COLLEGE SETS BUILDING PROGRAM

Even as LaGrange College trustees launch a special $250,000 fund drive to finance further development of campus facilities, work on some of the projects are getting underway. A dining hall and a second men's dormitory are nearing completion; construction of a new and spacious library has begun and is expected to be completed next spring.

Among the projects receiving immediate attention are construction of four new tennis courts, drainage and improvement of the athletic field, conversion of present dining hall to new student center, conversion of present kitchen to new campus store and post office, and construction of new entrances to the new store and present chapel.

In addition to the above projects, the college is constructing a large brick patio outside the present dining hall. To be bordered by a serpentine wall and replanted with flowers and decorative plants, the new patio between Smith and Pitts Halls is expected to be a general gathering area for students after the new center is completed.

If the $250,000 goal is reached the Consolidation Fund will also finance conversion of the present library for administrative offices, renovation and furnishing of Smith Hall's first floor for women's dormitory rooms, a new home for the president, conversion of the present president's home into an infirmary, landscaping of the campus, and conversion of the present store area for extra art department space.

OFF-CAMPUS PARTIES VIEWED

Miss Margaret Hall, Dean of Students, has stated that the problem concerning the definition of social events is under consideration by the Student Affairs Committee.

This conflict arose last Thursday, July 5th, when Kappa Phi Delta sorority and Gamma Phi Alpha fraternity planned an outing and did not report their plans to the Office of the Dean of Students. Miss Hall learned of the activity when signs were posted that the dining hall would be closed due to the large number leaving campus.

The Dean of Students told members of the sorority that she was not against their having the picnic but that "plans for social events in the name of the college or one of the college organizations must be registered in this office to avoid social conflicts."

Miss Hall will give a "complete clarification" on just what kind of an activity constitutes a school event when the Student Affairs Committee works out a standing definition that will apply to all campus organizations.
College Sets Building Program

The College has set a goal to expand its facilities and improve its infrastructure. This goal is part of a wider plan to enhance the educational experience of its students. To achieve this, the College has allocated funds and resources to initiate projects that will modernize existing buildings and construct new ones.

These projects include the renovation of the library, the construction of a new science center, and the expansion of the sports facilities. The library renovation will provide additional study spaces and updated technology, while the new science center will accommodate advanced research laboratories. The expansion of the sports facilities will improve the college's ability to host athletic events and enhance the student experience.

The College is committed to ensuring that these projects are completed on schedule and within budget. The administration is optimistic about the benefits these enhancements will bring to the campus community.

Our Campus Parties Viewed

The College has recently hosted a series of social events aimed at fostering a sense of community among students, faculty, and staff. These events include campus-wide parties, themed dances, and outdoor festivals. The parties have been well-attended, with thousands of attendees enjoying the music, food, and activities.

Each event has a unique theme, such as the "Decades Dance," which celebrates music from different eras, or the "International Night," where students from various cultural backgrounds showcase their traditions. These events not only provide entertainment but also offer opportunities for networking and cultural exchange.

The College is proud of the success of these events and plans to continue hosting similar gatherings in the future. The administration is confident that these parties will continue to strengthen the sense of community on campus.
STUDENTS FORM BOWLING LEAGUE

A group of interested students at LaGrange College have formed a bowling league for the summer session. Separated from the Physical Education program, the students meet on Wednesday afternoons at LaGrange Lanes.

The league is set up under regular American Bowling Congress rules with three-man teams and a regular handicap. The league will meet until the week of finals for summer quarter.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Mildred V. Robinette, associate professor of Business Administration, was recently elected the new president of the local chapter of the Pilots Club, a women’s service organization.

Dr. Malcolm Shackelford, professor of Education, was recently elected the president of the LaGrange chapter of the Civilian Club, a men’s service organization, which concentrates its efforts on work with mentally retarded children.

IN SMITH BUILDING...

Mrs. Lela Fulford joined the staff of the college last Monday, July 2nd, when she began her new position as secretary to the president. Mrs. Fulford, a native of Dublin, Georgia, attended Georgia Southern at Statesboro. She and her husband, who teaches at West Side Junior High School, reside on Vernon Avenue in LaGrange.

Mrs. Carolyn Burgess became the new Alumni Director when the Alumni-News Service Office was divided Monday, July 2nd.

Mr. Alan Thomas moved with the News Service division to a new office which will give ample facilities for the expanding duties of the Public Relations of the college.

Mrs. Juanita Overcash, secretary to the dean, said yesterday that portions of the new catalog have been released to the printer but that the schedule of classes to be included in the new catalog has not yet been completed.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE POSTED

LaGrange College's new basketball coach, Al Mariotti has announced the Panther's most ambitious schedule in history - a 23-game slate including all teams in the Georgia Intercollegiate Conference plus Georgia Southern, Florida Southern, Troy State, Mercer University, and a tournament in Kentucky.

Coach Mariotti, one of Georgia's most respected coaches who was at LaGrange High School for 17 years, was recently named coach at LC.

The LC quintet will defend its home court 10 times, while playing 11 games against schools in Florida, South Carolina, and Georgia.

