SCA Announces Plans For Fall Quarter

by Janet Taylor

The varied projects of the Student Christian Association for fall quarter include a calendar for each student, a training school for the Negro Sunday School teachers; a Field Day with a picnic, a free movie for the new students, a regular morning watch each Monday at 7:30 A.M., and other events.

Every month each student shall receive a calendar page with the events and meeting dates of the SCA and other religious organizations on this campus. This calendar shall be so designed that each student can carry it in his notebook and also there will be enough space for each day for a student to list his other activities of the day.

Beginning on Tuesday, October 8, and continuing through November 5, the SCA shall sponsor a training school for the local Negro Sunday School teachers. This study course will be held once a week with Dr. Kay as instructor and SCA students in charge of devotions at each meeting.

To begin the SCA Orientation Week, which is scheduled from October 3 until October 16, a Field Day is planned. This will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, October 5, on the campus and in the Bailey Room. Members of the sophomore, sophomore, junior, and senior classes will compete against each other in regular field day events. At 1 p.m., a picnic lunch will be served. All students are asked to attend.

On Sunday, October 6, at 3 p.m., an informal reception will be held in Hawkins Parlor for all new students. This will be for the purpose of helping new students become acquainted with the SCA cabinet. Students clothes are available for this event.

During the week there are many other events planned: a service, induction service, and a free movie at the downtown theatre for all new students.

One of the new features is a morning watch to be held at 7:30 each Monday. This will be a time of meditation and renewal of faith.

Frosh Organize, Some Doubt Timing

by Micke Johnson

Class officers for the 1963-64 freshman class will be elected in a class meeting Wednesday, says Mrs. Kelly, would take some of the responsibility off the shoulders of the sophomores. Another sophomore said he felt nothing worthwhile was accomplished while others participated vigorously in what was termed "the fun".

Ratting Values Questioned

by John White

Various college officials have questioned the value of ratting as it is presently practiced. Mrs. Mary Kirt Kelly, Dean of Women, said "Ratting is a necessary part of campus life if it is taken with the proper attitude. Another official said, "I don't like it... it gets too rough."

Several sophomores expressed the opinion last week that ratting was becoming something worthwhile. Mrs. Kelly said it would take some time to relieve the worth of the candidate. The student suggested that some notice of the election should be given so that potential candidates could do some campaigning.

The student suggested that some notice of the election should be given so that potential candidates could do some campaigning.

The freshmen will be required to elect a president, a vice-president, a secretary, treasurer, and possibly a chaplain and social chairman.

Up to this year, all freshman class officers have been elected from the floor the day of the meeting.

Deans Emphasize Student Regulations

by Sam Saxen

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Kelly, Dean of Women, and Mr. Marketti, Dean of Men, issued a memorandum to all students of LaGrange College, concerning student responsibility to the rules and regulations of LaGrange College.

"The purpose of the document and its reason for issuance is expressed in the opening paragraph," Dean Marketti said. That paragraph is reprinted here:

"In order that we may enjoy great harmony and in order that your academic work may proceed in the best possible climate, we believe that a clear understanding of the student's pledge of responsibility to which you have subscribed, and of the rules and regulations to which it refers, is essential. During the past week, various incidents have substantiated some lack of acquaintance with said pledge of responsibility and the rules and regulations which are in force on this campus. The reason we wish to give you the following clarifying statements:

Please keep them with your Student Handbook.

Millard Martin, S. G. A. President, indicated that the memo did not set up any new rules or regulations and did not in any way supercede or usurp powers delegated to the S. G. A. in the past. "It will not affect the efficient operation of student government," said Martin. He indicated that the S. G. A. and college officials had worked successfully together to create a strong responsible student government and that he saw no reason not to continue to work toward this goal. "Student government is the proper channel through which to handle student problems," he said.

Dean Marketti said, "This was intended as a statement of clarification." The Dean stated further that "Each student is a part of S. G. A. and must accept this responsibility. This is in no way an attempt to supercede student government. The administration feels it should step in only when the S. G. A. is not fulfilling its obligations of responsibility to the entire student body." When asked if he felt that the present student government was the responsible group, he said that he felt that it was and that "They have done more for a group than any group has before."

