Who's Who Selects Five

SCA Slates Varied Schedule; Darj Response Large

Have you paid your pledge to Darj? Do you have a date for the homecoming? All of these things are indications of the Student Christian Association at LaGrange College.

On November 9 a chapel program was presented by the World Relatedness Committee of the S.C.A. in order to introduce Darj, the little boy whom the S.C.A. has adopted through the Foster Parent's Plan. Everyone was given an opportunity to make a pledge to help support Darj. The money will be used for his Christmas present, as well as for his physical needs. Approximately $32 was pledged by the student body and the faculty. The S.C.A. hopes that all pledges will be paid by December 22.

A hayride to Pine Mountain on Saturday night, November 22 will be for all students and their dates. Hay and hot dogs will be provided for everyone.

The Social Service Committee is sponsoring the annual Thanks-giving project of collecting food for those who are not so fortunate as we. Boxes have been placed in each dormitory, and students are requested to fill them with canned goods. The boxes will then be distributed to four needy families here in LaGrange.

The following vespers programs have been announced by the Worship Committee.

November 20 — Interpretation of Religious Music.
November 25 — Thanksgiving Service.
December 2 — Dramatic Reading.
December 4 — Filmstrip ("Members One of Another").

Five LaGrange College students have been named to the membership of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGES. Those selected were Barbara Carter, Mary Floyd, Jo Anne Haymore, Myrtle Horton, and Louise Kesler.

Selection to WHO'S WHO is one of the highest honors available to a college student. The annual recognition is determined by a group assigned to each participating institution based on enrollment. Nominations are made by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, academic and extra-curricular participation, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness.

Besides being consistently rated on the Dean's list each semester, the individuals chosen for this year's WHO'S WHO have distinguished themselves in other realms.

Barbara Carter of Tifton is president of the Student Christian Association and has served two years as co-chairman of the Worship Committee. She is treasurer of the Christadelphians, active in the Methodist Student Fellowship and has received an honorable mention for the Honors Club.

Jo Anne Haymore, Myrtle Horton, and Louise Kesler are Ray Barfield, vice-president; and Louise Kesler, secretary; Debra Lee, treasurer; and Libby Carlock, co-captain, respectively.

Birth of the News

Well, as Topsy would say, "Here we is!" And, though the grammatical structure of this sentence could come into consideration, there is no better way to introduce the Hill-Top News to the campus. Perhaps a more formal way would be to say, "We present this as an informal paper, full of news, views and highlights of LaGrange College."

In a sense it is really your newspaper, because without your advice and moral support we would not be in existence today.

The history of the News is necessarily a brief one. It began at the first of school when a group got together and decided the Hill Top needed a newspaper. The ball started rolling when the Student Council heard of the idea and agreed to back it 100 per cent. The president's office was the next step, and an important one, but he, too, agreed that a newspaper was needed and told us that one more approval was necessary before we could proceed. The advisory council, two of us met with the different department heads and presented what we hoped was a sound argument for a newspaper. The one short hour between the two meetings the actual decision and the time when we were informed were suspense-filled moments. But the waiting paid off, and we actually began work on "your" paper.

Unfortunately we still lacked one vital object — money. But we were sure that some way the money could be found. Here we want to say a great "thank you" to the S.C.A., the W.A.A., and the Student Government for their financial support. But we know that even with this money we had to have additional funds. The only logical answer was advertisements. When we started selling ads we were not prepared for the number of responses we received. Our advertisers have shown that they are interested in this school and its students, and for this we are very thankful.

This is the first issue of Hill-Top News, but we are young, and will benefit from each issue and each issue's problems. All we ask of you now is your interest and continued support. We want Hill-Top News to be a paper that you can depend on, and tell them you saw their ad in the News. We hope this paper will grow and prosper, and each succeeding student generation will remember the LaGrange Hill-Top News as a large part of their college life. (L.H.)

Pain and Progress

Anyone presently connected with LaGrange College will agree that an hour or something is better than two. The case in point here is the new schedule of classes. Although it was not designed for this specific purpose, the new schedule has made possible some progressive changes through classes. Professors have failed to meet classes. The administration has received a number of complaints and suffered a lot of fines because of the haphazard schedule. Fines have been heaped, and frustration over class conflicts has been rampant. Class conflict has reached a supreme because of the haphazard schedule.

However, all this suffering has not been in vain. The new schedule of classes has brought a sense of order and the desire to keep them warm. Some are so drunk that they don't know a turkey from a chicken. I have my toes crossed. Meanwhile, back at the farmhouses, the fowls are busily engaged in cutting 10 and 12 and each other. Once or twice they mention how glad they are that Thanksgiving comes only once a year. For them, I guess it does.

All this action has been a warm-up for the sumptuous dinner. The first syllable of the "Amen" of the traditionally pious Thanksgiving prayer is a signal to take fork in hand. With the last syllable of the "Amen" still sounding, greedy hands grab favorite dishes. Everyone says that everything is the "most delicious." Each mother beams in turn as her food is complimented. After the meal, everyone stretched out for an afternoon of rest. Thank you, all are able to do. They call it Thanksgiving, but I call it "gluttony." I'm really talking turkey, too, because that's what I am.

Hear Ye, Hear Ye

Send your letters to the quickness possible way.

We need: news, views, suggestions, anything will do.

Complain, suggestions, anything will do.

As long as they are sincere, straight from you.

Begin with "Dear Editor" and end with complete name, if your letter gets here, we'll know it came.

