Students Reminded About Deposits
Present students planning to return to LC in September, even those who have pre-registered for the fall quarter, may soon be looking for dormitory rooms.

This is the trend this week-end from President Henry and Admissions Director Jack Henderson, who warned that, beginning today, rooms in Broad Street, Turner and Smith Dorns for which deposits have not been made will be assigned to incoming students.

Room deposits have been made on all facilities in the freshman dormitories, Pitts and Hawken, the administrators said. "We cannot afford to hold a room in the other dorms for any longer without the $25 deposit."

Henderson continued, "We anticipate receiving a large number of freshman and transfer applications this summer. If we receive a deposit, we will have to reserve the room in the other dorms for these new students."

According to Jack Henderson, Director of Admissions, "In order to accommodate as many students as is practical, it is possible that we may have to survey our older men students during the summer months to determine their willingness to accept housing in the local community. In this event, of course, the room deposit could be refunded or applied to next year's bill."

A Feb. 25 letter from Dr. Henry to all freshman, sophomore, and junior dorm residents warned that "applications of new students will considerably exceed the ability of the house to house them," and that a deadline for deposits will be fixed for April 1.

"We have allowed a grace period of about two months," Henderson said, "but we cannot afford to guarantee anyone a room without a deposit."

"Applications should be made in the business office," Rev. Henry said.

Brooks, the commencement speaker, is a native of Roystonsboro and has served as general manager of the cotton cooperative one time since 1923. He previously taught sociology at the University of Georgia and is a field supervisor with the cooperative. He holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from the university and a honorary degree from South University.

Brooks is chairman of the board of two Atlanta insurance companies, Cotton States Mutual and Cotton States Life and Health, and of Farmers Chemical Producers Association. He is also vice-president of the National Cotton Commission of America.

Dean Kelly Looks Back

Since Mrs. Kelly, Dean of Women, is leaving us after one year of fine service, The Hilltop News felt that a letter of some sort would be appropriate. Her letter follows:

Dear LaGrange College Friends,

Always, June brings to a college campus some light relief from the pressures and demands of the school year, yet, it is dealt with partings from friends, favored haunts, more, and all those things that have somehow become a way of life. From freshman to senior, professor, administrator, staff member — none really escapes entirely from those mixed emotions that belong with the approach of summer. True, I may explain and, shamelessly, confess my own explosive heart tugs as this summer gathering in But, to my gracious friends of this hospitable, lovely, old campus, I make further admission that dawning realization that my June emotions of 1964 will be in another setting has intensified and given peculiar twists to those yearnings of 1964. There is so much that is fine and lovable at LaGrange College that one may not know it and leave without some reluctance and regrets.

Since you have permitted me to be one of you, I trust your indulgence for some last schoolteacher reflections of my first experience with near-exclusion from the academic side of the college life of which I have been a part. Perhaps, some ideas have taken on new meanings for me, and my order of values may have become somewhat rearranged during the past months, but the purpose of my actions has remained constant. That is, my hope has been that their loyalties and devotions will be firmly attached to the ideals of truth, honesty, and personal integrity and to the conviction that intelligent service is the happiest way of life. These hopes I leave for all LaGrange students, along with my very good wishes that they will find on this campus a satisfying way of life.

My sincere thanks to The Hilltop News for providing me with the opportunity to send my deep appreciation for all of the thoughtful kindnesses with which many members of the campus community have made indelible my memory on "The Hill." Best wishes for a splendid next year for all folks at LaGrange College.

Most sincerely,

Mary Kirk Kelly

"We Build Good Ships"

The graduating seniors of 1964 are among the best that LaGrange College has produced. Among them is a high percentage who will go on to graduate and professional study here and abroad. Some have won enviable scholarships and fellowships because of their demonstrated proficiency.

To this class we offer congratulations for their maturity and scholarly achievements. We wish for them a high degree of success in their marriages, their vocations, their public services. The brand of LaGrange College is upon them and upon this school. A shipyard in Newport News, Va., has over its gates a motto: "We build good ships — at a profit if we can, at a loss if we must — but always good ships." The LaGrange College faculty seeks seriously to produce good scholars and good people. When the students remain with us for a period of four years we never worry about their place in society. We believe they graduate from LaGrange with a core of basic knowledge, an appreciation of high ethical values, and a religious consciousness built upon Christian convictions. They are prepared to assume mature roles in domestic, civic, and religious circles.

We would be pleased to know that all LaGrange graduates look upon the college as an anchor of security for them. We want the graduates to go away, to call upon us for services we can render, to direct to this school the finest young men and young women who seek a basic education.

