Christadelphian Club Provides Book Of Lenten Meditations

The Christadelphian Club at LaGrange College has again prepared a special booklet of Lenten meditations for student and faculty use.

This is the third year that the club, a group of students and faculty interested in Christian worship, has prepared the meditations.

The meditations for each day of Lent were prepared by students, professors, and staff members of the college.

The booklet's introduction, "Lent-64," was written by Dr. Kay. Genna, LaGrange College, assistant professor of music, and English choral music.

The Christadelphian Club is planning for fulltime Christian worship, said Rosamond Fry, a senior art major, designed the booklet cover.

College Choral Group To Present Concert; Features Original Music

A variety of choral music will be featured at the LaGrange College Choralaire's winter concert on Thursday evening, March 5.

Auditorium. On March 15 a pre-

Two March Recitals

Feature College-Prep Student Groups

Two recitals during the month of March will spotlight college and non-college music students of LaGrange.

The recital featuring college music students will be held on March 8 at 3:00 p.m., in Dobie Auditorium. On March 15 a pre-

Three New Laws Pass Legislature Committee Studies Consolidation

By FRED BROWN

Three new amendments were passed in their final form by the student government legislature last week while one, the amend-

Students Choose SGA Heads Tomorrow

The ten candidates for student government office are quizzed on the campaign issues. See page 3 for story.

The Hilltop News

"Representing Georgia's Oldest Independent Institution of Higher Learning"

VOLUME VI. NO. 22  LAGRANGE COLLEGE, LAGRANGE, GEORGIA  MARCH 3, 1964

Three new laws have recently been passed by the LaGrange College Board of Trustees, requiring students to complete registration from 1:00 until 2:30 p.m. on the day of the fall semester and Monday until 5:00 p.m. on the day of the spring semester.

The administration will not be responsible for closed sec-

Polls To Be Open

Until 2:00 p.m.

For Student Voting

LaGrange College students go to the polls tomorrow to select five student officers who will have the responsibility of govern-

Registration Tomorrow

Students have been urged by academic dean C. Lee Har-vaid, to prepare several new policies in the process of reg-

for this year have displayed a fervor for the campus for the next year.

The candidates' campaign this year has displayed a fervor which has been precedent setting in its effort to make clear to the students at the college the importance of good government on a college campus.

Millard Martin, now student government president, has, for the past year, been one of the most important student positions at LaGrange College.

Students government has made great strides.

Tomorrow, however, the weight of government lies not on the officers but on the voting students who cast their ballots to select their leaders.

The candidates' campaigns have been urged by academic dean C. Lee Har-vaid, to prepare several new policies in the process of reg-

The candidates' campaigns have been urged by academic dean C. Lee Har-

vaid, to prepare several new policies in the process of reg-

The candidates' campaigns have been urged by academic dean C. Lee Har-

vaid, to prepare several new policies in the process of reg-

Students government has made great strides.

Tomorrow, however, the weight of government lies not on the officers but on the voting students who cast their ballots to select their leaders.

Noel Smith, men's vice-president of the SGA, said that he thought the amendment would boost school spirit.

Dr. Toomey Kay, who attended the meeting agreed with Smith. "Smith has a point," said Dr. Kay. "There must be, how-

"no useful purpose" then it could be dissolved by the legislature.

The SGA would perform a service if they were to examine meetings. We need good communications and open minds.

At the end of the discussion Bill Smith moved that the amendment be placed in committee for further study.

Appointment to the committee to reexamine the legislation were Andy Jones, Amelia McCoy, Gary Brown and Francis Bar-

The committee will present its suggestions to the legislature at a meeting this week.

In their final form the amend-the organization a recommendation of acceptance will be made to the Faculty Advisory Council for Students. If approved by the Faculty Advisory Council for Students the organization will be granted a charter and allocated to organize on the LaGrange College campus.

If the legislative council turns down an organizations request for a charter the action will be final.

If the Faculty Advisory Council for Students turns down an organizations request for a charter, the organization will then be subject to review by a joint committee of the Faculty Advisory Council for Students and the legislative. Action of this committee will be final.