Dean Kelly said that "As long as student government functions properly the administration should not have to act. We do not want to take responsibility away from student government."

President Henry indicated that this year's student government was doing a fine job but that it needed the whole-hearted support of the students. This memo is an attempt to strengthen student government by saying to the students, "If you want student government, support it!" he said.
DECISION IS YOURS, FRESH

"Rat, what's my name?" beloged the superior sophomore. Before the underdog had an opportunity to gather its wits and formulate an answer, another upperclassman screamed, "Rat, count the bricks on the patio with your nose!"

The incident, or similar ones, occurred all last week. Is the freshman to set its standards by such?

The Hilltop News feels that the tone set at the beginning will carry through the rest of the year. What tone are we setting? Is it the tone set forth in the Hilltop of LaGrange College?

The general reaction by the freshmen to this type of ratting is to withdraw and become hardened, cynical, and bitter. Is this the attitude upperclassmen should try to instill in the new students at LaGrange College? Certainly not!

What then is the purpose of ratting? There are various schools of thought on the subject. One school, to which an ever-increasing number of students is subscribing, is that the freshman should be made to feel like dirt. But is this the proper approach?

Another school believes that the purpose of ratting is to make the student feel he is a part of LaGrange College. Is this the result of the past week's ratting?

The Hilltop News seriously doubts it. In short, ratting has served no purpose except to turn the freshman inward instead of outward. Why can't we do something to remedy the situation?

A list of suggestions might include joining the rats in a constructive task, as suggested by Mrs. Kelly. Another could be a planned program of ratting, not one hopelessly thrown together—an inanimate program in which each sophomore knew what he was supposed to do.

These are only two suggestions. There are many more. But the point to emphasize is that any remedy must begin now. By action beginning now we mean planning sessions for next year by this year's freshmen, discussions with the administration, and class meetings.

The time to begin is now so that next year ratting will accomplish something more than a mere ostracizing of students because they are young and inexperienced. Even the sophomores were young and inexperienced once.

This problem of ratting addresses itself to the entire student body of LaGrange College. It is more directly involved with the freshman class for it is their responsibility. They must make the decision... Now!

Frosh Should Delay Elections

In a few days, the new freshman class will be required to elect their officers for the coming year. As has been the custom, they will be chosen from the floor.

The Hilltop News feels that this custom, while simple, is no more than a Student Government-sponsored popularity contest. In order to pick qualified leaders to guide the new class, there should be some campaigning, some serious thinking by those who will vote, and then, and only then, the actual election. This way the officers chosen will be carefully picked and more qualified to do the job they're expected to do.

We suggest that the elections be put off until interested candidates can campaign, and the freshman class can decide on who they really feel could do the job as class officers. Then the freshman class will have responsible leadership for the new school year.

MUMBLE LESS, WORK MORE

by Sam Saxon

"The Student Government Association holds only such authority as has been granted to it by the administration of LaGrange College. This means that the administration may veto any law passed by the Student Legislative Council, adopt any regulation, it deems necessary, or interpret any rule in such manner as believed wise for the welfare of the college community."

"We read this, saw RED, and began the old familiar chant, that mind-numbing, mad, mumbled chant, "Rat the administration, hate the administration." The manner in which the clarification memo was presented to the student body was unfortunate. Such a statement more directly should have been issued with the joint approval of the S. G. A. The memo was a slap in the face of the Deans, but Deans are human and should be allowed to make a few errors. We, the student body, also made a grave error in sliding back into our lazy habits of reacting to any situation in an emotional manner without investigating the source of our irritation properly. We accused the administration of attempting to usurp the powers it had previously delegated to the S. G. A. and this was unfair because this was wrong.

Upon investigation, the Hilltop News found that President Hendry, Dean Mariotti, and other officials have more confidence in the ability of the present Student Government to properly handle student affairs and to work towards promoting true student responsibility than they have had in any previous year. The concern of the administration is that the S. G. A. students must realize that they are Student Government, and for it to work properly it must be supported.

