"On Christmas Night" Is Annual Pageant, Dec. 15

The Curtain Raisers and the Choralaires will present a masque adapted from Dumas' "On Christmas Night" by Adolph Balm and Vaughan Williams in Dobbs Auditorium on Monday, December 15, at 8 p.m.

A cast of Curtain Raisers will present the famous story and present several dance productions under the direction of Miss Irene Armott and Mrs. Walter Westafer. The Choralaires, with Prof. Walter Westafer directing, will supply the musical background. Delores Lester and Claire Harris will accompany the production.

The masque is unique in that it presents both the familiar Dickens story and the Biblical account of the first Christmas. The traditional nativity scene is seen at the end of the program with the famous Serenade and company looking on.

For Negro Home On Sat., Dec. 13

The Christadelphians, Miniasial Association, and the Curtain Raisers will give a Christ- mas party for old folks and staff at the LaGrange Old Folks' Home on Monday.

The masque will be presented at 9:30 p.m. on Saturday night, December 13, and the inclusion of a one-act play, "Christmas on Main Street." Before the party, members of the organization will go to the home and find out the particular needs of each of the 20 residents. These needs will be met with gifts bought from the treasuries of the three groups.

The clubs will also give a banquet of fruit and a box of medical supplies. Each member of the clubs has the name of a resident to whom he will present a gift.

A.K.O.'s Fete Needy Children

The Alpha Kappa Theta Christ- mas party for needy children will be held in the college dining hall on Sunday, December 14, at 6 p.m.

About twenty children's names will be obtained from the County Welfare Department. Sorority members will bring the children dinner in party week and then home afterward. Refreshments of hot dogs and chocolate milk will be served.

Christmas stories will be told and cards will be sent. Santa Claus will present the children with gifts which the A.K.O. mem- bers have purchased for the children.

"RALLY PLANNED"

A pep rally has been set for Friday, Dec. 8, as a warm-up for that night's first Panther home basketball game. The children, chosen by P. D. Dodson, president of the Student Body, and Hose Woluburn, president of the Letterman's Club, will introduce the players. The rally begins at 1:50 p.m. on the quadrangle.

LaGrange College's basketball team can expect some of the toughest competition of the season in the four games between now and Christmas. The Panthers will play Piedmont College and Erskine College this weekend on the longest trip of the year, and return home to play North Georgia in Calhoun, Ga., next week.

"Rough Schedule Faces Panthers Before Holidays"

The Arthur H. Thompson Lect- ure Series will be presented here for this year's Religion In Life Week on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Dec. 9-11. Dr. Francis W. Bradley, pro- fessor emeritus of literature at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C., will speak on "Religion In Life: In Relation to Literature."

Dr. Bradley received his B. B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of South Carolina and his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago. He has done graduate study at the University of Chicago and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Modern Language Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the American Name Society and of the Permanent Armamentary. He holds a number of appointments including the British Mil- itary Cross, the French Legion of Honor, the Belgian Croix de Guerre, the Italian Croce di Guerra, and the Cross of Service given by the O.C.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Membership Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

Dr. Bradley was awarded the degree of Litt. D. by the University of South Carolina. Since his retirement he has been active as consultant in foreign literature for the library of the University of South Carolina and is currently writing a weekly column on folklore for a Columbia daily newspaper.

Prof. Bradley has been a ruling elder of his local Reformed Presbyterian Church for thirty-five years.

He was a major in the U. S. Army in World War I and a member of the Permanent Armamentary. He holds a number of appointments including the British Military Cross, the French Legion of Honor, the Belgian Croix de Guerre, the Italian Croce di Guerra, and the Cross of Service given by the O.C.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Membership Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

dec. 9—Navy recruiting office on campus.

dec. 10—Students Music Recital in Dobbs Auditorium.

dec. 11—Basketball game, Erskine College, Due West, S. C.

dec. 12—Drama, "Star in 'Double Door,'" 8 p.m., Dobbs Auditorium.

dec. 13—Religion In Life Week, Troup hall on Sunday, December 14 at 9:30 a.m.

dec. 15—"On Christmas Night" is Annual Pageant, 8 p.m., Dobbs Auditorium.

