More Students Enrolled Than Can Be Housed

For the first time in recent years, LC enrolled more people than it can house. As of Friday a week ago, everyone had a room, but because many old students did not move out and some new ones came in last Spring Quarter, Mr. Sullivan, Dean of Students, had more students than rooms.

When asked how this problem was solved, Mr. Sullivan said, "It was solved through complete cooperation between the students and this office." Mr. Sullivan explained that some students desired to live off campus so after they moved, we managed to find room for everyone. He said they did have to use two of the storerooms in the Broad St. dormitory to house one student each.

As for the other dormitories, Mr. Sullivan said "every available facility is being utilized," and Mr. Sullivan emphasized that he was "grateful for the students cooperation." He also mentioned that all students desiring to make room changes will have been done so by the end of next week. After next week all changes will have to be cleared through the office.

Registration

New System Is Praised

Dean Sullivan explained that he was "very pleased with the new system as it has many advantages over systems used in the past; students only have one big card to fill out rather than several, and the new card involved checks rather than actual writing.

The main advantage of this new system, Dr. Harwell explained, "is that it will save a fantastic amount of time for the administration. When new cards, statistics such as majors, amount of load, church affiliation, and other items can be tabulated automatically.

These new cards will also be used to record student's grades, each professor will record his grades on the individual class cards that he takes up at the beginning of the quarter. The cards will then be sent in special envelopes to the students. This process, of course, will save the office a great amount of time."

This new process also will guarantee a much more rigid system into a class that is preregistered for, all cards will automatically be closed when all of the class cards are distributed.

Dr. Harwell also reported that approximately 1100 students had been enrolled for this quarter.

The Juniors will offer the Rats their help this year. The Juniors will try to help the most in the field of finances. In general, the road, must know. The Juniors will also offer the Freshman and Sophomore classes their help in the field of finances.

The only relief the Freshmen will receive from ratting will be during Chapel, classes, and in the library. Rat caps do not have to be worn in these places. Caps also will not be worn in the dining hall although ratting on the above mentioned is one step away from busi- ness manager the following

The Student Government Association will hold its first meeting this week to fill two vacancies and to deal with any other business that may be presented. The main business will be on the office of secretary of SGA. which may rule on the constitutionality of several articles in the Handbook.

Freshman class, who is an assistant professor of art, won one of the five awards available for paintings selected for the nineteenth southeastern annual exhibition in Atlanta.

Hethcox Wins Area Honor

Hethcox's work, a gouache (opaque watercolor) entitled "The Editor," was selected from total of 12,000 entries by Dr. Wilhelmus B. Bryson, association director, to the winning artists at a reception prior to the opening of the show.

The Southeastern Exhibition will remain in Atlanta until Oct. 25, at which time it will begin a tour of galleries in Columbia, S.C., Columbus, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., West Palm Beach, Fla., Summer, Ga., and Knoxville, Tenn.

The Southeast one of the major shows in America, was announced by Mrs. Majak D. Brokens, director until this year of the Washington, D. C. Gallery of Modern Art, who is now consultant to the National Collection of Fine Art at the Smithsonian Institution.

Hethcox is a graduate of LaGrange College and earned his master's degree at the University of Georgia. He has been a member of the faculty for six years. His work had been accepted for the southeastern show twice before.

The LaGrange College artist studied with Mrs. Reaunette Brion of LaGrange, and was also a student at the Atlanta Art Institute. He was a member of the faculty for six years. His work had been accepted for the southeastern show twice before.

Hilltop News Needs Help

The Hilltop News is in need of HELP!!!

At the beginning of each week we ask for new people to fill the positions left by parting students. If you think you can, or are willing to make an attempt, let us know. If you are a writer, editor, or a member of the general staff, please consider helping our newspaper. You can help us!!!

At the present time we need several reporters, an advertising manager, and a sports editor.

The only requirement to be a reporter is being able to write.

So if you can write, let us know. We would like to have an experienced sports editor. If you are interested in sports and can write you're acceptable.

The position of advertising manager is open to anyone interested to manage the position is one step away from business manager the following year.

So if you're interested in working for LC's weekly newspaper, let us know by seeing Times Linton, the editor, or dropping us a line in the Campus Mall of your ambitions.
Thank You! Moose Club

On behalf of the students, faculty and administration of LaGrange College, the Hilltop News would like to take this opportunity to extend a hearty “thank you” to the LaGrange Moose Club for making an official LC bus available. This new addition will certainly prove to be a great convenience in the months to come. It is with such concern as shown by this organization that progress is made not only on the “hill”, but throughout this community and county.

Another Step Forward

As Dr. C. Lee Harwell, Academic Dean, commented; LC’s new system of registration is a “definitely superior.” Although there was some confusion as to how to fill out the forms, most everybody found that the process of registration last week was much faster than it had been in the past.

Problems were encountered, but the staff that manned the Gym seemed to know how to handle them and everything ran smoothly.

Dr. Harwell announced that this is the system that will be used in the future and will probably be a much faster process than it was last week. Our compliments to Dr. Harwell in this step forward for LC.

Work But Worth It!

As mentioned on the front page, The Hilltop News is in need of help. We like to think that we are a more serious group than that article implies.