(2) Any member of the legislative council who misses two consecutive regular meetings without acceptable reason will be asked to resign. The members of the class will then elect a replacement.

(3) Each class president shall automatically become one of the (eight) representatives from their class to the legislative council.

Three New Laws Pass Legislature Committee Studies Consolidation

By FRED BROWN

Three new amendments were passed in their final form by the student government legislature last week while one, the amendment coordinat-

The Republican Contrast Is Healthy

By SAM SAXON

To one who is deeply interested in good government and healthy politics on a state and local level as well as a national one, it is heartening to watch the growth of a two-party system in Georgia. The Republican party in Georgia is to be congratulated for the great strides it has made in recent years in promoting the healthful atmosphere of two parties in our state's political areas.

I do not agree with some of the reasons for doing this or the causes they have espoused, but the candidates they have chosen, I am glad they differ with my point of view.

Competition only can serve to make our state and national politics more healthy and our government stronger, particularly if the Republican candidate is never elected to office. But in this instance, of course it is natural for publican candidate is never elected to office.

Republican Contrast Is Healthy

In contrast to vague generalizations the Democratic party's existing programs of prove-ning overwhelming sound. This is particularly pointed out by the facts of over 24 months of continued economic expansion under the JFK administration and the continued growth and increased confidence in the government by business and industry. Mr. Johnson's successful handling of the tax-cut bill and its subsequent signing into law make the accomplishments and policy of his predecessors and all possible candidates pale a bit by comparison.

With the strong experienced hand of Johnson on the reins, and Goldwater the experienced critic pointing quickly to any faults he may have been a constant, but useful at times, bure under the Democratic saddle, the four years after the '64 election promise to be a wild but skillful ride after a knock-down drag-out election.

If it is ever any other way, our nation will really be in trouble.

The Hilltop News

EDITORS

Election Day

Tomorrow is election day. The campaign is nearly over. Issues have been discussed, the candidates have announced their platforms, and qualities of the candidates have become known. What is needed now is a vote.

Move The Polls

Student Government elections will be held tomorrow beginning at 9:00 in the Student Center. A large voter turnout is hoped for and anticipated. At 1:00 P. M. advanced registration for spring quarter will be held in the Simpson room.

The Hilltop News feels that moving the voting option to the Simpson room or nearby at this time would facilitate a considerably larger vote. We wonder if those in charge of the election might consider this suggestion.

Chapel Is Looking Up

The Hilltop News would like to congratulate Mr. Jim McLean on his outstanding chapel program last Wednesday.

It is gratifying to see that there are people on our own campus who are capable of presenting the caliber of program as that of Mr. McLean's. We cannot help but wonder if there are not other such personalities in our own midst who could challenge the students in the same manner. Many times local talent is overlooked in an effort to provide the audience with speakers from areas outside our campus. And too many times the speakers fall short of the critical expectations of a college audience.

Again, thanks to Mr. McLean for demonstrating that there is talent and ability in our own surroundings.

LETTERS

Professor Questions College Sports Conduct

Two sororities met in intramural basketball competition during the evening of Feb. 28 and the results were not good. I am not referring to the score of the game, which was won by a losing spectator that the game was "rooked". His team was the one that lost, however. We all lost tonight.

We lost the sense of fair play and "competitiveness" that could and should exist here on campus. The game was "rooked".

The purpose of intramural sports is to promote competition and sportsmanship. They should never destroy these things. In competition there should exist, on the part of both teams, a strong desire to win, but winning at any cost cannot bring the best out of a person. It produces the flaring of many tempers by both players and spectators. The students who helped officiate, and I were clearly wrong on every call according to the temperature.

The competition is difficult at best. Someone has to be wrong and someone right, but the spectators in the bleachers never see things as the on the court see them. I challenge any student who would like to become an official of intramural competition to learn the rules and become qualified to do this job. Your help will be both welcomed and desired.

Now let's get down to my major reason for concern. If intramural basketball has the power to cause tempers to fly and to encourage students in the use of profanity and other displays of poor sportsmanship, I maintain that something must be done about the situation. We can eliminate competition in which there is a desire to win, but the spectators in the bleachers never see things as the on the court see them. I challenge any student who would like to become an official of intramural competition to learn the rules and become qualified to do this job. Your help will be both welcomed and desired.

