Quadrangle Dedication Set For Chapel Tomorrow

By JERRY BEASLEY

On Wednesday, May 20, the dedication ceremony and dedication of the newly completed Quadrangle will take place during the regular chapel hour at Dobbs. Seating arrangements will be in a reserved section in front, which will be marked off, and will receive their annual first. Underclassmen may receive their Quadrangles after the program.

The 1964 theme is a city-college one, and it is believed that this is the first attempt to do this. It seems to be appropriate because of the close tie which has always existed between the city and college. For example, after the War Between the States, the citizens of LaGrange rallied and undertook a program to rebuild the college after it was burned. Then too, students boarded with families in town before dormitories were built. There are only two examples in which the citizens of LaGrange, Ga., have expressed their pride and concern for the development and upkeep of LC.

The dedication, of course, will not be known until Wednesday morning, but a sneak preview of the Quadrangle lay-out has been obtained. One feature will be a copy of a letter in the annual insert from a student who graduated in 1964. This is a reflection of the changes which have taken place and of the dedication. The insert will be an informal senior section and senior activities will be listed both in print and in the form of photographs of the different college departments. The advertisers are sponsoring a year's worth of student activities. The cover was designed by Cherry Mahaffey and definitely reflects the city-college theme.

Editor Jenny Dorough has this to say about the annual. "The 1964 Quadrangle is the product of much thought, planning, and work. The staff made possible the yearbook as a whole and is eager to know the student reaction to the publication. The editorship of this yearbook has been more valuable than any course I have ever taken. I would have to thank you for the opportunity of working with you."

There are many students who have not been at LC for three quarters in this academic year, a price of two dollars for each quarter absent will have to be paid. Normally, this is covered in the activities fees. This year, however, because of the success of the fundraising efforts, it has been decided to divide the three quarters.

Anyoro who own the Quadrangle should have an annual until cleared with Aaron Johnston, business manager.

There was a misprint concerning the faculty price in last week's paper. A price of four dollars, rather than six, has been set. All town people and "outsiders" will be charged the regular six dollars.

Art League Show Starts May 24

The annual student art show, sponsored by the LaGrange Art League, will open May 24 in the College Art Gallery and will run through graduation day, June 1. A reception will be held on May 24 from 3 until 5 p.m.

The show will feature work done by the art students during the current year. Paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, and advertising designs will be shown. It also demonstrates the wide range of course offerings available through the LaGrange College Art Department.

The LC art faculty will consider all entries and choose the best entries. Each artist will be given equal consideration. The selection of the award winners will be made by the Art League. For this award the artist will receive twenty-five dollars and his name will be added to the rolls of the college's permanent collection.

The Art Students' League will be in charge of hanging the show. There will be an official reception at the opening. Many of the works shown by the students will be for sale.

Choralaires To Present Concert Friday Night

The Music Department of LaGrange College will present the Choralaires concert on Friday, May 22, 8:00 at the center of the campus. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. Mr. Paul May will conduct the choir. The presentation will be a variety of topics, including one which deals with a variety of songs in the form of waltzes and chorus, accompanied by two pianos. This work consists of "Opus 17." This work consists of a four-hand accompaniment on a single piano.

Miss Pinson will also be the accompanist for "Opus 17" and a single piano. "Opus 12," from Brahms' Liebekerchen, will also be part of the concert. These are love songs in the form of waltzes and are sung in full chorus. The text I have been conducting the following interview with the president, it serves to answer questions to which answers are desired.

Question: Mr. Henry, how many students are candidates for "Opus 17" and a single piano? Answer: Five. Question: Were the names discussed with other students? Answer: No.

Question: What was the purpose of the list? Answer: To determine who is responsible for attitudes and conduct of LaGrange College in the community, who is in the center of conduct of the Broad Street Dormitory that prevents other students from getting maximum benefit out of living in that hall.

Question: Did the administrative processes occur? Answer: No.

Question: Why were the names not recorded on their records? Answer: It is possible, of course, but not probable. In the conversations which involved several sessions with all parties over a period of days we always stated: "We want no person's name on this list that doesn't belong on the list. We wish to hurt no innocent party. Inasmuch as (Continued on Page 3)"

Because of the interest of students in recent action taken by officers of the college in advising certain students that they may not register at LC after this quarter, we have conducted the following interview with the president.

The Library Could Help

Exam starts Monday. This fact means that this weekend will probably be a very quiet one with almost everyone studying for finals.

The Hilltop News wonders if it wouldn't be advantageous for the students if the library could stay open for a few more hours on the weekend. The days have become hotter now and the air conditioned library would offer an excellent atmosphere for study.

At the present time the library is only open on Saturdays on the weekends. Saturdays hours are from 8-12 and 1-5. The Hilltop News suggests that the weekend hours for this weekend only be increased to from 8-5 on Saturday and from 1-5 on Sunday. The library might even find it worthwhile to be open for a few hours on Sunday night.

We feel that this suggestion might prove to be very helpful to the students and well worth the added cost to the administration.

A "Misunderstanding"

In the editorial "A Problem and a Suggestion", printed on the front page of last week's paper, a erroneous statement was made. The statement said, in effect, that the Judicial Council had been asked by the president's office to meet on the situation in the Broad Street dorm.

