Welcome to LaGrange College

Administrators, Students

Welcome Weekend Guests

Dear Houseparty Guests,

You may be sure you are here because we wanted to have you. We were invited to our roll-out-the-red carpet week-end because we wanted the finest high school seniors to know what LaGrange College is like.

Do not be shy about making yourself or your wishes known. We are interested in knowing you and in finding out how we may best serve you. Our administrative staff, our faculty, and our students will go out of their way to make your visit a memorable one.

If you find that LaGrange offers the educational experience you are looking for, send in your application form immediately. We will be able to accommodate all applicants on our campus in September. We hope you will not be left out of this fine fellowship and this adventure into understanding.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Waights G. Henry, Jr.

Dean of Women

GEORGE WESTAFER

Elected

As chairman of the Fine Arts Department faculty, Mr. George Westafer was elected to the position of vice president of the regional organization. Mr. Westafer had previously served as secretary of the Georgia Music Teachers Association.

By ANDY BORDERS

The LC Choraiaires are sponsoring two recitals on the campus in the coming weeks. Featured will be Miss Linda Lane, pianist, and William Weaver, organist. Miss Lane, who will present recital here on next Monday evening, is a graduate of Vasser College. She has also studied for four years in New York under the renowned Russian pianist and teacher, I. Shengensky. She received her M. A. in piano from Indiana University. She is now a member of the faculty at Wesley College in Macon.

Mr. Weaver, who will present recital here on March 21, has studied under Catherine Crozier, who is often regarded as the greatest living American woman organist. At present Mr. Weaver is secretary of the Atlanta chapter of the American Guild of Organists and in the immediate past president of the Georgia Music Teachers Association. He is an organist and choir master of Holy Trinity Church in Decatur. The well-known organist has played many recitals in this area.

He will also conduct a workshop for organists and organ students in the area. The workshop has been tentatively set for Tuesday morning, March 22, at 10:00.

Both recitals will be held in Dobbs auditorium at 3:15 p.m.

Tickets are currently available from any member of the Choraiaire chorus. Advance student tickets are $1.50 for both concerts. Admission price will be $1.00 for students. Advance concert tickets are sold at the door. Adult admissions will be $1.50 in advance for both concerts or $2.00 each at the door.

Dear Houseparty Guests,

As editor of the Hill-Top News, and on behalf of its staff, I want to welcome you to the LaGrange College campus.

Campus Activities, Scenes

Panther Paws

By JIMMY TRICE

Conference and Intramural Sports highlight the athletic program here at LC. While Informal Parties and Dances head the list of recreational activities.

Basketball and Tournaments are the two means of Conference competition on the Hill. The “Panthers” have just ended their 1959-1960 basketball season with a 16-12 record and a 6-3 loss Conference record. Some of the teams LaGrange plays include North Georgia, Atlanta State, West Georgia, Shorter, Berry and Oglethorpe.

The “Panthers” were runners-up in the annual G.I.A.C. (Georgi a Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) Tournament which was held in Atlanta over the first of the year. The team also was invited to compete in the Chamber of Commerce Invitational Tournament in Troy, Alabama.

The LaGrange College Tennis Team came in third place last year in regular season play. Some of the Tennis Competitors include West Georgia, Shorter, Berry, North Georgia and other teams such as Emory-Columbia which is not a member of the G.I.A.C. Intramural Sports play a large part in the Athletic program of our school. This is set up so that the four Sororities compete against each other while the three Fraternities do the same.

A large group of sports are included in this program—basketball, volleyball, ping pong, tennis, softball, football, and track.

The Fraternities play under a point system. Receiving a certain number of points for first, second, and third place in these events. The points from sports plus leadership scholarship are added together and the E. A. Bailey Award is given to the “Frat” with the highest number of points. This award is in the form of a trophy.

The Sororities work under a similar system with first, second and third places awarded in the different events. With the exception of football and track, girls compete in the same sports as do the boys.

As far as recreation goes the tennis courts are always available to LC students. Some enjoy playing ping pong, and there is a basketball court on Saturday afternoon.

At various times during the year different organizations sponsor informal week-end parties and dances. Several times during the year Semi-formal dances are sponsored by the Sororities and Fraternities.

Some interesting figures have been tabulated since the basketball season is officially over until next year.

The “Panthers” averaged 71.5 points per game while opponents averaged 64.4 points per game. LC hit 46.5% of its Field Goal attempts, opponents hit 49.0%. The Free Throw percentage was LC 73.9%, and opponents—45.4%.

Individually, Wallace Brown led the team score-wise with an average of 16.4 points per game and had an amazing 88% average from the Free Throw Line. Larry Garden led in Field Goals with 44%, and Wayne Copeland led the team in pulling the ball from the boards with an average of 13 re-bounds per game.

Helen Gaskins, outstanding Cross-Country runner, recently received a scholarship to attend the state college.

If a member on any sorority wishes to play basketball in the G.I.A.C. Tournament, he must be registered by February 15th.

If you wish further information, please contact Mr. Hethcox.

Group Sets Festival Plan

The Fine Arts Department has released for publication some of the plans for the Annual Fine Arts Festival, to be held this year April 27 through May 1. The Civic Ballet Hunter will be the opening event, and this will be followed by a performance of the Callaway Auditorium. This event will also, the chapel program under the direction of Mrs. Mrs. Colley, and followed up the invitations with personal letters. These invitations, as well as the special note of what they should bring to the House Party, was well as added a personal note of welcome to the guests. The Alpha Kappa Theta Sorority submitted the largest list—101 names, following were the Alpha Phi’s 87, followed by the A. D. Delta’s 76, followed by the A. K. P’s 70 names. The Delta Kappa Heta Fraternity submitted the largest list of boys, 84, while the Sigma Nu’s and Gamma Phi’s followed in that order, with smaller lists.