Let us try then to continue our growth as a responsible student body. Support the S. G. A. by discussing issues by letting S. G. A. know what you think, by campaigning and supporting the platform of candidates for S. G. A. by serving when asked to, and by respecting the S. G. A.

Let us mumble less and work more.

Annual Picture Schedule

The annual portraits for all juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will be taken Friday, Oct. 4, and Saturday, Oct. 5.

Turner Hall, Mr. Bowen will be between the hours of 8:30-12 and 1-4 on Friday, and 10-12 and 1-3 on Saturday for these portraits. The schedule for shooting underclassmen will be alphabetical.

A-G — Friday 8:30-12
N-S — Saturday 10-12
H-M — Friday 1-4
T-Z — Saturday 1-3

Students who cannot meet this schedule should come with another group during the hours listed above. All boys will wear a dark coat and tie, and all girls should wear blouses to be able to change quickly into the black uniform provided.

There will be a charge of $2.50 per student and all checks should be made payable to the QUADRANGLE.

A schedule for senior informal portraits will be published later. The senior formal portraits will be taken at Bowen's Studio on October 10 between 6-9 p.m. for those whose last names begin with the letters A-M, and the remainder between 6-9 on the 11th. Seniors are responsible for paying the QUADRANGLE $2.50 at the time their informal portraits are made.

Russell And Talmadge Long For The Gray

by Mickey Johnson

In short, ratting has served no purpose except to turn the freshmen inward instead of outward. Why can't we do something to remedy the situation? It never ceases to be a source of amusement how many mind-numbing, mad, mumbling people can be. Let's take as a case in point Senators Russell and Talmadge of our sovereign state. Recently, the nuclear test ban treaty came up for a vote in the Senate; and, as expected, was passed by a wide margin. Among the Senators who voted against it were Russell and Talmadge, supposedly upholding the freedom and sanctity of our nation.

As everyone knows, Senators Russell and Talmadge have very strong feelings concerning the civil rights question. President Kennedy's bill, especially the one concerning public accommodations, has caused much talk in the South, mostly bad. Leaders of this resistance to justice are the senators of which we speak.

Russell, making sure all the reporters were in ear-shot, firmly denounced the civil rights measure as "socialism" and swore that he would fight it with every faculty he had. This is okay; it's his fight. Talmadge, nearby, ranted, raved and seared Russell's denunciation of the bill. While all this civil rights ruckus was going on, Moscow was host to an historic conference that produced a limited ban on nuclear tests. The treaty was acclaimed the world over by great statesmen as the first step towards peace. A majority of the senators in the United States declared that the treaty was a boon to man-kind. But not our friends in Georgia.

You see, they had gotten the impression along with the rest of the Southern Senators that the Kennedy administration was bad. Because of the stand on Civil Rights that came from the White House, Russell and Talmadge, along with Strom Thurmond and a few others, voted against it, not because it was a Russian trick, but because it was Kennedy-supported.

Granted that Jack and the family have pulled a few ponders and granted that his chances of re-election are slim, but that is no reason that two Senators from the state of Georgia should vote against a measure designed to at least start us on the road to peace. Yes, both Russell and Talmadge have finally proved to the rest of the country what kind of people we raise down here: politicians that wouldn't know justice if they saw it, and who really are better off with another group during the hours listed above. All boys will wear a dark coat and tie, and all girls should wear blouses to be able to change quickly into the black uniform provided.

Campus Displays Help To Start LC Rush Period

The LC fraternities and sororities started their rush season off by setting up various displays on South patio last week. At the displays invitations to the various parties were given to the new students. The displays were of different themes and provided an interesting way of helping the new students to become better associated with the Greek organizations on the campus. The fraternities and sororities are Sigma Nu Pi, Pi Delta Kappa, Gamma Phi Alpha, Kappa Phi Delta, Alpha Phi Beta, and Alpha Kappa Theta.

