ELABORATE BANQUET IS HELD AT COLLEGE

THE Y. W. C. A. BAZAAR

On Friday afternoon, December 12, in the College gymnasium, the Y. W. C. A. bazaar was held from three until five. The bazaar was beautifully adorned with pink candles, and entertaining music. The bazaar's focus was to raise funds for scholarships and support the Y.W.C.A. The proceeds of the bazaar go to the benefit of the students and the college.

The first week in December, 1929, will be known as Revolution Week at LaGrange College. When the history of this not-always-quiet week is recorded it will not be known as Revolution Week at La Grange College, December, 1929.

TOWN SENIORS ENJOY DORMITORY LIFE T.L.C.

Thanksgiving

On the morning of November the 25th as we opened our eyes at first sound of the Santa bell, a glorious sunshiny day greeted us, which added one more item to our already lengthy list of blessings for which we were thankful. The true Thanksgiving athletic events, the heart of each girl because of the many benefits which have come to us from the Great Maker.

Every one seemed to possess the holiday freedom, too. Just think! we could go down town for breakfast and lunch and go off the campus as many times as we wanted. Only two girls missed this wonderful day at L. C., which was to prove that no enjoyable Thanksgiving had been premeditated.

Another item which made our hearts in better tune with the Thanksgiving spirit was the interesting address given by Rev. Mr. Hallas in the gymnasium. The subject was "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord," and the words, "thank", was traced to its origin in the Anglo-Saxon, which related it to the word "think." Since thanks words are closely related, if we are thankful we will be thoughtful.

The most fun of all came at 11 o'clock, when all the girls gathered in the gymnasium to enjoy the improved detail and color scheme. The constellations consisted of one member from each class, and they truly created class rivalry, especially in the pie-eating contest. A delightfully served luncheon was enjoyed by all during the afternoon. The members of the faculty entertained these Seniors at a lovely tea on the third floor of Hawkes.

And then there was the Jingle Bell dance of the Y.-W.C.A. The Y.-W.C.A. is the only organization that is in existence at the college, and it is a very busy and active one.

Other girls at the Misses Van Schuyler's room followed by classes formed outside a neighbor's door were we seemed to be gay it may have been for the Jolly Juniors wish everybody a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

CLASS OF '21

You know what we have in store for you if you've kept your eyes and ears open. Have you seen girl friends coming to our school? And girls who have been charming to all kinds of good vegetables, meats, and pies.

CLASS OF '20

It is a good thing to flit around those pages of college life. There is such a thing they say as Revolution Week at LaGrange College, December, 1929.
LaGrange College

Published monthly by the Quill Drive-er's Club of LaGrange College.
Recipient of the 1929 Student Newspaper Contest First Prize, The Southern Press Association, Atlanta, Ga., second-class mail matter authorized January 20, 1922, under Act of Congress, 1912.
Subscription rate, fifty cents a sem-ester.

EDITORIAL STAFF
May Beul Yancey—Editor-in-Chief.
Lottie Traylor—Adverting Mgr.
Jeanne Hensley—Business Manager.
Gertrude Davis—Circulation Mgr.
Miss Jessie Lanier—News Editor.
Dorothy Neal—Feature Editor.
Elizabeth Merritt—Copy Editor.
Mabel Hensley—Alumni Editor.
Hixie Gentry—Exchange Editor.
Catherine Chestnutt, Mildred Stipe.

REPORTERS
Allie Evan Cornbutter.
Hixie Gentry.
Mary Alice Halkrow.
Alice Bird.
Mary Walker.
Doris Landrum.

COLLEGE DIRECTORY
Class Presidents:
Robert Cornbutter—Junior.
Carolyn Hailston—Senior.
Sophomores—Allyn Poole.
Freshman—Edith Hines.
Special—Elynn Wallace.

ORGANIZATIONS
Y. W. C. A.—Helen Walker.
Student Body—Catherine Chestnutt.
Athletic Ass'n.—Agnes Richardson.
Quill Drive-ers—Beul Yancey.

