Nine seniors elected to Who’s Who

Nine outstanding students, all seniors, have been nominated for listing in the 1963 edition of the national publication, “Who’s Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.”

The listing is recognition by LC students and faculty of the student leaders’ participation and leadership in academic, curricular activities, scholarship, character, personality, and promise of future usefulness.

Announced by Dr. C. Lee Harwell, dean, this year’s LaGrange College representatives in Who’s Who are Cecile Adams of Cato- ton, Richard Aunspaugh of Dunedin, Fla., Owen Greene of LaGrange, Helen Herd of Atlanta, Hedy King of Decatur, Harriette Kuhrt of Macon, Margaret Layton of Columbus, Joyce Lynch of Lumpkin, and Anna Smith of LaGrange.

Of the nine student leaders selected, two are majoring in music education, two in art, two in history, and one each in English, biology, and general science. A majority of these students have frequently been named to the Dean’s List for quarterly academic honors.

Purpose of the “Who’s Who” publication, as stated in the foreword of the last edition, is to “provide public recognition of the worthwhile achievements of college students.” Activities and honors of each student will be enumerated in the 1962-63 (twenty-ninth) edition of the national publication.

Cecile Adams, an English major and religion minor, has been recognized as a leadership member in religious activities. She is president of the Student Christian Association, having served last year as a committee chairman. She is also active in Methodist Student Fellowship and Christadelphians. She has served for two years as a reporter on The Hilltop News.

Richard Aunspaugh is an art major and religion minor. He is president of the Art Students League and student photographer of the 1963 Quadrangle. His photographs, paintings, and drawings have been exhibited. He has served as publicity chairman of the 1963 Quad.

Owen Greene, an English major, is a member of the Student Government Association. He is a member of the student council. Greene has been a member of the student council.

Helen Herd is a biology major and is minoring in chemistry. She is secretary of the Pan-Hellenic Council and a member of Sigma Nu Pi fraternity.

Hedy King is a music education major and an accomplished pianist. She is currently president of the campus chapter of the Music Educators National Conference. She is also a member of the choir in the college's church. She has been a member of the Student Government council and has been a consultant for the Vocal Ensemble.

Harriette Kuhrt is a music education major and has minors in English and Spanish. She has served as a vice-president of the Student Government council and has been a consultant for the Vocal Ensemble. Her major is Alpha Phi Beta.

Miss Sandy Brownwell entered the Army as a nurse in 1962, but has since returned to school. She is a member of the Student Christian Association and has been active in Methodist Student Fellowship and Christadelphians. She has been a member of the Student Government legislative council and has been a consultant for the Vocal Ensemble. Her major is Alpha Phi Beta.

Miss Purcell was crowned Homecoming Queen at LaGrange College in a ceremony held Wednesday night from a field of twenty-three candidates entered by various campus organizations. She was crowned as Homecoming Queen at the annual Alumni-Varsity basketball game held Saturday, November 17, in the gymnasium.

A freshman at LC, the new queen, who replaces Miss Linda Purcell of Atlanta, has been a member of the Student Council and has been active in Methodist Student Fellowship and Christadelphians. She has been a member of the Student Government legislative council and has been a consultant for the Vocal Ensemble. Her major is Alpha Phi Beta.

The new queen, who replaces Miss Linda Purcell of Atlanta, has been crowned the 1962-63 Homecoming Queen at LaGrange College.

Air Force representatives to interview seniors

A selection team from the United States Air Force will visit LaGrange College next week to interview seniors for commissions through the Officer Training Program.

The interview team will consist of three officers: a pilot, a navigator, and a ground crew. They will be looking for qualified students who are interested in becoming officers in the Air Force.

To be eligible for OTS, applicants must be enrolled in the United States Air Force and have completed at least 120 semester hours of college credit. Applicants must also have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and must be at least 18 years old. Applicants must also pass a physical examination and a drug test.

The program provides a monthly allowance of $300 and a one-week paid leave of absence for each semester of college. OTS trainees will receive a basic pay of $320 per month for the first six months and $360 per month for the next six months. After six months, trainees will receive a basic pay of $400 per month.

For more information, contact the OTS office at LaGrange College. The office can be reached at 706-507-1234.
TO BE... OR TO BE

To be forced to listen for an hour or to be forced to sit for an hour seems to be the problem. It is not that man does not have enough time to want to have time. And so the men and women whirl by, unable to stop and listen because they have become so involved in the circle of self.

It is not a riddle; it is not even something remotely removed from LaGrange College campus. It is the matter of respect at chapel.

Required chapel...! The very idea makes us ill. We are always able to decide for ourselves what we will do, whether we will accept religion or reject it, whether we will become our own self-sufficient god. It is ridiculous to expect us to sit through an incipient, purposeless chapter. How can we be expected to listen, for we have already formed our own opinions of life.

Listen... the Prelude has begun, but we have no time to listen because there is someone behind or beside us with whom we must talk. Forget about singing the hymns because the tunes aren't familiar, and we can't sing anyway. What of God? To hell with Him!

