Activities For Quarter To Be Varied

Woodruff Stars in 'Affairs of State'

Gall Woodruff, who will be remembered from her performances in "The Curious Savage", and "Antigone", this year, will play the lead role. Irene Turman, Thedora Vernal's "Affairs of State".

This three-act play will be presented in Dobbs Playhouse on March 24 and 25. The play is directed by Miss Irene E. Arnett.

Gall played summer stock at Park's Playhouse in Kentucky last summer. A speech major, she is the president of the Theta Gamma chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary drama fraternity.

Others in the cast are Mary Ann Wages as Constance Russell, Donna Brown as Phillip Russell, Larry Thomas as George Henderson, and Larry Wilkins, and Dot Miller as Laura the housekeeper.

"Affairs of State" is a comedy about past Secretary of State Philip Russell, who marries Constance, a woman younger than himself. Constance has asked her husband for a divorce, because she thinks he is in love with George Henderson. But she doesn't want to hurt her husband, so she gets her sister, Irene Elliott, to marry him later. But Irene spoils her niece, Irene Elliott, to marry the upcoming senator George Henderson, and marries him in turn.

Committees working on the play are: Wayne Hillman, set; Larry Krantz, Sue Galvan, lights; Alvin Richardson, sound; Larry Parker, Mike Lane; props; Cindy Bennett; Judy Law; costumes; Ollie Sue Gainor, and Marsha Rogers, three March music students; House chairman, Bert Wether, Barbara Bristow, president.

In Brief

Rector William Jones of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in LaGrange will present the SCA Board of Regents' officers this Thursday, March 21, in the Simpson Room.

Along with the Georgia Board of Regents, which has announced a blue in tuition next fall (affecting every college in the system, Agnes Scott, Emory University, and West Georgia have already announced), the school authorities have announced the high quality of instruction and the high quality of other services that the college furnishes, the students themselves must show that they are worth it.

In announcing the increased charges, President Wraithsby Henry said that the college had no choice but to raise the rates for the current academic year (fall semester) $50.00 ($180.00); Board, $165.00 ($450); Tuition and Fees, $175.00 ($495); and the high quality of other services.

The difference is derived from income on endowment, from the "cost of living" increase for next year.

Special events during the current quarter will be the arrival copies of the 1961 QUADRANGLE and the commencement issue of the SCROLL. The HILLTOP NEWS will be printed each week, most of the other non-tax supported papers in the state, according to Business Manager Austin.

Spring quarter will be notable for a variety of recitals on the campus. Among them will be May Day May 6, and the Arts Festival, April 20-30. The school year will be ended with graduation exercises on May 3.

Miss Julie Hulser will present "Principles of Critic" as part of the annual Fine Arts Festival. Miss Hayden is a well-known Broadway actress, having created the role of Laura in "Tea and Sympathy" and "The Glass Menagerie."

Other events for the festival will include lectures, art exhibits, and musical programs. The nominating committee will be made up of the executive committee. The time further nominations can be made from the floor. Election of officers will be held on Saturday.

Other events during the quarter will be the arrival copies of the 1961 QUADRANGLE and the commencement issue of the SCROLL. The HILLTOP NEWS will be printed each week, most of the other non-tax-supported papers in the state, according to Business Manager Austin.

The increase raises total charges per quarter per student at LaGrange to $450.00 and includes room, tuition, and fees.

The fine arts program for the Southern Region of the College, TMUSC, YWCA, and SCAS. The conference will be held on the campus of Wabash (IN) College on June 24-25.

The nominating committee for Student Council officers will meet this Thursday at 10 a.m., in Dobbs Auditorium.

SCA Meet Set For June

Dr. Margaret Gilbane, advisor to the SCA, has announced preliminary party plans for the Southern Region Conference of Campus, TMUSC, YWCA, and SCAS. The conference will be held on the campus of Wabash (IN) College on June 24-25.

Dr. Gilbane said that students who have attended the summer conference in the past few years have described it as personally rewarding and stimulating. "I too have found it exceedingly worthwhile."