This statement was the result of a "misunderstanding" between our usually most reliable source and the president's office and also between the paper and the president's office.

The Hilltop News regrets any action or problem this statement may have caused.

Sometimes a professor just gets that weary, inquisitive student who wants to be led by the hand through a course.

One history professor at the University of Minnesota foresees all those familiar questions on the course requirements by handing out "Helpful Hints," which says in part:

EXAMINATIONS: Students must make arrangements to make up any missed examinations. As a health measure, make-up examinations are usually three times as hard as ordinary examinations.

GRADES: The midquarter counts approximately 34.97% of the grade; the final examination makes up the rest.

BOOK REPORTS: Book reports should not be shorter than 237 words in length. Initials count as one word. Hyphenated words count as two words. Footnotes count as a single word. The author's name and the title of the book should be given.

UNSATISFACTORY GRADES: Most annuals of low grades usually are lack of study, lack of interest, or lack of ability. Essay examinations are graded on content, extent of knowledge of the subject, factual errors, organization, degree of illiteracy, andilio of maturity in the answer.

Interview With Dr. Henry

Question: Do you have a final comment?

Answer: Yes. Most students seek to understand the position of administrative officers. Others criticize us when we are "soft," saying, "Anything can happen and the administration takes no action." When we are "hard" they say, "Why does the administration crack down on some students arbitrarily when so many are guilty?" The big problem is communications. There is no way for us to explain to every student on the campus everything we do. But the students who constantly count upon our best interest in them and our dedication to making this the best college we can for their sakes.

Clark Stone Receives Hilltop News Award

(LCNS) — A LaGrange College student-journalist from Hogansville has been named this year's recipient of the annual award given to the "most outstanding staff member" of the campus newspaper, The Hilltop News. Clark Stone, a senior and English major, received the award at the annual campus publications' banquet last Friday.

Currently completing his second year as sports editor of The Hilltop News, Stone is a 1960 graduate of Hogansville High School. He earned high school letters while competing in basketball.

Stone's selection was made by the faculty publications committee and the award presentation made by Alan Thomas, advisor to the newspaper.

In presenting the award, Thomas described Stone as having many traits of a fine journalist ... as someone who is loyal and dependable ... as someone who is accurate although endowed with a great deal of imagination. "Stone has a great deal of journalistic skill," Thomas continued, "and should go far if he chooses a career in journalism."

Stone also worked on the other two student publications at LaGrange College — The Quadrangle yearbook and The Scroll literary magazine. This year he has been sports editor of The Quadrangle and associate editor of The Scroll in addition to his duties on the weekly newspaper.

Through most of his four years at LC, Stone has worked in the college News Service as sports news manager and statistician.

Stone is the son of Mrs. Lucy C. Stone of 27 Elm Street, Hogansville.

SGA Legislative Council Meets

To Work On Handbook Changes

The Legislative Council met three times last week — on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights. The meetings were held to continue work on the Handbook changes.

Changes and motions made by the Council included changing the number of nights out for freshmen from five per month to 10 per quarter. This change, in effect, reduced the number of nights out for the freshmen. It was felt by the Council that this reduction was for the freshmen's best interest.

The presiding officer, Lowery Tillison, also presented a change in the present practice of restrictions. He asked that instead of continuing the present three-day restriction given for receiving seven demerits, the individual be suspended from classes for one day and also be put on restriction for this day. This idea received a great deal of discussion and was finally defeated.

The Council is presently discussing requiring a person who received seven demerits to appear before a dormitory council who will prescribe his punishment. This discussion has been tabled.

Absent from the meeting on Monday, May 11, were Barbara Greene, Glenn Lord, David Johnson, Rose Brand, and Jackie Reeves. Absent from the meeting on Tuesday May 12, were Barbara Greene, Jimmy Mathews, Sammy Stewart, Suzanne Kersey, and Susan Rutledge. Absent from the meeting on Thursday, May 14 were Carol Bales, Glenn Lord, and Sammy Stewart.

Pi Delt Defends Crown In Annual Swimming Meet

Today at 6:00 o'clock the Men's Athletic Association will have its annual swimming meet at Callaway Pool. All three fraternities, plus independents, are entered in the meet.

Last year Pi Delt won this meet rather easily, losing only one event out of the nine event schedule. This year the meet promises to be bigger and better than last year's. All the teams entered are stronger and more prepared for the meet.

This year the MAA is allowing independent teams to enter the meet. These independent teams are composed of LC male students that are not members of a fraternity.

Last year we saw a lot of good clean competition between the fraternities, and a lot of real close races between individuals. One of the highlights of last year's meet was the diving competition. This amounted to a two-man battle between Chuck Nixon and Johnny Glisson. Both did four beautiful dives and when the points were tabulated Glisson had won by a narrow margin.

This year there have been some changes made in the diving competition. Last year each contestant executed one required dive from the one and three meter boards and one optional dive from each board for a combined score from both boards. This year the competition has been divided into one meter competition and three meter competition, with each diver doing one required dive and three optional dives to determine a winner for each board. Although, this does not limit a diver to one board, for he may enter competition on both boards.

Another change is the elimination of the butterfly stroke from the competition. This was decreed upon by the MAA at their last meeting.
