming of afternoon frocks.

COATS

$8.75 to $29.75

Smooth brocades, pastel-colored twills, silk batiste and velvets--a picture of Spring's new coat fashions. Modestly and dainty tailored, they are softly fancied or exactly suited. The straight silhouettes is often broken by capes and shawls.

LaGrange Hdw. Co.

Tennis Rackets

25% Discount to College Students

THE WINCHESTER STORE

Compliments of

LaGrange, Georgia

J. C. Penney Co.

Your Family Doctor Doesn't Offer "Specials"

Suppose your Family Doctor offered a "special" on medicines every other Thursday, or advertised his office fees would be cut in half on the second and third Mondays of the month.

Illogical, isn't it? That is exactly why the J. C. Penney Company doesn't offer "specials" or "cut prices" or hold so-called "sales."

Day after day we sell merchandise at the lowest figure of our regular prices. We don't offer "specials." The "special" word is often broken by capes and shawls.

MILAM DRUG COMPANY

"The Firm That Appreciates Your Patronage."

MADISON

Headquarters for Gifts, Millinery and Silk Beadery

Court Square

LaGrange, Ga.

DAVIS PHARMACY

"Home of the College Girls" Courtesy and Service

261—Phone—263

LaGrange Hdw. Co.

Tennis Rackets

25% Discount to College Students

THE WINCHESTER STORE

Compliments of

COURT SQUARE PHARMACY

LaGrange, Ga.

J. C. Penney Co.

Your Family Doctor Doesn't Offer "Specials"

Suppose your Family Doctor offered a "special" on medicines every other Thursday, or advertised his office fees would be cut in half on the second and third Mondays of the month.

Illogical, isn't it? That is exactly why the J. C. Penney Company doesn't offer "specials" or "cut prices" or hold so-called "sales."

Day after day we sell merchandise at the lowest figure of our regular prices. We don't offer "specials." The "special" word is often broken by capes and shawls.

Compliments of

LaGrange, Georgia

BETTER RIPPERS in all sizes and styles, SIPP X-3, Two Tones, White, White and Black, Crepe Sole.

DARDEN BRO. SHOE STORE