Wouldn't you like to make some kind of suggestion, like a clean-up campaign in your dormitory? Maybe you would like to show your appreciation of the housemother or a teacher. You can always commend some group like the Curtain Raisers for their splendid productions. You can also give or pine or complain about something you've been getting tired of doing your own laundry. There are always someone to complain about. Things are bad, aren't they? Next, "promise of future usefulness."
Tough Schedule Faces Panthers

When the 1958 edition of "The Hill" Panther takes to the hardwood Friday night for the opening basketball contest of the season, there will be little resemblance to squads of previous years.

In fact only three lettermen will be on hand at Clarksville tomorrow evening when the L. C. carriers meet North Georgia Trade School in a pre-season scrap. With only captain and center Olin Harp, reserve center Mickey Reams, and forward Larry Boswell returning from last year's squad, the Panthers face a tough slate of 14 league contests in that department with Malone Dodson, who is not on the squad this year, leading the Panther offense in finishing the season with a 10.3 point average.

Mickey Reams from LaGrange, Ohio, is back for his second year on the Panther squad and taking over the number 7 center position. A sophomore majoring in business administration, Mickey stands 6'3", 180 lbs. He played high school ball at Trup High in LaGrange.

Larry Boswell also back for his second year is a sophomore from Phenix City, Alabama. A 6'2", 70 lb. forward, Larry played his high school ball at Central High School in Phenix City. Larry finished last season with an impressive 9.5 average and will be depended on this year to carry a large part of the team's offense. Wayne Copeland, a native of LaGrange, is a 6'4", 230 lb. forward or center. Wayne comes from the team Young Harris College. He was an outstanding ballplayer at Young Harris and was All-state his freshman year.

Wayne is a junior. At one of the guard positions is Wallace Brown, a 6'1", 175 lb. senior from Cartersville. Wallace is also a transfer from Young Harris. He played his high school ball at Pine Log High School. Wallace is one of the most aggressive ballplayers and one of the smartest play-makers in college basketball.

From Miller County High School and transferring from North Georgia Trade School is Buddy Grimes, a 5'11", 175 lb. guard. Buddy makes up for his short size with speed. He is also an outstanding ball handler and should see quite a bit of action this year with the Panthers. Buddy is a sophomore.

Jerry Binns lettered his second year on the Panther squad and taking over the number 9 forward position. He is also an outstanding ball handler. He is a sophomore.

New Campus Buildings Ready in Late Spring

With the William H. Turner Hall already completed and occupied, the building program at LaGrange College is proceeding rapidly. Presently two other buildings, the new gymnasium and the Louise Anderson Manget Classroom Building, are under construction. The spacious new parking lot, also recently completed, has alleviated campus parking problems.

The new gym, constructed and equipped at an approximate cost of $325,000, will be a modern, fully equipped building. In addition to the gym floor, with a seating capacity of 800, the building will contain the complete Physical Education Department, the Maintenance Department, and a kitchen.

An outstanding feature of the Physical Education Department will be a large room designed for indoor physical activities. The room will have a tile floor with two inlaid shuffleboard courts. Equipped with folding chairs and tables, the room will also double as a banquet room and a place for small dances. The department will also include a dressing room for both men and women. Also, there will be a band room and showers for visiting men's basketball teams.

Sleeping accommodations for visiting teams which must stay overnight will no longer be a problem for there will be a room equipped with double decker beds.

The main floor will contain one of the most modern basketball plants, according to College Business Manager Austin Cook. The court will be equipped with glass, rectangular backboards for regular play. There will also be four retractable backboards for practice sessions. A scoreboard clock, which indicates minutes and seconds left to play and a public address system, which is being incorporated into the construction of the building, should add to spectator interest.

Newsmen and officials will find comfortable and efficient quarters. Besides a booth for reporters and game officials, there will be a broadcasting booth with radio facilities.

Refreshments for fans will be supplied from a concession booth in the lobby. The trophy case will tell the story of the accomplishments of the Panthers. There will also be a first-aid room in the building in the event an emergency should arise. The new gym is expected to be completed in time for LaGrange College to be host to the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament, February 26-28. This is the first year for the O.I.A.C. games and it is appropriate that L. C. should be host in the new gym.

Construction is also underway on the $200,000 Louise Anderson Manget Classroom Building. Steel girders and construction on the first floor mark the progress of this modern three-story structure. The building will house offices for sixteen professors, twelve classrooms, and a visual-aids room. Offices and classrooms will be equipped with the latest furnishings. The new classrooms should relieve present crowded conditions and provide for the increase in enrollment at LaGrange College expected by the administration.

The visual-aids room will be equipped with the latest recording equipment to provide the educators with the most modern teaching tools.

Sprayberry Is Elected Georgia W.A.A. Secretary

Mavis Sprayberry was elected recording secretary of the Georgia Athletic Federation for College Women at the state conference held at Mercer November 7-9.

The conference was also attended by Betty Jo Croen, president of the W.A.A., and Mrs. Joe Copeland. This is the first year that LaGrange College has participated in the state conference.

Delegates to the conference observed athletic demonstrations, participated in group sports, and heard reports on such things as qualifications for physical education teachers.

The LaGrange College delegtee returned, confident that the information they obtained would be of immediate benefit to the women's athletic program, equipped with a projection booth for showing films, film strips, and slides. The screen will be built into the ceiling and may be raised or lowered. The room will also contain a record player, a tape recorder, and other audio equipment.

This building will have outside entrances to both the first and second floors and will be connected with the parking lot by a paved walk. The present drive which passes in front of the building will be altered to eliminate the sharp curve at the top of the Vernon Street entrance.

The Manget Building is due for completion before classes begin next summer.