Oh, but wait a minute... Someone dares to bow his head in spontaneous prayer. Someone dares to sing joyous praises to the One who gave him being. Someone has discovered part of the meaning of worship.

Each chapel program is potentially a worship service—a joining of all people present in the recognition of one God, in the realization of what they are, and in the realization of what they can become. Each chapel speaker deserves at least the respect of the attention of his audience whether or not the individuals in that audience agree with what he says.

If we are to continue to refuse to enter into the spirit of worship, let us at least do it quietly so that those who wish to may join in the service of worship. But why not try, just once, to lose our sophisticated college personalities in the act of worship, to realize what corporate worship can be.

AND WHAT ABOUT STUDIES?

Something drastic seems to be happening on this campus. The avid students of poetry and prose, of peoples and places, and of philosophies and procedures are discovering that they have become so involved in the four walls of a classroom. More and more students are seen spending evenings in the student center playing ping-pong, dealing cards, or just catching up on the latest (I haven't seen you in the last two hours!) gossip.

I'm not saying that social life on the campus should be done away with. No, not by any means. But, in the last few weeks of school it seems that studies should take a little more precedence in everyone's schedule. Thanksgiving holidays are right here, and after Thanksgiving there are only two more weeks of school. Then, FINALS.

DON'T FORGET THE STUDENTS!

We should be thankful that at LaGrange College there is always something to break the monotony. The administration and faculty are always full of little surprises that keep life from being dull.

This seems to be a common problem. For this college to be as small as it is, it is amazing that the students are kept in the dark as much as they are. It is hoped that the administration and all others concerned will at least warn the students when some drastic change in policy is to take place. A well-informed student body is a cooperative one.

RAMBLINGS

My, hasn't time flown! So many things are happening it's getting hard to keep it all straight.

I notice where several of our number have given in to time's oldest temptation and let the bonds of love be tied around their unresisting neck. Congratulations to Rod Smith, Warren Young, and Owen Greene, who had so many lovely engagements whispered to them in the last couple of weeks. Somebody better keep a watch on飞机师 Mauzy and Gary Dunwoody. Their time may be close at hand.

The weather surely did change quick. The cold has been seeping in under the window sills and nights out on the town surely can be uncomfortable, as the Gamma Phi and Phi Psi pledges can well testify.

It's good to see that the dining hall has finally wired up and noticed that all the boys didn't like milk. If they don't, I'd hate for Mr. Mattson to waste his money on something nobody wanted.

It looks like the fallout scare in the dormitory area has spread. I guess the girls in Smith can unpack those suitcases now.

It seems that Dr. Kay has been professing love to everybody in his Bible class, so better watch out, Dr. Kay.

You know, it sure would be a good idea if we could get the Kennedy-controlled mail service to pick up the mail on this campus in the afternoons as well as in the mornings.

In closing, I would like to thank Mrs. White for the change machine that is such a valuable asset to our student center. Now the only problem is digging up fifty cents.

Dear Editor,

For ping-pong fans — if you wish to take dents out of ping-pong balls, drop them in boiling water, turn them occasionally and in a few minutes they will be as good as new.

Dr. Walter Jones

The English department of LC is being greatly enriched by the addition of Dr. Walter D. Jones, who now serves as head of the department. Dr. Jones, a native of Montgomery, Alabama, began his college career at Huntington College where he received his AB degree. From there he went on to Auburn University for his Masters and then to the University of Alabama for his doctorate.

Dr. Jones' particular interest in English lies in the American Renaissance period of 1825-1860 and his thesis for his Doctorate was on the historical novel "Tassel Pottery" by Herman Melville. As secretary in the English department of LC, Dr. Jones enjoys reading poetry and French literature of the medieval and Renaissance periods.

In talking with Dr. Jones, one immediately sees that his special interest, outside of the field of English, is people, people, and more people. Speaking of his philosophy of education, he said, "I think of education, he said, 'I think of myself as a group leader. I like students to participate in the class discussions.' He went on to say that the most important thing he can give to the individual rather than the group. I like students to participate in class discussions."

For the last chapel program of the winter quarter, the Rev. will speak on February 27 from the St. Mark's Episcopal Church will speak on March 6.

Pledge activities continue; Alpha Phi's accept sisters

On Monday night, October 29, the members of Kappa Phi Delta sorority formally welcomed their pledges in a ceremony held in the Little Chapel.

Jennifer Glass, president, held a pledge of their obligations as pledges, then Jane Yarbrough sang the song "You're A Pledge to Kappa Phi." The pledges were presented pledge pins of a silver shield mounted with blue and white, the sorority colors, to wear for the duration of the pledge period. Pledges wore white dresses and the members wore black to the ceremony.

Pledge meetings are held each Monday on Tuesday at 10 a.m. At each meeting the pledges were issued the Kappa Phi Pledge Manual, which they follow in learning to be members of the community. The elected pledge officers are: Miss E. Glass, president; and Barbara Kagey, treasurer. The pledge program for the girls was planning decorations for the Homecoming Dance, for their project they used the theme of "A Rainy Night in Paris."