"On Christmas Night" is Annual Pageant, Dec. 15

The Curtain Raisers and the Choralaires will present a masque adapted from Dumas' "On Christmas Night" by Adolph Balm and Vaughan Williams in Dobbs Auditorium on Monday, December 15, at 8 p.m.

A cast of Curtain Raisers will present the famous story and present several dance productions under the direction of Miss Irene Armott and Mrs. Walter Westafer. The Choralaires, with Professor Walter Westafer directing, will supply the musical background. Delores Lester and Claire Harris will accompany the production.

The masque is unique in that it presents both the familiar Dickens story and the Biblical account of the first Christmas. The traditional nativity scene is seen at the end of the program with the famous Serenade and company looking on.

For Negro Home On Sat., Dec. 13

The Christadelphians, Miniasial Association, and the Curtain Raisers will give a Christmas party for old folks and staff at the LaGrange Old Folks' Home on Monday.

The masque will be presented at 9:30 p.m. on Saturday night, December 13, and the inclusion of a one-act play, "Christmas on Main Street." Before the party, members of the organization will go to the home and find out the particular needs of each of the 20 residents. These needs will be met with gifts bought from the treasuries of the three groups.

The clubs will also give a banquet of fruit and a box of medical supplies. Each member of the clubs has the name of a resident to whom he will present a gift.

These three groups will be bringing a great deal of happi- ness into the lives of the twenty residents of the Old Folks' Home.

RALLY PLANNED

A pep rally has been set for Friday, Dec. 8, as a warm-up for that night's first Panther home basketball game. The children, chosen by P. D. Dodson, president of the Student Body, and Hose Woluburn, president of the Letterman's Club, will introduce the players. The rally begins at 1:50 p.m. on the quadrangle.

LaGrange College's basketball team can expect some of the toughest competition of the season in the four games between now and Christmas. The Panthers will play Piedmont College and Erskine College this weekend on the longest trip of the year, and return home to play North Georgia in Calhoun, Ga., next week.

"Rough Schedule Faces Panthers Before Holidays"

The Arthur H. Thompson Lecture Series will be presented here for this year's Religion In Life Week on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Dec. 9-11. Dr. Francis W. Bradley, professor emeritus of literature at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C., will speak on "Religion In Life: In Relation to Literature."

Dr. Bradley received his B. B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of South Carolina and his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago. He has done graduate study at the University of Chicago and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Modern Language Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

In June 1966, three years after his retirement, Dr. Bradley was awarded the degree of Litt. D. by the University of South Carolina. Since his retirement he has been active as consultant in foreign literature for the library of the University of South Carolina and is currently writing a weekly column on folklore for a Columbia daily newspaper.

Prof. Bradley has been a ruling elder of his local Reformed Presbyterian Church for thirty-five years.

He was a major in the U. S. Army in World War I and a member of the Permanent Armamentary. He holds a number of appointments including the British Military Cross, the French Legion of Honor, the Belgian Croix de Guerre, the Italian Croce di Guerra, and the Cross of Service given by the O.C.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Modern Language Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

Dr. Bradley was awarded the degree of Litt. D. by the University of South Carolina. Since his retirement he has been active as consultant in foreign literature for the library of the University of South Carolina and is currently writing a weekly column on folklore for a Columbia daily newspaper.

Prof. Bradley has been a ruling elder of his local Reformed Presbyterian Church for thirty-five years.

He was a major in the U. S. Army in World War I and a member of the Permanent Armamentary. He holds a number of appointments including the British Military Cross, the French Legion of Honor, the Belgian Croix de Guerre, the Italian Croce di Guerra, and the Cross of Service given by the O.C.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the Modern Language Association, the South Atlantic Modern Language Association and the Goethe Society of America.

Dr. Bradley was awarded the degree of Litt. D. by the University of South Carolina. Since his retirement he has been active as consultant in foreign literature for the library of the University of South Carolina and is currently writing a weekly column on folklore for a Columbia daily newspaper.
A Way of Life

Around this time of year the newcomer to the LaGrange College campus begins to hear people talking about "Religion and Life." Whether because of discussion or the similarity of the two words, it takes on a whole "Religion and-Life," but "Religion in Life." There is a vast difference between these two and the difference can be seen by taking a careful look at the words.