Yes, we do need help. But we need serious people who are really interested in writing for the paper. People who will take the responsibility of handling an assignment and meeting a deadline.

The Hilltop News publishes weekly. This is to encourage an understanding of writing for a particular group which has a newspaper that appears this often.

Publishing weekly means that we must have a reliable staff that is interested enough and serious enough to do the work and to meet a deadline.

Currently we need about five more people. People that think they can fill the position listed on the front page. People that can do a story well and meet a deadline.

If you are interested in giving us a hand and joining our happy group, we’ll be glad to hear from you.
Art Exhibit In Progress

BY DEE DUNCAN

An art exhibition by a husband and wife team opened Sunday at LaGrange College's art gallery in a series of shows during the 1964-65 college year.

The work of Howard and Ann Wall Thomas of Athens will be featured in the college gallery in Dawes Hall, beginning with a reception from 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27 and continuing through Oct. 8. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be on campus for the reception on Sunday.

Professor James A. McLean, head of the LC Art Department, stated that Mr. Thomas is one of the most respected teachers and painters in the South. One of his many paintings now being shown is entitled "Ollm." In this painting, as in most of his paintings now on exhibition, he employs a guache technique which is an opaque watercolor. The scene is of the town of Albright, Ga., and is painted from a favorite spot used by many Athens artists. It is an abstract painting and if one looks closely one can see a water tower and the Court house.

Another of his paintings, an abstract painting of a "city scape," is a beautiful interplay of color displaying a lyrical, rhythmic quality.

Ann Wall Thomas, a graphic artist, is president of the Association of Georgia artists. On display are fine examples of her work in which she uses the serigraph process.

On Monday of the new term, Nov. 3, Dr. Harwell was on hand to welcome Mrs. McGard to her new position as secretarial aid.

Assemble local citizens to attend, without additional cost, the Municipal Concert Series in nearby Creative.

The neighboring series features the Columbus Boys Choir on Nov. 1 and Heiner Williams and Crampy on March 17.

Hyche said that admission to all concerts is by membership card only. The memberships may be ordered by mail by sending check or money order to P. O. Box 8, LaGrange.

"The series membership prices are the same as last year," Hyche said. "A family card is $14, adult memberships cost $6, and children cards (through college) are $2."

Dr. Hoke Wammock, president of the concert association, in a news release accompanying the brochure and membership blanks to former association members, said, "There are many reasons why you should again be a member of our association. You help to provide the community with fine concert attractions and such a series is necessary in a city which is not only seeking to extend economically but culturally and as well."
City's Moose Club Gives Bus To LC

(LCNS) — A new 24-passenger bus, the gift of the Loyal Order of Moose, LaGrange Lodge 1433, has been delivered to LaGrange College.

In accepting keys to the bus from H. W. Howard, president of the Georgia-Alabama Moose Association and former governor of the LaGrange lodge, Dr. W. G. Henry Jr., president of the college, said, "We are extremely grateful to the members of the lodge for this fine demonstration of their interest in the college."

The bus will be used for transporting various student civic groups, including athletes to out-of-town games, choral and dramatic groups to performances, and other students on field trips in connection with academic classes.

The bus was built by the Blue Bird Body Company in Fort Valley. Moose club officials said the lodge has financed the purchase of the bus and will pay for it out of their budget. Various projects will be sponsored to pay for the bus.

Primary project scheduled for this year is a barbecue on Nov. 3, the day of the special election, according to Ferrell Towns, lodge publicity chairman. "We have set a goal of 5,000 tickets for the event," he said.

Officers of the local fraternal and benevolent organization are Andrew Baker, governor; Fred Bass, junior governor; Ferrell Towns, presiding; Ken Mandruch, treasurer; Jack Keck, secretary; Frank Benneker, John Harris, and Harvey May, trustees; Dick Wright, sergeant-at-arms; and Bill Howard and Harry Strachey, guards.

In addition to Howard, other past governors include Towns T. Gay, Gilbert Holaday, and Ralph Matthews.

Intramural sports will soon begin under this quarter. The traditions will be continuing for the football teams, which won by the Goblins last year. This year should prove to be a most exciting year for the competitors. There’s always a lot of action and hard hitting when the boys meet on the field to decide a winner.

This year the girls will have their volleyball competition.

Limelites Blacklisted

(AFP) — The Limelites incident of 1963-64 continues to cast a shadow over Florida Southern College, Lakeland, Florida, notes the campus newspaper, THE SOUTHERN.

The Limelites were hired last March for a performance during Founders’ Week. In a letter written by a college vice president, the group was requested to present a high caliber program which would not be embarrassing to the school.

The Limeliters received half their fee before the performance and were to receive the balance during the intermission. However, because the program was found to be "offensive" to persons connected with the college, payment of the second check was stopped at the advice of the college attorneys.

Because of this, no group on campus can secure name entertainment for functions. In fact, one of the reasons for the postponement of Creek Week this semester was the inability to hire a band for a concert.

The college has acted for what it feels to be the overall good of the college. The result has been the punishment of the entire college, its fraternity system and its student government - by a mcol. They should realize that the college is attempting to defend our position as the paying public, be most exciting. Last year there were some sports by the PANTHERS and this provided a more exciting cheering section.