Pledge meetings will continue for the remainder of this quarter, ending with quizzes on the Pledge Manual.

The Alpha Phi Beta pledges have had their pledge classes at which they composed several songs for Alpha Phi, and induction was held Tuesday night. Induction was also held Wednesday night. Each girl was made aware of her job and purpose in Alpha Phi.

The Alpha Phi Beta club will begin work on several projects. A committee has been designed to work on the Alpha Phi issues. In the next two years, the Alpha Phi's will work on several projects. CLARK STONE

Tourney test awaits 'cats

There will be a small uprising in Williamsburg, Ky., Friday when LaGrange meets a war party of Cumberland College "Indians" in the first round of the Southern States Warm-up Tournament and the Panthers' season opener.

Campbell's rule of renegades boosts eleven players over the 6-3 mark — two of these stretch the tape all the way to 6-8. This height advantage of the Panthers' season opener.

Mike Atherton.

Al Mariotti's somewhat pessimistic attitude.

This height advantage of the Indians is the only known state of superiority over the Panthers, but it is reason enough for Coach Al Mariotti's somewhat pessimistic attitude.

The other Georgia representatives will be the West Georgia "Braves". These Braves are tough, whether on their own hunting grounds or not, and to be sure they always have a few tomahawks in their tepee.

Awbrey and Mayo Shine

LaGrange whipped Columbus College a few weeks ago in what amounted to nothing. Both teams were sluggish, and the winner could be decided by who made the fewest mistakes.

The Panthers showed undeniable weaknesses on defense and rebounding. However, this was the first real competition LC has encountered and most of the problems should be ironed out in time for the season opener Friday.

There were a few bright spots in this match and most of the light falls on forward Roy Awbrey. Jack Mayo also turned in a better than satisfactory performance. Both Jack and Roy played for Columbus last year, so I guess they had to impress their old teammates.

Choral Clinic at LC

November 16 and 17

On November 16 and 17, representatives from five high schools met with Mr. Paul Doster in a workshop to prepare students for the District Chorus Contests which will be held in the spring. Since the members of the five choruses will be singing together, Mr. Doster was asked by Mr. William Deal, director of the LaGrange High Chorus, to direct them for one weekend of coordinated practice.

Mrs. Roy Hines is a history major. She is president of her sorority, Alpha Phi Beta, having earned her A.B. from Asbury College, his A. B. from Asbury College, and his A. M. from Boston University.

Dr. Burgess, president of the Colleges, explained his sermon on "Religious Emphasis" in the closing minutes of the game.

The starting members of this Varsity squad dumps "make-up" of the team. The Kappa Phi undefeated in WAA volleyball.

Kappa Phi continues to run roughshod over all opponents in girls' intramural volleyball. They have smeared the "make-up" of all opponents in eight games.

The starting members of the eye-shadow and lipstick brigade include, Red Team: Judy Hayes, Anna Smith, Jane Johnson, Carol Sinclair, Jane Yarbrough, and Dottie Mathews; Black Team: Harriette Kuh, Mary Hackney, Betty Sue Brantley, Ginny Howard, Donna Howell, and Annie Rutledge.

The freshman girls are the only team to offer any real challenge to Kappa Phi's unblemished record. The freshman's sexy six led during the first half of the match, but were edged out by a determined Kappa surge.

Miss Virginia Canady has contributed all the girls who are participating in volleyball competition, and she is making plans for an even more successful winter quarter. No definite schedule of events has been made, but girls may yet expand their sports program to basketball, ping pong, shuffleboard, and badminton.

Varsity squad dumps ex-Panther alumni team

The LaGrange College Panthers got a taste of pseudo-victorious Saturday afternoon when they toppled the alumni team 83-57. The alumni put up a good fight, and, for a while, it appeared that they might triumph.

The first half, the hustling alumni showed the Panthers into the losing column for a time, but the Panthers jumped to victory in the closing minutes of the game.

The returning alumni team was far from a group of old men, for the line-up boasted some of the best players that the LC crowd had ever seen.

All time-greats as Terry Carden, Ralph Johnson, and Wayne Copeland put brand at the struggling Panthers and nearly made it an upset with the varsity in a desperate position, but the Cats with Bob Tuggle, the Cordes twins, and others managed to save face for the team.

Coaching the alumni was "Ox" Carden, who always leaves the shoe of absence and a former Panther. Lanier was confident in this third annual struggle and his team at least most tried victory. Also returning for this game were Jimmy Jones, Herb Sloan, Terry Noon, Larry Boswell, Jarrell Underwood, and others.

It is interesting to note that one of the referrees at the game was Cram Reeves, a former coach of the Panthers.

Dr. Mack G. Stokes, assistant dean of the College School of Theology, visited the campus for the Religious Emphasis speaker, winter quarter on February 3rd. He is known widely for his speaking ability and appeal to college students. He is not only noted as a speaker, but as an author as well.