"You cannot outlaw religion in public schools, because personality is its most potent form and you cannot outlaw that," Dr. Bradley said.

This comment was made recently in an American Literature class discussing the outlining of religions in courses in public schools. This statement contains a vital truth, for in naming personality as its prime factor we see the essence of what religion in life really is.

Too often religion is merely a "put-on-on-Sunday-take-off-on-Monday" type of thing. Instead of being a way of life it becomes a thing that is sometimes connected with church, but it is not at all connected with the things that go on day to day.

"This is what we might call religion and life — the two things existing separate from each other; two entities, each possessing the characteristics that go with them, and each influencing the other, but not to the extent that we can with the programs. Who knows? Perhaps our participation of that year will give rise to a "Religion-in-Life.""

Events Crowd (Continued From Page One)

Dr. Bradley (Continued From Page One) and has served a term on its Board of Directors. He is also a member of the American Dinkels Society and the Southern Folklore Society.

Mr. Harry M. Wallis, president of LaGrange College, Dr. Bradley said, "I was for several years chairman of the board of trustees of a college like your own, in the northern part of Georgia, and I am well aware of the great and deterrent spiritual force which is being wielded by these Christian Institutions."

Dr. Bradley wrote to Dr. Hurst, president of LaGrange College, Dr. Bradley said, "I was for several years chairman of the board of trustees of a college like your own, in the northern part of Georgia, and I am well aware of the great and deterrent spiritual force which is being wielded by these Christian Institutions."

The rocketing L-C Panthers looked for an upset win over Young Harris, Col-lege of the season’s downs 45 rebounds in the two games, according to game records. At the same time, Skaydon-ge and Young Harris’ defense showed promise for its aggressive defense play.

The North Georgia trip also brought to light a battle for the bustling guard role opposite Brown. Buddy Grimes started the first game against the Mount-ain Lions at Young Harris, Car-"You cannot outlaw religion in public schools, because personality is its most potent form and you cannot outlaw that," Dr. Bradley said.

This comment was made recently in an American Literature class discussing the outlining of religions in courses in public schools. This statement contains a vital truth, for in naming personality as its prime factor we see the essence of what religion in life really is.

Too often religion is merely a "put-on-on-Sunday-take-off-on-Monday" type of thing. Instead of being a way of life it becomes a thing that is sometimes connected with church, but it is not at all connected with the things that go on day to day.

"This is what we might call religion and life — the two things existing separate from each other; two entities, each possessing the characteristics that go with them, and each influencing the other, but not to the extent that we can with the programs. Who knows? Perhaps our participation of that year will give rise to a "Religion-in-Life.""

Events Crowd (Continued From Page One)

Dr. Bradley (Continued From Page One) and has served a term on its Board of Directors. He is also a member of the American Dinkels Society and the Southern Folklore Society.

Mr. Harry M. Wallis, president of LaGrange College, Dr. Bradley said, "I was for several years chairman of the board of trustees of a college like your own, in the northern part of Georgia, and I am well aware of the great and deterrent spiritual force which is being wielded by these Christian Institutions."

Dr. Bradley wrote to Dr. Hurst, president of LaGrange College, Dr. Bradley said, "I was for several years chairman of the board of trustees of a college like your own, in the northern part of Georgia, and I am well aware of the great and deterrent spiritual force which is being wielded by these Christian Institutions."

The rocketing L-C Panthers looked for an upset win over Young Harris, Col-lege of the season’s downs 45 rebounds in the two games, according to game records. At the same time, Skaydon-ge and Young Harris’ defense showed promise for its aggressive defense play.

The North Georgia trip also brought to light a battle for the bustling guard role opposite Brown. Buddy Grimes started the first game against the Mount-ain Lions at Young Harris, Car- минуто, and "you can’t even think about it at one time chairman of the board of trustees of the college. He expressed his own philosophy in the statement: "The greatest thing in life is the simple faith of an honest man."