Your Alma Mater will always make an interest in you.

served Presidents Truman, Eisen- hower, and Johnson in agricultural and trade advisory capacities. He is also a member of the National Cotton Advisory Committee of the Department of Agriculture.

Brooks is a director or trustee of a number of interests including the Foundation of American Agriculture, the Agricultural Hall of Fame, the National Council of Churches, Berean Church, and Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly. He is chairman of Emory University’s Committee of One Hundred.

In Methodist church activities, Brooks is district lay leader of the Atlanta-Marietta District, is associate lay leader of the North Georgia Conference, and was a delegate to the church’s General (national) Conference in April.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, the pastor laureate preacher who will also receive an honorary degree has been a ministerial member of the North Georgia Methodist Conference since 1943, serving the following pastorates before assuming a superintendentcy: Walton Circuit, Dallas, Oxford, Martha Brown (Atlanta), and Marietta First Methodist Church.

Rev. Mr. Thompson has served eight years as a member of the conference’s Commission on Higher Education, and is also a member of the conference’s World Service Commission. This year he is a delegate to the General Conference and to the church’s jurisdictional conference.

A native of Athens, the pastor laureate preacher graduated at Youngstown, Ohio, in 1935, received a bachelor’s degree at University of Georgia, and earned a bachelor of divinity degree from Emory University. He has also studied at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Rev. Mr. Thompson has taught at Emory-at-Oxford College and served as a visiting professor at Emory University. He has authored the book, “His Works on Happiness,” which was a contribution to the Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Rev. Mr. Thompson also received an honorary degree as a member of the North Georgia Methodist Conference. He has served at Atlanta’s Aulden Methodist Church for 10 years, the LaGrange First Methodist Church for two years, and plans to retire from this position. His service as a pastor has been exemplary, and he has been a leader in the church and community.

Action concerning Homecoming consisted of assigning the Greeks their respective jobs for the weekend. The Greeks have a long tradition of excellence in this area, and they have been successful in their efforts. Gamma Phi and Alpha Kappa Phi are in charge of the Homecoming Dance. Gamma Phi will be in charge of the dance and Alpha Kappa Phi in charge of the transportation of the Greeks from one job to the next.

The Greek Homecoming has been a long tradition and has been a success in the past. It is a time for all Greeks to come together and celebrate.

The Phehellenic Council Discusses Homecoming

The Phehellenic Council met last Thursday night to formulate plans to check progress on plans for Homecoming next fall semester.

Items discussed included the need for more organization and the need for a central gathering area to accommodate the large number of Greeks who will be involved in Homecoming activities.

The Phehellenic Council is the organization responsible for coordinating the activities of the Greeks during Homecoming. The council consists of representatives from each Greek organization and is chaired by the Greek Homecoming King.

Articles Written by LC Faculty

"A bold new approach in telling the Greeks' story to the public" will come into being in the near future, according to Alan Smith, LC’s public relations director.

The new public relations tool is a series of articles on topics of general interest written by members of the faculty.

Each of the articles in the weekly series will be approximately 500 words in length. They will be distributed to at least 300 newspapers throughout Georgia and the South.

Dr. Zachary Taylor Jr., chairman of the faculty committee which edits the column before its distribution, said, “Our purpose is to tell the Greeks' story to the public. Our goal is to help the Greeks gain a better understanding of the world in which they live, and to aid in student education and recruitment for the college.

"The college is very excited about this new tool and we are looking forward to seeing how it will be received by the public."

Dr. Taylor said that the committee is working on the final details of the column and that it will begin publication as soon as possible.

A native of Hammondsville, Kentucky, Mr. Williams received his undergraduate degree from Western Kentucky University in 1964.

"I am very pleased with the progress of our Greek Homecoming efforts," said Dr. Taylor. "I believe that our students will be proud of the work that they are doing and that our alumni will be proud of the Greeks as well."
Mom' Stambaugh To Retire After Nine Years At LC

By JUDY THOMASON

"Next to my real Mom, Mom Stambaugh is the best Mom ever!" That is the general feeling of Mom's 48 girls in Smith Dorm. She smiles and will brush off home that makes things seem so much easier.

"There is nothing I'd rather do that be a housemother," expressed Mom Stambaugh, "I've always loved every group I've ever had!"

Mom Stambaugh is a native of these parts, being born "down near Columbus." However, she lived in Cleveland, Ohio, for eighteen years after she was married.

