Dean C. Lee Harwell has announced faculty approval on January 25 of a new probation policy. “This policy has been rethought from the ground up,” the Dean said.

The Dean also stated that students with averages of D or below at midterm will be notified of their deficiencies and that those who would have been excluded according to the new regulations at the end of the fall quarter will be subject to exclusion at the end of the present quarter.

Every student will get a copy of the new regulations, the Dean said. Information on each student will include a definition of probation, listing offenses for probation, the purpose and manner of notification.

Students on probation will not be allowed any absences from classes, according to the new regulations.

Superlatives And May Court Chosen

Larry Boswell and Libby Carlock were chosen Mr. and Miss LaGrange College in a campus-wide election, January 24. Boswell is president of Phi Delta Kappa; Miss Carlock is sweetheart of Circle K.

The meeting stems out of the want of some council members to have a better chance at supporting rules in certain instances. Others complained of a lack of administration backing.

The council will present the administration with a resolution that "all matters concerning student behavior shall be handled by the Student Council and that the council shall make recommendations to the administration pertaining to other matters pertaining to students." "We hope to accomplish a great deal in our meeting. We plan to go into the discussion of our problems in an objective manner. We hope that by drawing a Student Council and administration re-ponsibilities, the council will be able to do a better job during the remainder of its term," the council president said.

The council president will re-erect a student body meeting soon after the council administration session.
signs and patterns

In MANY EYES, LaGrange College is in a bad way. Reports indicate that high school advisors all over the state are teeming for their top students to stay away from LaGrange College. L.C.'s reputation is getting pot scowdly and otherwise.

Dean Harwell, anothers, is quick to admit that LaGrange has slipped up in this public relations realm to admitting persons of questionable moral character. This situation is now almost at the point of no return. The reputation of the school has been under the clouds of the lowest rains ever since.

One of the loudest complaints from inside the college family is in the matter of scholastic standards. One high school advisor has gone on record in stating that one of his students has been made better grades than he could have at ANY unit of the University system.

But there are encouraging signs on the horizon. A stifling erosion of the probation regulation will be initiated by the Professorial Board, to allow every student who does not desire to study. New policies regarding admissions and other areas are in the offing.

In the realm of student conduct, it is hoped that the meeting this Tuesday morning between the Student Council and administrative officials will yield new cooperation in this regard.

These signs on the horizon are helpful. Let us hope that they are not just, however, the hand-telling of the world that these measures have come too late.

PHIL FLYNN...

Yeah... And So Are You

For the past three years or so there has been a surge of revolt in every country, every city, in every, every community. It is more prevalent than in other times, but nevertheless it is in the air and is coming very strong.

This is a form of revolution we are four or five other places on this globe. But, and these revolts the same as one usually thinks of them, the question is, will it appear as if instead of revolution it is a surge of individualism, people trying and wanting to express themselves individually. One people are tired of being dictated to in one of many forms of dictatorship.

To Legalize the revolt started because of the dictatorial powers more and more each person has being freedom of speech.

It all boils down to a case of social injustices which is present in all the countries of the world, in one or another. One tragedy of social injustices which is present in all the world that all the powers the world is made up of individuals—human beings.

Individuals all over the world are expressing themselves, as such. They ask only to be understood. They ask only to be given a chance. They ask only to be met on equal ground. Prof. Christian Hamff Dies January 26
Beloved Teacher Succumbs To Heart Attack At 79

Prof. Christian F. Hamff, associate professor of languages, (Spanish and German), passed away of a heart attack on January 26. He was 79.

The professor collapsed at the roadway behind the dining hall while walking to breakfast with Prof. P. M. Hicks. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the City-County Hospital during his Emory days, 'He is the greatest German professor in America.'

Upon his retirement he was invited to LaGrange because of his love for the German language he taught. "Herr Hamff was a great man," said Chancellor Goodmony to his loving care.