Concluding the game in question resulted in a poorly called play and the spectators were undoubtedly aware of the fact. The results were not good. I am referring to the score of the game, which was won by a losing spectator that the game was "rooked".

The game in question resulted in a very poor display of basketball skill, many hurt feelings, and extreme unprofessional conduct on the part of the spectators and players as well. Players seem to have the ability to recover from a poorly called play. Much more rapidly than their supporters in the bleachers. For this, I am thankful. Otherwise, neither official nor player would leave the court still in one functioning piece.

The continuation of intramural basketball competition for girls lies in the actions of the participants. If you want to play, play we will; but if you feel discriminated against, this activity can be eliminated immediately. So far, the choice is yours.

Virginia Canady
Assistant Professor of Health and Physical Education

Student Doubts SGA Candidates

Complaints about candidates running for the presidency cannot be done away with or organized away with. Just as there is in basketball; we can close the doors to spectators we can't see the last of these possibilities, but unless those who say that SGA can achieve a high degree of self-control, my vote will be cast for Mr. Johnson.

No game should be of such importance that the result should be more valuable to the players or the spectators than the players involved. Intramural activities must contribute to the total well-being of the participants or the activities lose their value.

The game in question resulted in a very poor display of basketball skill, many hurt feelings, and extreme unprofessional conduct on the part of the spectators and players as well. Players seem to have the ability to recover from a poorly called play much more rapidly than their supporters in the bleachers. For this, I am thankful. Otherwise, neither official nor player would leave the court still in one functioning piece.

The continuation of intramural basketball competition for girls lies in the actions of the participants. If you want to play, play we will; but if you feel discriminated against, this activity can be eliminated immediately. So far, the choice is yours.
SGA Candidates Quizzed On Campaign Issues

President

MICKEY JOHNSON

Johnson had this to say about the coordination amendment: "It is a step in the right direction. Some organizations seem to be distressed about the legislature having the power to revoke the charters."

"I think the amendment is vague, Johnson said, "For example, he could force members to sign a petition in the name of the organization if they were to do so."

"I think the organization should be incorporated into the amendment. The purpose clause of the amendment would be included in the amendment. The useful purpose clause of the student government would be incorporated into the SGA."

"It would be a bit vague." Johnson said, "If it is not in the constitution the SGA is to have jurisdiction over all matters not regulated by the SGA Constitution."

"The E. A. Bailey Award is vague, Johnson said, "It is a step in the right direction."

"I think the leadership clause is a step in the right direction."

"The SGA should have the ultimate power over every organization, Johnson said, "I don't think it is a good idea to have an organization if it doesn't have any power over its own affairs."

"I don't think the SGA could at least be an accurate reflection of the student body."

"If I were to run for SGA, I think I could try to help the SGA."
Nebraska by correspondence for ship. "He then went to school in Omaha, Nebraska. Since receiving his diploma, he has been attending a school in another city. "This whole process takes around thirteen hours," Roger said. "You cannot skin a bird and leave him, because the skin will dry and won't stretch. The body will harden in a week." Roger said that he would be glad to teach anyone how to prepare these animals and birds. He keeps some in a freezer on campus and always has one handy.

Why walk when you can write? Check with us!

End walking, driving, waiting around to pay bills . . . "write" your money the safe quick easy way. Open a Special Checking Account with us. You'll enjoy added prestige, too. No minimum balance required.

MISSING ANY PETS?

Check With Roger

By JUDY THOMASON

Some people give stuffed animals to their gift friends for Easter or Valentine or Christmas. Some people put stuffed animals on their bed or dressing table. Some people just stuff animals.

Roger Browning does.

The LaGrange College junior from Douglas, Ga., does not feel around with the pink or blue or yellow fuzzy type animal. This is the real thing: bobcats, for instance, and peacocks.

Taxidermy, says Roger, is mainly a hobby, but it's a money-making hobby. He and a partner have a deep interest in which they keep various birds and animals. Stuffed and mounted, the beasts bring a tidy profit.