"A woman once asked me if I was English," she laughed, "I said no, I'm just a Georgia Cracker!"

Mom came to LaGrange College in 1955. She first lived in Hawks on the second floor. When asked to compare the girls then and those now she said, "They are much freer now than they were then. Now they speak out and say things and tell you when they wouldn't before." She added, "We have lots of different people here now. There are lots of changes — it has grown and grown."

Last year, Mom moved to Friis and this year she has been in Smith. Those nine years she has been the housemother of girls — "like girls — like boys, too."

When asked what was the best thing about being a housemother she said, "Just to have the house full of girls. I love to have time for them to be noisy. I love to see them singing and laughing." Mom smiled, "Like the girl who said, 'Mom, I'm so tired I'd like to scream,' I said, 'Well, the ten o'clock bell has rung.' She said, 'You mean I can?' I said yes, and she did, and boy, she nearly shook the roof off!"

Mom is always interested in the students here. "I would love to see everybody study really hard. There will come some time when you'll be glad you did." Sometimes things don't always go so well when you're a housemother, "when somebody gets ornery or gets out of sorts that hurts me. When they disobey the rules just to disobey. You can't expect them to abide by the rules all the time. I never have had it much trouble."

There is nobody any happier than Mom Stambaugh when a student is thoughtful and tries to please. She will smile and say, "Cooperation is what makes the world go around."

"Exam time is when I like to have a lot of patience and a soft voice. If I have to talk to a girl or boy I like to do it in a kind way. I explain that it is to make their life better if they do things properly."

At the end of this year Mom Stambaugh is retiring. "I'm sorry to have to leave," she said, "It has been a very rich life to be here — I like the spirit of the hill."

Mom is unsatisfied as to what she will do after this year. "I am going to visit all my relatives — then I will decide what to do. It all depends on where my children live."

The Georgia Delta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, May 19, in the formal parlor. The members met in the campus dining hall at 5:30 to eat supper and then adjourned to the formal parlor.

The eight new members were formally initiated and the new officers installed. The officers for 1964-65 are as follows: president, Prof. Michael John Brown; first vice-president, Mrs. Doris Swanner; second vice-president, Mrs. Stella M. Howard; secretary-treasurer, Prof. J. B. Blankenship.

Butler, Morgan
Voted Rat Masters
By ELVIN ADAMS
The new rat master and rat mistress for the coming fall quarter were elected by popular vote of the freshman class on Thursday, May 21, 1964. Susan Butler and Neat Morgan were chosen as the rat master and rat mistress on the basis of their ability to conduct good ratting and their leadership.

Before tryouts began, former rat master, Jewel Mayery, gave a brief talk on the importance of keeping good ratting. Class president, Larry Goodman, announced the contract for the 1964 rating was yet to be drawn up and approved, but a committee would be appointed at a later date to decide on a definite contract.

Others who participated in the tryouts were Maxine Penson, Billy Gambill, and Jack Jones.

Legislative Council
Changes Restriction
Rules, Procedure
The Legislative Council of the Student Government Association met last Tuesday night to finish working on the changes in the Handbook.

The Council checked the final form of the new changes and approved them. Other action involved passing a motion that stated that starting next year all restrictions will be given out by the Dorm Council, which will be formed next year. Restrictions will be no less than three days nor more than seven. All offenders receiving seven derelicts will be turned over to the Dorm Council to receive their sentence. Absent from the meeting were Judd Hitchcock and Sammy Stewart.

Sandy Turner, Donnie West To Do Graduate Work In France, Scotland

By JERRY BEASLEY

Two LaGrange College graduates will be going overseas next fall to continue their studies. Donnie West will go to Edinburgh, Scotland, and Sandy Turner to France.

Donnie West will leave for Edinburgh, Scotland, in the fall. Here he will study Theology for one year at New School and then return to Emory University to finish his graduate work. If time is convenient he will leave for New York early and visit the World's Fair before departing. His boat will arrive in England and from there he will go to Scotland by train. The term begins in October, and he will be staying with a Scottish family while there. Before returning to the United States he plans to visit many points of interest on bicycle, as this is one of the habits of the Scottish people.

Miss Turner will leave in September, her destination being Tours, France. Here she will continue her studies at L'Institut de Touraine. This is a special school for foreign students from all parts of the world who wish to continue their studies by taking advanced courses in the French language. There will be courses in conversational French, reading, grammar, and writing, the main emphasis being placed on practice in listening and speaking in French.