"It is important for the strength of our campus SCA that we be represented by able student officers," she said. "Students interested in attending the conference should see Miss Hayden. She wants to hear from you."

Further information will be forth.

The SCA Meet will be held in the Simpson Room.

Marita Arnett's "Affairs of State" is slated for April 24. The collapse of the May 7-11.

The President and Secretary-Treasurer shall be elected by the student body in a general election. The night of the general election each retiring House President will call a meeting of the club or clubs to which he has been elected to the respective dorms.

The new term will begin on Monday, March 24, and will follow the same pattern as last year. The Men's Vice-president will hold his meeting of all the respective dorms, the next Tuesday.

Two veteran members of the Curtin Railers, Gall Woodruff and Donna Brown, will star in the comedy-drama of love and politics, in "Affairs of State" Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m., in Dobbs Auditorium.

Council Changes Made In Student Body Vote

The L. C. student body, voting in chapel on March 9, changed the government Constitution but failed to create the Student Council previously. Be-
IT'S SPRING, they say.

And with the arrival of that blessed season on campus, there comes another series of events which is seldom thought of in a serious enough light. This is the election of leaders for our campus organizations.

We have not set about here to rehash some old sermons to the effect that the vote should be filled on a popular basis, or some such. This is true, but some other aspects of election time concern us at this time.

First of all, some of our campus organizations have been existing on a "living death" basis, doing nothing but meeting and sometimes not even that, for some time now. We urge members of each organization to re-evaluate their interest, the possibilities inherent in the nature of the organization, and whether or not the organization should continue to exist on the basis of fulfilling a campus need.

A second item worthy of comment is the raising of standards for holding office on the part of several groups. Also, the retiring Student Council made one of its wisest moves recently when it reapportioned representation on the governing body.

The last thing we have to say before we topple off our soap box is that the seriousness of these elections should be kept in mind by everyone who votes. The persons chosen to head our campus organizations will be those who will play a large part in making or breaking campus spirit during the next year.

Think! Then vote!

a Challenge for today

Guest Editorial by Joel Dent

TODAY WE ARE facing the greatest of the challenges that the world has ever known. Politically, the world is wrapped in indecision; scientifically, man has the power to destroy or to preserve; religiously, an uncertain sound is being sent in the winds.

What is involved in our meeting the needs of the world? First comes a call, which in some sense is given to all people. It is wise not to be over hasty in considering the problem of improvement, as it might be nice to know exactly what is required.

The spring quarter is now underway and everybody is just en-joyed at the idea of being back at school after the winter recess. Tomorrow from all the fun had after the cows are gone, but the rest of the quarter isn't a very hard quarter, according to an announcement by Dean Harwell's Office. The spring quarter full of activities other than academics, it is going to be a very hard quarter for the student. But, we must smile and bear it in this place full of ordinary people—plus.
It's The Vogue

Keyboard Recital is Next Monday

Prof. Walter Westaler, head of the Fine Arts Department, has announced that March 27 will feature two pianists and an organist in a recital to begin at 8:15 p.m., in Dublin Auditorium. The program will be separate, with each having their time well-wearing for consideration for beauty and merit. "Oh, no, don't worry about it. The concert will be according to Prof. Westaler. Several freshmen pianists, and graduating seniors, will participate. What? What? A dress! Darling, it’s not a consumer type.

Mrs. Jacobs is invited to a tea. Mrs. Jacobs is just an average housewife who spends most of her time with her family and seldom attends such affairs. She is looking forward to being really received for a while, the glorious freedom of not having the pressure of a watchful mother.

In her complete display, that she absolutely has nothing to wear. Lamont, she finds, to her complete dismay, that she has one just like it except for the sleeves. Her's is yellow print.

"But . . . but . . . yes, dear. I gave them to the Salvation Army!" "Not that dress, George. That's a sack dress? Darling, it's not a downtrodden housewife in a sack dress? Darling, it's not a downtrodden housewife."

