L. C. Girls Learn Parliamentary Law

During the last few days before our departure for spring sessions, we were in a most interesting and enjoyable manner prepared with the correct method of procedure in Parliamentary Law. This was done at the request of Miss Chesnutt, who threatened to go home if we did not have our training completed in time for our trip. On Thursday night in the prayer hall she clearly stated the duties of each position in the officer body and asked us to promise to take our duties seriously.

That night the student body met in session to elect the officers. To bring order into the meeting, a sizable number of motions were made, but few were seconded.

Following the election, Miss Chesnutt told us that in her opinion we are not making much progress. She said that we are not doing enough to prepare ourselves for the officers' duties and that we are not working hard enough.

On Saturday morning during the regular chapel service, Miss Chesnutt spoke to the student body. She said that we have not been making much progress and that we need to work harder.

The following night a student body meeting was held. After the roll call was taken, the meeting was adjourned.

The following day, Saturday, the student body met again to elect the officers. After the roll call was taken, the meeting was adjourned.

Motions were made to change the name of the club to the "L. C. Girls". These motions were seconded and voted on.

Miss Chesnutt introduced the candidates for the different offices. They were as follows:

President: Miss Dorothy Stoddard
Vice-President: Miss Alice Thompson
Secretary: Miss Margaret Dallis
Treasurer: Miss Mildred Johnson

The meeting was adjourned.

On Becoming Editor

No long, drawn-out speech do I have to prepare and give with about a million other things to do, but without pomp and ceremony, fortune and mealt and me, I quickly take my seat in the editorial room. No restraint before the drum and bass of tomorrow, of the glee club, of the orchestra, and of the dramatic group. I have bad no experience in newspaper work, but I promise you I will be here, and will be waiting for you. We have some to us now of the staff of another old member, and I am sure you will like to hear what he has to say, if you please.

The next number was a group of "Who's Who in the Roll Call" department. This is the first time we have had a feature of this sort. It is hoped that it will be a success, and that you will like it. If you do not, we will drop it, but we hope you will like it.

In the Blue Room, the Saturday evening dance, we found the students and teachers enjoying themselves very much. The dance was arranged by the Student Council, and was a great success. The music was furnished by the orchestra, and the students and teachers were very much pleased with it. The dance was open to all, and was very popular.

The next number was the last of the season, and was a great success. The music was furnished by the orchestra, and the students and teachers were very much pleased with it. The dance was open to all, and was very popular.

Camp Wilkins

To ask us to write an account of our trip to Camp Wilkins is to ask us to write an account of our trip to Camp Wilkins. We have no wish to write an account of our trip to Camp Wilkins, and we therefore decline to do so. However, we will say that the trip was a delight to all who went on it, and that it was a great success.

The SCROLL
The "Hill"

The "Hill" was simply the best. It was the main skiing feeling. That is how I felt when the bus took the girls to Atlanta rolled off the "HILL". With mixed cheer I pictured to myself the deserted, most fascinating scenery that we had ever seen. The first thing after the girls had gone spring holidays began plan their best to disappoint us and to make us enjoy them in spite of everything. That night during the upper hour we had the brightest program. We heard "Mrs. Club headquarters from WSB. Maybe you didn't thrill us to hear the an

"The Villian." It is a gadget I see before my face?"

The next morning the "sewing bees" started. Almost everyone had submitted the pretty building and always brought them home for the week-end. The social scene was filled with them. Can you imagine that?

And yet not least our people during the holidays were simply delicious. We could not mention them. All the way 'round spring holidays were wonderful and simply delicious. We could not imagine people.

All of us had them.