List Offers Five Concertos

“Concerto Festival” on March 4 will be the winter offering of the LaGrange Community Concert Association. Mr. Eugene List, renowned American pianist, and Dorothy Alexander, Director of the Bulletin, will be guest speakers.

The LaGrange College Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Callantine will present its second annual concert on Sunday afternoon, April 24.

Thursday night, April 2, was the date announced upon for the presentation of the operas: The Telephone by Menotti and the third act of La Boheme by Puccini. These are directed by Miss Elizabeth Gilbert.

The concerts and fraternities will again this year be in competition for the prestigious Trophy, which the Alpha Kappa Theta Sorority has held for the last two years. The competition will be Friday, April 29, at 6:00 p.m.

The concert for Thursday evening will be a Senior Recital given by Gerald Reichman, Piano Professor. The concert will be concluded by the amateurs of the evening, Mr. Professor Ezra Sellars and Mr. Jarrill Hethcox.

Tickets may be purchased from the administration of the Fine Arts Department. The price of one ticket will cover all the events: $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.
Geoffrey Hayes, loyal and friendly member of Mr. Fowler's maintenance crew, is seriously ill in the City-County Hospital. We, the editors of the Hill-Top News, suggest that students will want to send him a get-well card. His address is Room 120, City-County Hospital, LaGrange. He has worked for LaGrange College since June 1947 and was honored in chapel last year for his years of faithful service to this institution.

Our appreciation to the administration for their check which makes this special houseparty edition of the Hilltop News possible.

Congratulations to Luanne Haynes on her scholarship trip to the second annual Student Editors Conference in New York. We consider LaGrange well represented.

The LaGrange College Panthers returned from Rome Monday, February 13th, with a close 94-95 defeat.

The action in the nine basketball tournaments this week was highlighted with two games. The undefeated AKO team won the Black tournament by beating the Kappa Phi team, which was the tenant of the lower bracket over Alpha Phi. Things are moving up in the Black tournament but in the Red there is still a hot contest. Tuesday morning in the second meeting of the ACO and Alpha Phi teams, ACO took the game by two points. In the first meeting of these two teams ACO suffered defeat by two points. In the second of three games ACO got its revenge. These two teams met again on the court Tuesday, February 13th in a battle to determine the champion of the Red tournament. This champion team will then meet the Black journeyman ACO at a later date. The plans for playing on house party weekend have met with difficulty.

The inter-sorority team suffered defeat by one point from the hands of the LaGrange College teachers' team on Thursday of last week.

Panthers Defeated By Berry, Erskine College

Wallace Brown, high point man for the game throwing in an impressive 36 points. Wayne Copeland hit for 21 points for LC. Dossay Watson contributed 19 points to the Berry victory. Glenn Orrell and John Clark each had 14 points.

- In one of the most exciting games of the season the Erskine College point guard needed by a determined LaGrange College five: 66-66.

The Panthers led by a 32 point margin at halftime. Only with a few seconds left to play in the final half, LC had the ball but failed to come up with the two big points that would have tied the game.

Wallace Brown led the Panthers' attack with 20 points followed closely by Wayne Copeland with 17 points and Jerry Carden with 12 points.

Paul Grammer was high scorer for Erskine and for the entire game with 24 points. John Keehn popped in 19 points and James Cox had 13 points.

CAMPUS TRADITIONS

By BETI LOWREY

Deep in the hearts of the LC students is a special book reserved for the Good-Goo-bird, or the goony bird as he was sometimes called.

For three years this charming piece of sculpture stood in the Malden Smith garden except for occasions when students tempted him to taste the sweetness of the campus life. Relieving sedation over the campus, the statuesque boy and goose figure perched on its bird bath pedestal and not only tarred butts but the hearts of the LC students.

What chance does a three-toed footprint have when it is attacked by a herd of humans? He must submit to the green paint brush first; then, to one of orange. Nevertheless, he bore this persecution as one of royalty; and was rewarded by restoration to his natural form by the laborious hand of the college maintenance engineer, Mr. Kermitt Fowler.

Finally, painting the goo-good bird ceased to satisfy the blowing-off-storm needs of the LC boys. The figure began to make trips around the city of LaGrange, winding up on this front porch and in that oval garden. Sometimes the bird wound up in the dirt at the foot of the blue covered in leaves. Somehow, it always managed to re-cover itself in a few days or weeks.

Lianne Hays left Thursday of last week to represent the Hill-Top News at the Student Editor's Conference at the Overseas Press Club in New York. She returned on Tuesday. A senior, Lianne was twice elected editor of this publication and was instrumental in starting it in the fall of 1958. She is one of the 116 college newspapers. She awarded a travel and expense scholarship to attend the conference. About 3,000 student editors attended the conference, which pursued the theme "The Press: Its Role and Responsibility in an Era of Change."

Speaking to the conference were Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, George V. Allen, director of the United States Information Agency. Harrison Salisbury, foreign correspondent for the New York Times; Pauline Frederick and Don Grihier, correspondents for the National Broadcasting Company; and New York Post Editor Mel Fisher, turns home to its postal address a few days or weeks.