THE SCROLL
December, 1929.

A LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS

The Scroll,
LaGrange College, the other day.
Dear Santa Claus:

I am very sorry to write to you, but I have found nothing to give you in return for the good you have done for me this year, so I thought I would write and tell you what I would like to have for Christmas.

I want a new bicycle, a new radio set, and a new doll. I also want some books and a new dress.

I hope you will be able to give me what I want, for I need it very much.

Sincerely yours,

November 15.

GLADYS GOSSIPER

Dear Edward:

This is no place for a human being to come and tell me about the latest problems of the technical development of the education and morals of the young women. What are you going to do with all these girls? It seems to me that you are simply wasting your time.

Sincerely,

December 10.

GLADYS GOSSIPER

To the Editor:

Dear Miss Goosie:

I am sorry to have to tell you that I am unable to accept your kind offer of assistance.

Sincerely yours,

December 15.
ATHLETIC EVENTS

Have you heard about the fun we are having at Freshman Hill? Well, you should have! This morning, there was a competition between the Freshmen and Sophomores to see who could sing the song "They Stooped to Conquer" by William S. Gilbert. The Sophomores, led by Miss Virginia Moseley, won the competition with their vibrant and lively rendition. The Sophomores were awarded certificates and a small sum of prize money for their victory.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Miss Virginia Moseley, '29, who is teaching at Colfax, Georgia, was a recent visitor on the Hill. Miss Martha Jane Estes, '28, who taught at Shellman, Alabama, spent Thanksgiving with us. Miss Elizabeth Reeves, '29, who taught at Shayまと, Alabama, spent the holiday with us. Miss Melissa Smith, '29, who taught at Union City, was a recent visitor as well.

The LaGrange Club will sponsor a bazaar at 1108 De Leon Avenue, with Mrs. Samuel C. Cobos as general chairman.

SOPHOMORE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Have you heard about this new optimistic theory advocated by Sophomores? Sophomores are often accredited with being sophisticated and wise but who would ever have dreamed they would try their hand at this? "Everything turns out for the best," therefore be optimistic in face of trials, temptations and tribulations. For example, last Tuesday night in the library, a certain Sophomore confided to another, "You know, I've decided to be optimistic from now on—I'm going home this weekend (provided I don't yell at the telephone customers always get on my nerves)."

Upon careful deliberation, the other agreed and volunteered his optimism. "I'm beginning to realize that this pessimism is a state of mind as an open door, looking through problems of the past, and planning for the future. We enjoy the moments, not only because of their inspirational quality, but also because of the beauty of the moment, the sound of the clock, the taste of the food, and the feeling of being alive."

ENGLISH CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The first regular meeting of the English Club was held in the Prayer Hall November 16, at 4:30 o'clock, by the president, Miss Catherine Chestnutt. The subject under discussion was "The Life of the Poet." Miss Maria Leahy read an essay by Matthew Arnold, "The Scholar Gipsy." The meeting was adjourned.

PARKER FURNITURE COMPANY

BEST GOODS, LOWEST PRICES, EASIEST TERMS

New Orthopic Victrolas and Records. $1.00 Saved in $5.00.

CALLAWAY'S DEPARTMENT STORE

WOMEN'S READY-TO-WEAR AND ACCESSORIES

MILLINERY. DRESSES COATS

Lingerie, Gloves, Hosiery. See Us Soon and Often.

PERKERS NROS.

Beautiful Dry Cleaning.

OUR FRENCH DRY CLEANING WILL PLEASE YOU.

PHONE 972.

DON'T FORGET

The Country Store
FOR ANYTHING GOOD TO EAT.

HADAWAY GROCERY CO.
PHASES OF COLLEGE LIFE

In the College Parlor.

A dear of perfume, another bunching of the hair, a bit more rouge and powder, and one is ready to descend to the ball below, to await the "answering." Arriving there, the fair young lady seats herself in an easy chair, hums a dance tune, watches the clock, and Betimes for the doorbell.