In conjunction with the LaGrange College Art Department, a group of students and faculty members will be visiting Atlanta's Art Festival Show. The students entered and their works will be distinguished with Purchase Prizes and Merit Awards in such categories as painting, sculpture, crafts, graphics, and drawing. The work of all of our students has been selected by the faculty of the Art Department to be entered in the Open Section of Atlanta's Art Festival Show. These students entered and their works are: Wayne Minor, a photograph and a painting; Cherry Mahaffey, a woodcut print; Janice Christian, a woodcut print; Dick Aunspaugh, an advertising design; Linda Long, an ink drawing; George Timmins, a print; Kathryn Green, a painting; Curtis Chapman, a watercolor; and Sue Goethe, a photograph.

Mr. James McLean, professor of art at LaGrange College, was invited to enter in the Invited Section of the show. Mr. McLean is represented by a panel of his prints.
Pi Delt Wins Swim Meet

By CHUCK STEVENS

Last Tuesday at Callaway Pool the Pi Delt swam to 7 firsts, 3 seconds, and 3 third place finishes, for a total of 60 points, to run away with the annual MAA swimming meet. The Independents finished second with 2 firsts, 1 second, and 1 third, for a total of 18 points and 2 seconds and 3 thirds. The Sigma Nu’s failed to score in the meet.

The sky was overcast and the temperature was about 61° when Dr. Harris blew his whistle for the meet to begin. The first event was the 50-yard freestyle, which was won by Mike Walters, PDK, and Russell Harvey, GPA. Warren went away with the annual MAA swimming meet. The Independents finished third with 2 seconds and 3 thirds. The Sigma Nu’s failed to score in the meet.

The third race was the 50-yard backstroke which was won by Freddie “Champion” Madrid, PDK, second went to Jack Wrighter, PDK, and third was Russell Harvey, GPA. Warren went away with the annual MAA swimming meet. The Independents finished third with 2 seconds and 3 thirds. The Sigma Nu’s failed to score in the meet.

The fifth race was the 100-yard freestyle. There were only three entries in this race from Sigma Nu, but a 2nd place finisher was Dorn Hunt, PDK, Mike Walters, PDK, and David Leverrett, Ind. The results were as follows:

1st — Johnny Glisson — 168.85 points
2nd — Chuck Stevens — 134.83 points
3rd — Don Holloway — 128.95 points
4th — David Leverrett — 71.10 points
5th — Chuck Glisson, GPA,  and David Leverrett, Ind.

The last individual event of the day was the 200-yard freestyle relay. This proved to be one of the most exciting races of the day. The Independent team composed of Dad Gerrett, Hugh Dunkin, Ind., second was Johnny Glisson, PDK, and third went to Bill West, England, GPA.

The third race was the 200-yard medley relay in which four swimmers swim 50 yards, each using the back stroke, crawl, and breast stroke to determine a winner. The PDK team had this to be their race by finishing first (Stevens, Holloway, Glisson, Hunt), and second (Stokes, Door, Walters, Horton) for 28 points.

The next event was the one meter board diving competition. The entries were Johnny Glisson, PDK, Chuck Stevens, PDK, and Chuck Glisson, GPA. The results were as follows:

1st — Johnny Glisson — 155.10 points
2nd — Chuck Stevens — 134.83 points
3rd — Chuck Glisson, GPA — 128.95 points

Greek Sports Summed Up

For The Past Year

By JOHN CARTER

Action has been the key word for LaGrange’s intramural sports during the last three quarters here at LaGrange College.

In volleyball, Sigma Phi won intramural football. Pi Delt and Sigma Nu took second and third, respectively. The action was hard hitting and very close the entire season.

During winter quarter, the major sport was basketball. Pi Delt proved itself to be the upper one with an 8-4 record. Their defense and offense strategy was played perfectly. Gamma Phi, with a 6-6 record, was second and Sigma Nu took third with an 8-8 standing. After Sigma Nu, the right was for the basketball crown. This sport is always close and for the second year in a row, Pi Delt took first place. Close behind was Pi Delt and then Gamma Phi.

This fall quarter, Sigma Phi, Delta Kappa again become vic-

WAA Sports Summed Up

For The Past Year

Women’s intramurals this past year have been very exciting. The year started with Kappa Phi winning the women’s tournament and AKO coming in second place. The Kappa’s combined their hitting power and fine fielding to have an undefeated season. In tennis Donna Howell and Dottie Mathews combined their accuracy to win women’s double’s singles. Singles will be decided after these two girls play one another for the championship.

Male Canady feels that this was a very successful year and is looking forward to next year’s intramurals when archery and table tennis will be included.