New Choralaires Chosen For Coming School Year

Forty-seven people were selected last week as this year's Choralaires. Auditions were held for those interested in the Choralaires. From these auditions forty-seven people were selected. Soprano: Jane Yarbrough, Kathryn Merritt, Mary Show, Sandra Smith, Dixie Land, Janies Christian, Nancy Smith, Nancy Ramsey, Scarlett Crenshaw, Susan Galloway, Nancy Cherry, Pam McFarland, Carol Clyburn, Joan Alexander, Vivian Black.

Mr. Doster seems very pleased with the one rehearsal that the Choralaires had. Speaking of future plans, Mr. Doster said that around Christmas the Choralaires will be doing Handel's Messiah in cooperation with local churches.

BAN THE BOOKS OR BAN THE BOOK BAN

(ACP) — Deluged with letters to the editor, The Ohio University Post, Athens, expanded on its editorial position concerning book banning.

The ordinance went into effect in March, 1961, but the only time it has been enforced was to keep "Tropic of Cancer" off the newsstands a year ago.

Our argument is that there are many obscene paperback books in Athens, and yet no attempt has been made by the police to ban these books. This, in effect, means that the police are acting as censors when they feel that something is obscene. As one letter writer put it: "Police Captain Joseph McBride is now in the position to judge whether a book is literature or obscenity. No one should have the power of censorship."

This also means that, as one letter writer said, the police could print out the reality of the police power for those interested in the Choralaires. The display of these pictures is included in another part of this paper. The fee for these pictures will be $2.50. Checks may be made payable to the Quadrangle.

SGA Legislative Vacancies To Be Filled By Election

Due to drop-outs, changes of school, and the like, the SGA Legislative Council is not up to full steam. When questioned about filling in the blank spaces, President Millard Martin said that the existing council will meet and decide where the vacancies have to be filled and then notify the classes to elect replacements. Legislative representatives are elected from each class in the spring of the year. All classes except the freshman class have representatives on the Legislative Council.

College Publications Bring Forth Plans

With the new school year underway, the staffs of the 1963-1964 Scroll and Quadrangle have begun putting into action plans for revising this year's publications. This year's Scroll, formerly a literary magazine, will have a completely new format. According to Arlin Wallace, Scroll editor, "The Scroll is no longer merely a creative writing magazine as was its design in past years. It is now a creative arts publication, with the primary design being a magazine which will incorporate all of the fine arts: music, drama, art, and creative writing. It would be desirable for those various media of expression to complement one another, and at the end of spring quarter, for the magazine to be an effective montage of artistry on campus." Students who are interested in contributing to the Scroll, or in finding out more about it, should contact Arlin Wallace or another member of the staff.

Jenny Dorrough, editor of the 1963-1964 Quadrangle, the LaGrange College annual, has announced plans for a very different yearbook this year. This annual will contain especially to the senior class, although all classes and campus activities will be dates for the formal portraits to be included in the senior section. The members of the senior class will be photographed individually in informal "snapshots" to be included in the senior section. They will choose their own poses. Four poses will be made for each senior. He will choose the one he wants included in the annual and will keep the other three photographs. Seniors are also asked to go to Mr. Brown for formal portraits to be included in the seniority and fraternity sections. The annual does not provide a full page for each student, but support magazine pages, and the full-page portraits will extend to the end of the yearbook. The fee for the actual photograph is $2.50.
Several New Improvements Make College Especially Attractive

During the summer months numerous improvements have been made on the LaGrange College campus. Many students have testified to the fact that all of these improvements add to the quality and attractiveness of our own unique society — LaGrange College.

Important Library Rules Go Into Effect

On Friday morning it was announced by Dr. Henry and Mrs. Melson that new library rules would go into effect immediately. The new rules concern the type of clothing that coeds are able to wear in the library.

As of Friday, coeds will be able to wear slacks in the library in the evenings and on Saturdays. Bermudas shorts will not be able to be worn. Slacks have been defined as sports pants that come below the knee. Previously coeds could only wear dresses in the library. This decision was made jointly by Dr. Henry and Mrs. Melson.