Mrs. Jacobs is invited to a tea. Mrs. Jacobs is just an average housewife who spends most of her time with her family and seldom attends such affairs. She is looking forward to being really received for a while, the glorious freedom of not having the pressure of a watchful mother.

In her complete display, that she absolutely has nothing to wear. Lamont, she finds, to her complete dismay, that she has one just like it except for the sleeves. Her's is yellow print.

"But . . . but . . . yes, dear. I gave them to the Salvation Army!" "Not that dress, George. That’s a sack dress? Darling, it’s not a downtrodden housewife in a sack dress? Darling, it’s not a downtrodden housewife."

Mrs. Jacobs is invited to a tea. Mrs. Jacobs is just an average housewife who spends most of her time with her family and seldom attends such affairs. She is looking forward to being really received for a while, the glorious freedom of not having the pressure of a watchful mother.

In her complete display, that she absolutely has nothing to wear. Lamont, she finds, to her complete dismay, that she has one just like it except for the sleeves. Her's is yellow print.

"But . . . but . . . yes, dear. I gave them to the Salvation Army!" "Not that dress, George. That’s a sack dress? Darling, it’s not a downtrodden housewife in a sack dress? Darling, it’s not a downtrodden housewife."

Mrs. Jacobs is invited to a tea. Mrs. Jacobs is just an average housewife who spends most of her time with her family and seldom attends such affairs. She is looking forward to being really received for a while, the glorious freedom of not having the pressure of a watchful mother.
I'm sure if you were at the last game of the season you were truly embarrassed as we, the student body of LaGrange College, stood to sing the Alma Mater. There wasn't even a big enough representative faculty to sing it all the way through. Perhaps if we had had an active representation of LaGrange College (that is, what we are capable of doing) there would have been no need for rearrangement. I think that we need to pledge ourselves to back our school and to back our team. It's not nearly as easy to go up about so many losses in a season if you're there with the team and feel that you are really doing all you can to support which we go up about.

New Courses

A number of new and revitalized courses are found in the schedule for spring quarter, involving the humanities and social science departments. Russian history will be taught by Prof. Osborn Lauer, while Europe since 1914 will be offered by Dr. W. L. Murray. In addition, Modern Europe: 1815-1914 a third history course, is being offered after being absent from the schedules for some time. It will be taught by Dr. Murray. Miss Ann Clark will teach new courses in Spanish grammar (308) and advanced phonetics (309).

Dr. J. L. Kever is teaching a new course in twentieth-century philosophy, emphasizing American and British philosophers.

NAB To Discuss NEWS Salaries

Two recent meetings of the Newspaper Advisory Board have been devoted to the discussion of the possibility of setting up salaries for the HILTOP NEWS editor and business manager. A final decision on the matter is expected to come at a meeting of the board tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 9:30.

According to a recent decision of the board, the editor and business manager will be selected from group of applications submitted by board chairman Alvin Thomas. Application forms will be available within the next few days in the News Service office in Smith. Any student meeting the qualifications is eligible for appointment to either of the positions.

COUNCIL VOTES

---Continuing from Page 1---

by a unanimous vote of the Advisory Council, President of the Student Council, Secretary, Vice-President, and any other senior members of the council, one representative of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes shall be specifically elected.

The Secretary-Treasurer shall be elected from the incoming sophomore class. The Men's Vice-President shall be elected from the incoming junior or senior class.

Three amendments were placed before the student body for vote after considerable study and debate on the part of the present student council. Primary mover in this move were the equalizing representation and the reduction of the size of the council for more effective work.

The amendments will take effect with election of council officers at the end of this week.

Support Our Advertisers!

They Care About Your Patronage!

Holmes Rexall Drug Store
Complete Line of DRUGS — SCHOOL SUPPLIES

CECIL BURDette
Office Equipment Company

"HEADQUARTERS FOR YOUR SCHOOL SUPPLIES"

See Us For Your Gift Items

"Visit Our Store and see our full line of school supplies and Hallmark Greeting Cards."

S E. COURT SQUARE