Roger has been interested in Taxidermy since he was eight or nine years old. "I have hunted, raised game birds, which has a lot to do with it," he explained. "I also grew game birds, which has a lot to do with it."

Roger's partner taught him all about taxidermy at first. Then he started the partnership. "We then went to school in Nebraska by correspondence for about eight weeks. "At the end of the course I was taught to mount a specimen which you have done. It is acceptable, then they issue you a diploma. Roger has his diploma with J. W. Elwood Supply Company in Omaha, Nebraska. Since receiving his diploma, he has been attending a school in Jacksonville, Fla., during each summer, and is planning to go again this coming summer.

Roger prepares any kind of animal or bird. "The biggest, most difficult thing I've ever done is a Bob Cat. The smallest is a Red Yellow fuzzy type animal. This is the real thing: bobcats, for instance, and peacocks.

Taxidermy, says Roger, is mainly a hobby, but it's a money-making hobby. He and a partner have a deep interest in which they keep various birds and animals. Stuffed and mounted, the beasts bring a tidy profit.

Roger has been interested in Taxidermy since he was eight or nine years old. "I have hunted, raised game birds, which has a lot to do with it," he explained. "I also grew game birds, which has a lot to do with it."

Roger's partner taught him all about taxidermy at first. Then he started the partnership. "We then went to school in Nebraska by correspondence for about eight weeks. "At the end of the course I was taught to mount a specimen which you have done. It is acceptable, then they issue you a diploma. Roger has his diploma with J. W. Elwood Supply Company in Omaha, Nebraska. Since receiving his diploma, he has been attending a school in Jacksonville, Fla., during each summer, and is planning to go again this coming summer.

Roger prepares any kind of animal or bird. "The biggest, most difficult thing I've ever done is a Bob Cat. The smallest is a Red

Why walk when you can write? Check with us!

End walking, driving, waiting around to pay bills . . . "write" your money the safe quick easy way. Open a Special Checking Account with us. You'll enjoy added prestige, too. No minimum balance required.

CITIZENS & SOUTHERN BANK OF LAGRANGE

MAKE US YOUR BANKING HOME

136 Main Street
MEMBER F. D. I. C.
Hypnotist Hosts Students Slates Return Friday

Reverend J. W. Gibson received a standing-room only crowd last Friday morning for his discussion on hypnotism in the Bailey Room. He graduated from the theological seminary at Emory University and is the pastor of the First Methodist Church in Cedartown, Georgia. He is a pleasant and calm man, always smiling. He did not enter the room with a black cloak hanging from his shoulders, nor was he wearing a black high-top hat. There was an atmosphere of doubtful curiosity by the group, but this was soon overcome by the interesting and convincing discussion on hypnotism. He also made a few illustrative demonstrations with willing participants from the audience.

He feels that his talent is a gift of God, one to be used for the betterment of his fellowmen. In the parlor of Smith, Dr. Henry brought out the fact that he is not a "quack."

Mr. Gibson gave a few group discussions in Smith Parlor after his lecture in the Bailey Room. He tried hypnosis on the groups as a whole and then made a few individual demonstrations. One student was relieved of the facial pain she had received while under a sunlamp, another was taken back to the fifth grade, and still another back to the age of fourteen.

Economist Lecture Set For Friday

Clare M. Cotton Jr., American expert on British and European economies, will lecture on the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, on Thursday, March 5.

Mr. Cotton will lecture to students and faculty on U. S.-European relations at 10:00 a.m. in Dobbs Auditorium. He will then be available for the remainder of the day as guest speaker for individual classes and conferences.

A graduate of Randolph-Macon College and the University of North Carolina, Mr. Cotton is editorial director of European Securities Publications, Inc., of New York, London, and Paris. This is the firm which publishes The London Letter and European Business News Service.

The London Letter is a weekly report on international business - economic - political developments.

Cotton is well qualified to speak and answer questions regarding timely political and economic events and activities. His present position with the London Letter, past experiences in foreign news correspondence, and teaching positions held at Florida State University and the University of North Carolina are recommendations which promise a significant contribution to those who hear him.