In addition, the Panthers will play two games in the Southern States Warm-up Tournament in Williamsburg, Kentucky, during the Thanksgiving weekend. Other teams in the holiday meet will be Lincoln Memorial University of Tennessee, West Georgia College of Carrollton, Georgia, and Cumberland College, the host team.

The extra game in enemy territory will be against the perennially strong Georgia Southern College Eagles at Statesboro. This will be the first competition between the cross-state opponents.

The new Panther schedule also provides the first meeting with Florida Southern College, another Methodist school and a strong, independent team of Lakeland, Florida.

Troy State's Red Wave returns to the LC schedule after a lapse of a year. LaGrange lost all eight games played with the high-scoring Alabama collegians during the years 1957-61, but better things are hoped for as the series is renewed.

All of the LaGrange Panthers' home games will be played at 8 pm in the college gymnasium on campus.

(Schedule for games on back page.)

WITH THE GREEKS...

The first fraternity-sorority party of the summer session was held July 5th by the members of Gamma Phi Alpha and Kappa Phi Delta in accordance with the rules set up for "open rush." The party, a weiner roast, was held on the top of Pine Mountain in Roosevelt State Park from 4-7:30 pm. There were twenty new boys and girls at this gathering in addition to the twenty-two brothers and sisters of Gamma Phi and Kappa Phi attending.

Last night, July 12th, the new students, brothers and sisters of Gamma Phi Alpha and Kappa Phi Delta met at the home of Diane Alford, a Kappa Phi, for a watermelon cutting.

Other fraternities and sororities on the Hill are also planning activities for the summer.

Betty Jones, president of Alpha Kappa Theta, stated that AKE and their brother fraternity Pi Delta Kappa have plans for the summer. The plans were not disclosed.

Beth Crouch, speaking for Alpha Phi Beta, said that they had tentative plans for teas to be held for the new girls in Atlanta and Columbus.

Sigma Nu Pi has no plans as yet.

Dear Editor,

There is a game of tag being played on the LaGrange College campus. Unfortunately, the person who is "It" cannot seem to catch anyone.

Usually when games are played, they are played according to the rules of fair play and good sportsmanship, but not so at LaGrange College. The rule book has been rewritten allowing such atrocious acts to take place as the searching of individuals, disruption of the peaceful atmosphere of the dormitory, and the total disregard for privacy in one's own room. I ask you, is this democracy in action?

When a person breaks the law, the police are not given the right to break similar laws in order to apprehend that person. The police are not "The Law"; they are under the law, and so should it be with the administration of LaGrange College.

The Student Government Association has provided an excellent constitution and means of enforcing this constitution.

It is my sincere wish that in the future, we rid ourselves of "Fastapo" tactics and return to a proper form of student government.

Respectfully yours,

E. Garland Cowan Jr.

Dear Editor,

In regards to the article in the June 29, 1962 Hilltop News concerning Miss Hall's ruling on shorts, it was stated that Emory University does not allow women students to wear shorts on the campus. This is incorrect.

As a former student of Emory University, I know that women students can wear shorts everywhere off and on the campus excluding the following five places: the Administration Building, the Alumni Memorial Building, Emory University Hospital and Clinic, the library, and the cafeteria. The reason that no shorts are worn in the cafeteria is because all of the hospital and clinic personnel, visitors at the hospital, and many people from the Decatur and Atlanta area eat there.

This is not the situation at LaGrange College!

Sincerely,

Alice Armistead

Dear Editor,

LaGrange College, as stated by one member of the administration, is one of the more liberal schools in the state. But where do we see this in practice?

When a member of the administration violates individual rights by unlawful search and seizure, we must naturally assume that democracy is certainly not being practiced by the administration.

We suggest that in the future if individuals or private property must be searched, lawful procedure should be followed.

"ON CAMPUS"

As the halfway mark draws near, new students are becoming acquainted with deficiency reports. Cheer up, all is not lost! Just bring your book to the swimming pool next time.

I'm sure all the new students enjoyed the picnic given by the Gamma Phi's and the Kappa Phi's, and I'm also sure all those not invited enjoyed the sack lunches so graciously served by Campus Chefs, Inc.

Recently, at the Patio Pool, a girl that we shall call Ruby immersed her head in chlorinated water and immediately the air was filled with a thick, pungent odor similar to beer.

The residents of Turner Hall were thoroughly delighted to have a personal friend of Arthur Young's visit in the dorm last Tuesday night. Unfortunately, Arthur was not there to entertain him.

At once my heart began to race and my hands began to tremble. I felt a rush of emotions, a mix of joy, fear, and excitement. The memories of our past flooded back to me, and I knew that I couldn't ignore them any longer.

I walked over to the window, trying to steady my breathing. The sun was setting behind the mountains, casting a warm glow over the city. I closed my eyes and took a deep breath, trying to clear my mind.

When I opened them again, I saw her standing in the distance, her face illuminated by the setting sun. She was beautiful, more beautiful than I had ever seen her before.

I took a step forward, my heart pounding in my chest. I knew that I had to say something, I had to tell her how I felt.

"ZURICHT" "GOT"

I opened my mouth to speak, but the words wouldn't come. I felt a moment of panic, wondering if I would ever be able to say what I needed to.

But then, as suddenly as it had started, the moment passed. I felt a sense of determination wash over me, and I took a deep breath.