"Among his avocations was his zeal in beautifying the campus of LaGrange, College. He supervised the planting of camellias and azaleas, dogwoods and white pines. These, like his formative influence for good, will remain forever to be found on place."

"Mr. Walter Westafer of the Fine Arts Department, has announced that the Fine Arts Festival, an annual event at LaGrange College, will be from April 20 to April 30 this year. Activities will include numerous lectures, art exhibits, and musical productions. "The highlight this year," Mr. Westafer reveals, "will be the appearance of Miss Julie Haydon in "Profiles of a Critic.""

Miss Haydon is the widow of the late George Jean Nathan, a noted drama critic and writer.

"An actress before her marriage, Miss Haydon has taken part in a number of Broadway and off-Broadway productions. Two productions include her creating the role of "Laura" in "Glass Menagerie" and "Kitty" in "The Time of Your Life." "This artist," it is reported, "is one of the most exciting and talented personalities to be found on stage."

Dr. Waights G. Henry, Jr., who knew Prof. Hamff both as student and administrator, writes:

"Prof. Christian F. Hamff passed away at 7:30 A.M., on Thursday, January 26. A man of solid Christian virtues, he demonstrated a love of students and a passion for learning. Students have been heard to say, 'I wouldn't think of going to Prof. Hamff's classes unprepared, because it would hurt his feelings.'"

"For many years he taught German at Emory University. Upon his retirement he was invited to LaGrange because of his reputation. Said Chancellor Goodmony to his loving care."

"Both the President and the Dean at LaGrange studied under Prof. Hamff. The physician who supervised the planting of camellias and azaleas, dogwoods and white pines, these, like his former students, will be a living testimony to his loving care."

"Prof. Hamff has left a fine family, Mrs. Hamff, sons Harvey and Christian F. Jr., and daughter Elizabeth, have the proud possession of his noble achievements and his broad circle of friends."

"To him we say 'Aufwiedersehen,' but his spirit will remain with us as a persuasive influence for good."
Self - Study Program In Progress

By Jancee Townley

The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is now engaged in a program that requires a detailed study of all colleges and universities in its membership. The studies are made over a period of two or more years.

For the past two and a half years the faculty and administrators of LaGrange College have been engaged in a study of this institution's role in education. This study involves a complete analysis of the school's curricula, programs, and facilities. The study is being conducted by the Mary Key Ferris Educational Program: Mrs. W. D. Melton, University of Georgia; Miss Ann Clare, Student Personnel Committee of the Faculty; and Mr. Margaret Tipton, Student Personnel Committee of the faculty.

The self-study program is an educational process for LaGrange College to determine what factors are contributing to the educational process for LaGrange College as a whole. The study is designed to identify strengths and weaknesses that are contributing to the academic process. The study will be completed during the spring. A team of visitors from the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will come to LaGrange College for a full examination and discussion of the report.

The faculty and administration have been divided into committees, each of which is making studies of various aspects of the college. Dr. Margaret Cline is chairwoman of the Coordinating Committee, of which Dean C. C. Harwell, Dr. John Shively, and Dr. Zachary Stoutamire are members. The chairman of the other committees are as follows:

in the Fine Arts Festival this year will be the production of the opera "The Impresario" by W. A. Mozart. This opera will be presented on April 22, under the direction of Mr. Sidney Murray.

A number of music students will take part in this production. Leading roles will be taken by Mr. Shaughnessy, a student in the music program at Emory University. Mr. Shaughnessy, who is well known for his skillful direction of student productions, will also take part in the program.

Another guest artist to appear in the Fine Arts Festival is the LaGrange College orchestra. This orchestra will present a concert during the festival activities.

This quarter two of the freshmen on the Hill are planning dances for the entire campus. The Sigma Nu's are planning their annual sweetheart dance for February 18th. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and will last until 11:30. Admission is $0.75 per person, and all proceeds will be donated to the Hilltop Relief. Mike Sager says “Everyone is invited to come, so on to the dance and have a lot of fun!”