Alain de Sarran is Foreign Student For The Year

by Richard Campbell

Erin Ellevold staff writer

"For French adults to drive such large cars would be a symbol of a very high standard of living, but for students to drive such cars would be scandalous or seen as the mark of a "romantic" student," Alain de Sarran, a 20-year-old student from Tours here on a Rotary scholarship, said.

Alain's study here is being sponsored by the LaGrange Rotary Club. For the school year competition, the president of the Rotary Club of Tours wrote of him, "He is a very social student belonging to an excellent family.... I am sure he would be an excellent "ambassador" of France."

Holder of the "baccalaureat" (advanced) degree from Lycee de Sarran, Alain has already been a little starry-eyed at the "out-of-the-way" villa near the French Riviera. His family rents it for the summer, especially at Cannes near the English Riviera.

Alain comes from an "out-of-the-way" villa near Cannes each summer and he describes the Riviera as "picturesque and particularly calm and refreshing." He also enjoys sun-bathing, and "Bermuda shorts do not help my figure."

His favorite sport is basketball, which he has played in France. "An "out-of-the-way" villa near Cannes is my favorite place," Mr. Laberee, the manager of Dupont's Southern Extension Service at LaGrange, said.

Another outstanding man who will be coming to LaGrange College will be Mr. John A. Laberee. Mr. Laberee is the manager of Dupont's Southern Extension Service at LaGrange College. Mrs. Guptil of the sociology department, while a student here, and her husband, Mr. Guptil of the office of the Dean of Women, her job is not only to help students locate lost articles, but she is also secretary to Mr. Kelly, Dean of Women.

Chapel Programs For The New Quarter Announced

Mrs. Guptil is Secretary

If any of you (especially fresh- men) have panicked because you have suddenly realized that you have lost something, you probably were referred to Mrs. Gup til. The first question that afforded you was "Where will I find Mrs. Guptil?" Well, she can be found in the office of the Dean of Women. Her job is not only to help students locate lost articles, but she is also secretary to Mr. Kelly, Dean of Women.

If ever you need to go to the office of the Dean of Women and need help from the secretary, there you will find Mrs. Guptil. She smiles, ready to help you.

She likes working here and likes working with young people. She likes LaGrange College very much and one can easily see why when they learn that LaGrange is her alma mater. She attended the college all four years and met her husband, Mr. Guptil of the sociology department, while a student here. Dr. and Mrs. Guptil have one child, Beth, who will soon be three years old. Mrs. Guptil has greeted nine students from LaGrange College. Mrs. Kelly recognizes her importance to the staff by saying, "she is indispensable to the office."

"In France a French young lady would never wear such things," he reported.

"It Is Too Early To Tell About The Season", Says Cage Coach Mariotti

by Sammy McCord

With basketball season quickly approaching everyone will notice the lights on in the gym as the Panthers of LaGrange College begin conditioning themselves for what we hope to be our finest season yet.

As the new students arrived on campus the old students could see that there would be many new faces on the team this year. Missing among the familiar faces, however, was the most valuable player of last year—Jackie Mayo. Mayo was unable to return to school this year due to personal reasons. Mayo's services this year will be severely missed as would anyone who averaged 18 points in his last several games. Coach Mariotti stated that Mayo's defensive play was an outstanding feature of last season and will be difficult to replace.

Of course, the shoes of Jackie Mayo will be a problem to fill, but fellows such as Joe Pender, Ronnie Myers, and Don Woodward will be giving the "old college effort" to do just that.

Wesley Fellowship To Hold First Meeting Of The Year

On Thursday, October 3, at 8:30 p.m., the Wesley Fellowship will hold its first meeting. A special get-acquainted party, followed by an intriguing program entitled "God Is Dead", is planned. All students, especially those affiliated with the Methodist Church, are urged to attend this meeting.

This will be an excellent opportunity for all new students to become acquainted with the work and their courses. "What kind of exam is this?" one writer demanded. "All it contains is a bunch of questions requiring answers.