SIGMA NU SELECTS MILDRED EIDSON "Sweetheart" 1964

By JEFF HOSK

Sigma Nu Pi fraternity has chosen Mildred Eidson to represent them as their Sweetheart for the coming year. She was presented at the Sweetheart Dance given by Sigma Nu on February 21.

Miss Eidson, a member of Alpha Phi Beta sorority, has attended LaGrange since 1961. She is also a member of the Curtain Raisers, secretary of the Woman's Athletic Association, and a member of the Quadrangle staff.

When asked how she felt when she found out she was the Sweetheart, she replied that it was hard to say, "I guess most people would be happy and honor."

"The thing that is impressing me most now is how nice people have been to me. Not just the Sigma Nu's but other people also."

When asked what she thought about the whole thing she said, "It's the greatest thing that has ever happened to me."

Kathy Mitchum Voices New Church Outlook

Miss Kathy Mitchum, a rural worker with The Methodist Church, was guest speaker on the LaGrange College campus on February 27, 28, 29. During her visit here she spoke to both high school and college groups. In addition, she did counseling with individual students.

In her talk on Thursday night, Miss Mitchum impressed her audience with the importance of the local church's keeping pace with the leaders of the church. She gave three examples to show the "new" outlook of the church:

"I guess every student, but you never really believe it's true even after it happens. "I guess every Sweetheart, but you never really believe it's true even after it happens."

Miss Mitchum gave a discussion of the recently-opened U. M. Church Center in which a team, among others, of ten students, all from foreign countries, are training in the field of world affairs.

Let The Students' Voice Be Heard

PASS CHAFFER

President Of Your Student Government
College Basketball Season Closes
With Troy Victory Over Panthers

LaGrange College ended its 63-64 basketball season last week with an 18-48 loss to Troy State College in Troy, Alabama. The Panthers finished with a 13-10 overall record.

This was the second best year in the ten-year history of basketball at LaGrange. The best was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.

In the Troy State game the Panthers fell behind 13-4 early in the game and despite a hearty effort that pulled the Panthers to within four points of catching Troy at 44-40, there was never a change in the lead.

Troy State led 44-40 at the half, and behind a 50 per cent field goal output stretched the lead in the second half. LaGrange hit 38 per cent.

LaGrange (68): Awbrey 17, Corless 20, Halter 8, Thompson 10, Rowell 16, Phillips 2, Thigpen 0, Lord 1.

Troy State finished with a 13-10 was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.

Hilltop News

Sports

CLARK STONE, Sports Editor

College Basketball Season Closes
With Troy Victory Over Panthers

LaGrange College ended its 63-64 basketball season last week with an 18-48 loss to Troy State College in Troy, Alabama. The Panthers finished with a 13-10 overall record.

This was the second best year in the ten-year history of basketball at LaGrange. The best was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.

In the Troy State game the Panthers fell behind 13-4 early in the game and despite a hearty effort that pulled the Panthers to within four points of catching Troy at 44-40, there was never a change in the lead.

Troy State led 44-40 at the half, and behind a 50 per cent field goal output stretched the lead in the second half. LaGrange hit 38 per cent.

LaGrange (68): Awbrey 17, Corless 20, Halter 8, Thompson 10, Rowell 16, Phillips 2, Thigpen 0, Lord 1.

Troy State finished with a 13-10 was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.

Hilltop News

Sports

CLARK STONE, Sports Editor

College Basketball Season Closes
With Troy Victory Over Panthers

LaGrange College ended its 63-64 basketball season last week with an 18-48 loss to Troy State College in Troy, Alabama. The Panthers finished with a 13-10 overall record.

This was the second best year in the ten-year history of basketball at LaGrange. The best was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.

In the Troy State game the Panthers fell behind 13-4 early in the game and despite a hearty effort that pulled the Panthers to within four points of catching Troy at 44-40, there was never a change in the lead.

Troy State led 44-40 at the half, and behind a 50 per cent field goal output stretched the lead in the second half. LaGrange hit 38 per cent.

LaGrange (68): Awbrey 17, Corless 20, Halter 8, Thompson 10, Rowell 16, Phillips 2, Thigpen 0, Lord 1.

Troy State finished with a 13-10 was the 58-59 season when LC had a 16-6 record.