The Gamma Phi’s are also planning a dance. Their’s will be an informals one held on February 11th. The theme and other details were not complete at press time, reports Jere Mitchell.

The Alpha Phi Beta's have elected Anne Grash as their new president. She replaces Susan Shepherd who transferred to Valdosta State this quarter. Anne is a sophomore and a member of the music major from Fort Valley. She is a member of the Choralaires, girls ensemble, and the Spanish Club.

The Kappa Phi’s are making long range plans now for a party for the entire student body during spring quarter. They are planning a party that will be as much fun as their big party last February, according to Kappa Phi president, Wanda Likens.

The sorority and fraternity bids for the Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels went out Thursday evening, Jan. 19. In a very active night, the Petrels have never beaten Oglethorpe in 12 years of their existence.

The main reason for the Oglethorpe discard is due to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) a form defense. They have permitted their opponents to average of 46.6 points. Also Oglethorpe is second in winning margin with 27.6 points. (They only beat the Petrels by 23.)

The Oglethorpe Nationals is the number one team in the country. This team has over 600 small colleges by America.

Some of the best players are Bob Nights, eighth in the NAIA in scoring, with 20 ppg. Roger Cooper, 24th in the NAIA in scoring with 18 ppg. Morris Mitchell, eighth in the NAIA in scoring with a little less than 20 ppg.

Maintenance crews continue to clean up the campus after devastating weather last week.

Campus was beautiful Monday after-cleaning up heavy limbs which had fallen on the quad. Broken electrical wires could still be seen on the campus, as well as broken bits of ice.

Although the campus slept last Wednesday night, the rain froze, and several small storms spread across the campus, some in dorms, none, no. Most cockroaches related to 9:30 a.m. showed.

Mr. Overson watched the car and said not tell if anyone was still inside.

“Evidently the fellow saw us and followed me to the Little Dragon,” reports Mr. Overson. “He came up behind me, and I turned around and asked him what he was doing out this time of night. He said he was looking for a friend. I walked off to go to the dining hall to phone the police. While I was inside, he went over to the boy’s dorm. After I finished my call, I followed him. He walked all over the dorm and me right behind him. I knew he was up to no good. When the police came, I waved them down and they told him to jail. He is the only person I had kept coming back after I had asked him to leave.”

IT STILL ISN'T OVER

Although this season has filled with many disappointments, many "comments," and maybe not as bright a record as we would like, IT STILL ISN'T OVER. We still have six more games in which we can make an all out effort to chalk up some wins, many of which would definitely put us in the leading position for the state championship. To do this we must pull together and play as a team.

In the first two games of the season, the Panthers were defeated by the University of Georgia and Southwest, a win over Georgia Tech, and a win over Berry. The win over Georgia Tech brought the record up to 2 and 2.

With the season almost two-thirds over, the LaGrange College Panthers are in the midst of a winning streak. In the eyes of some observers, they have considerably improved over their first nine games. They have scored two victories over North Georgia and Berry College to show their winning spirit.

Recently, Lee Harwell, commenting on a recent check-up visit to Turner by himself, Dr. Malcolm, Malden and the rest of the staff, Dean Hicks, told a HILLTOP NEWS reporter that "we are not engaging in Gestapo practices. The check-up was made at the request of a Student Council member to look into breaking up matters over eating, drinking and smoking. It was evident from what we saw that more needs to be cleaned out."

This is a rotten situation. I don't say that every boy at L. C. is guilty. But there must be that sort of thing going on in the dormitory to give our reputation the reputation that it has.

Dean Harwell also stated that family members will be required to visit the dorms on various occasions."

Another unforgettable day Mr. Smith, teaching in a familiar region and gave us a tour of the place. As we walked through the woods looking and naming the trees, flowers, trees and plants in general. We never dreamed there were so many different kinds of plants that were common to Georgia. Some days we were turned loose in the Greenhouses to catch the new but most beautiful plants, other days we collected flowers from a meoria forest.