When she has been waiting for a period of approximately five minutes, she is taken aside with various doubtful replies and interrogations ; "pass he doesn’t come? I wonder if he understands it to be Monday night, but surely he did; I’m getting sleepy; wish he would come on."

A drill press from the contraption attached to the front door interrupts her thoughts and heralds the supreme moment. She jerks nervously, but forces herself to sit quietly and nonchalantly until the matron rounds the room and hears her name. Soundings with the prefix "Miss," called out. She rises and walks down the hall in a manner in which she is described as poised, queenly, graceful, at ease.

Being prepared to receive the congratulations of the college, her face turns from an appreciative study of the paintings upon the walls to the group she hears. Words shaken with nervousness in proportion to the number of times he has stated in a colloquy part.

The girl glances about the room and asks his preference of a place to sit; having discarded his bit of suggestion that his Ford is the ideal place, she has all the responsibility of selecting a location. She considers the most eligible and finally decides on the seat behind the radio. It has two good points:

1. The warmth.
2. The feeling.

Thus established, the conversation is begun, and is kept up more or less vigorously until the clock strikes twelve, simultaneously, the lights flash, bell rings, and people begin to shout. The poor boy must needs be assured because of these disappearing happinesses, and he is rewritten as to the causes of the disturbance upstairs. It is the signal that study has begun.

Goodbyes are begun at once, and their length determines whether or not the student will permitted another glimpse of the matron, when who a roller seems not over-anxious to obtain his best, but is anxious to the door and door, and the heartbroken one leaves immediately.

L

In all the world no finer pen!

Beautiful — easy — writeable — will serve for your Lifetime — guaranteed!

Denny-Phlipot Drug Co

SHEAFFER'S

SHAWF'S DESK WRITEABLE" "

ON DISPLAY AT

Denny-Phlipot Drug Co

December, 1929.

ANYTHING FOR A LAUGH

"Yes, I heard a noise and got up in my night gown, and those under the bed I saw a man’s leg!"

"Good heavens!" the burglars! "No, my husband; he had heard the noise, too."

Miss Stewart: "A catalyst is something that aids in the completion of a reaction but takes no active part in it. Can you illustrate, Miss Richards?"

"A glass eitz."

The oyster man, it seems to me, deserves congratulations for picking such an easy job—just think of the vacation.

Would-be suicides: "Don’t rescue me; I want to die."

Swimmer: "Well, you’ll have to postpone it, I want a life-saving medal."

Phases of College Life

Senior Notes

Almost every week something happens that brings us into closer contact with the teaching profession and gives us a clearer idea of what it will mean to belong to the profession of Miss Hanley, we have an opportunity to see Mr. J. A. Willis, the superintendent of Fulton County Schools when he spoke to a group of Trans county teachers in the courthouse. He made an interesting talk and left a vivid impression of the good-natured, pleasant and capable young man she put into practice next year some of the advice that he so knowingly gave.

We all want to thank our Faculty for the delightful Ten with which they honored us a few weeks ago. We really did feel our "Seniority" forcefully on this occasion than at any other time. We will admit we felt rather "out of our pew" at first, but the gracious manner of the hostesses soon put every one at their ease and we all had an enjoyable after-service.

The Seniors proposed trip to Washington is rapidly becoming a reality conclusion and, from prospects, we feel that when Spring comes, we will all be ready to emblazon our names on the ever-growing roll of the list. It is said that the Seniors sponsored program for a few Saturdays past we made a few dollars for the unwarranted art and other things contributed by all in the hall. We are now forced to make our times at home Xmas round for something in between dates, good times, etc., and all of us being our money placed toward the Washington fund.

The Art Club meets once a month in the studio and the real and works of great artists are discussed. They are our own and are bought and added to the collection in the studio.

PHASES OF COLLEGE LIFE

Dances in the College Parlor.

A dear of perfume, another bunching of the hair, a bit more rouge and powder, and one is ready to descend to the hall below, to await the "answering." Arriving there, the fair young lady seats herself in an easy chair, hums a dance tune, watches the clock, and Betimes for the doorbell.

When she has been waiting for a period of approximately five minutes, she is taken aside with various doubtful replies and interrogations; "pass he doesn’t come? I wonder if he understands it to be Monday night, but surely he did; I’m getting sleepy; wish he would come on."

A drill press from the contraption attached to the front door interrupts her thoughts and heralds the supreme moment. She jerks nervously, but forces herself to sit quietly and nonchalantly until the matron rounds the room and hears her name, sounding with the prefix "Miss," called out. She rises and walks down the hall in a manner in which she is described as poised, queenly, graceful, at ease.

Being prepared to receive the congratulations of the college, her face turns from an appreciative study of the paintings upon the walls to the group she hears. Words shaken with nervousness in proportion to the number of times he has stated in a colloquy part. It has two good points:

1. The warmth.
2. The feeling.

Thus established, the conversation is begun, and is kept up more or less vigorously until the clock strikes twelve, simultaneously, the lights flash, bell rings, and people begin to shout. The poor boy must needs be assured because of these disappearing happinesses, and he is rewritten as to the causes of the disturbance upstairs. It is the signal that study has begun.

Goodbyes are begun at once, and their length determines whether or not the student will permitted another glimpse of the matron, when who a roller seems not over-anxious to obtain his best, but is anxious to the door and door, and the heartbroken one leaves immediately.

In all the world no finer pen!

Beautiful — easy — writeable — will serve for your Lifetime — guaranteed!

Denny-Phlipot Drug Co

The Scrioll

We are glad to welcome our new members into the Spanish Club. They are: Mrs. Margaret Parson, Mrs. Kinz, Calvin Smith, Chastain, Pinkie Craft, Robbie Hadley, Mary Grimes, Evelyn Cooper, Aurelia Adams and Grace Landrum.

At a call meeting the following officers were elected: Helen Walker, president; Margaret Parson, secretary and treasurer and Grace Landrum, recorder. The first regular meeting of this club will be Thursday afternoon, December twelfth at four o’clock. An interesting program has been arranged by Miss Walker, Grimes and Chastain. The refreshment committee is composed of Misses Parson and Landrum.

Senior Notes

Almost every week something happens that brings us into closer contact with the teaching profession and gives us a clearer idea of what it will mean to belong to the profession of Miss Hanley, we have an opportunity to see Mr. J. A. Willis, the superintendent of Fulton County Schools when he spoke to a group of Trans county teachers in the courthouse. He made an interesting talk and left a vivid impression of the good-natured, pleasant and capable young man she put into practice next year some of the advice that he so knowingly gave.

We all want to thank our Faculty for the delightful Ten with which they honored us a few weeks ago. We really did feel our "Seniority" forcefully on this occasion than at any other time. We will admit we felt rather "out of our pew" at first, but the gracious manner of the hostesses soon put every one at their ease and we all had an enjoyable after-service.

The Seniors proposed trip to Washington is rapidly becoming a reality conclusion and, from prospects, we feel that when Spring comes, we will all be ready to emblazon our names on the ever-growing roll of the list. It is said that the Seniors sponsored program for a few Saturdays past we made a few dollars for the unwarranted art and other things contributed by all in the hall. We are now forced to make our times at home Xmas round for something in between dates, good times, etc., and all of us being our money placed toward the Washington fund.

The Art Club meets once a month in the studio and the real and works of great artists are discussed. They are our own and are bought and added to the collection in the studio.

DARDEN BROS. SHOE STORE

Gun Metal Faux Thread Silk Full-fashioned Hose

Double Pointed Black and Self Colored Heels, $1.45.

RHODES-PERDUE FURNITURE CO.

28 COURT SQUARE

BETTER FURNITURE FOR LESS MONEY.

Valway Suntones

And

Pansy Rugs

GUARANTEED NOT TO FADE, ARE IDEAL FOR YOUR ROOM AT

SCHOOL OR HOME

Valway Rug Mills

LaGrange, Ga.