Straw Ballot

By Disa Linton

Circle K, and The Hilltop News have announced that they will co-sponsor a straw ballot on the upcoming presidential election between Democratic Lyndon Johnson and Republican Barry Goldwater.

The ballot will be held on Monday, October 26th from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. The results will be printed in the October 27th edition of The Hilltop News.

This straw ballot will be operated in the same method used in campus elections. Members of the Student Christian Association will man the polls, which will be in the Student Center. These members will have no vote themselves but will register the voting of the students.

Commenting on the ballot, Circle K president, Hugh Cornett, has this to say: "As president of a Circle K chapter, I would like to urge each member of the student body to be represented in this straw ballot by voting his choice for the President of the U.S."

It is hoped that a large number of students will turn out to vote. The goal of the ballot can be considered a genuine sample.\n
The election is only open to students of LaGrange College.

Sen. Goldwater Arouses Spirit

Former Democratic Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina made a brief address at LaGrange College Thursday.

Thurmond told the group that he has never seen any candidate arouse the spirit of the people as Senator Goldwater has done.

The Republican Senator said, "By election day there is no doubt in my mind that Barry Goldwater will be elected."

Barfield Wins Frosh Prexy

I want to express my sincere gratitude to my fellow freshmen for allowing me to serve as freshman class president.

The Secretary’s position was won by Jackie Beasley. Also of Athens, Alabama, Planer Parker, another Athens student, captured the treasurer’s position.

The class voted in Dan Akerson of Kingsland, Georgia, for chaplain.

A Disseverse

Last Friday a United States Senator from the state of South Carolina visited the LC campus. Those individuals, Republicans and Democrats alike, who participated all considered it a complete success and a very memorable experience.

The Hilltop News feels that some 250 people turned out to hear Senator J. Strom Thurmond. Generally most classes on the hill were dismissed in time to hear this man. But it has come to the attention of this paper that a number of professors did not dismiss classes to hear Senator Thurmond.

The Hilltop News feels that there was no excuse for these instructors not dismissing their classes; unless these individual instructors simply did not want their students to hear this man because of their (the instructor’s) partisan opinions and this is certainly not a legitimate reason. And then again, these professors may not have realized the impact of this visit on the campus, which is unconceivable.

Whatever the reason these instructors had for not dismissing their classes, The Hilltop News feels they (the professors) did a great disservice to their students. For many people on this hill, this would have been the first time they had heard a U.S. Senator attending a political rally.

This paper feels that although this visit was of a purely political nature, each and every student should have been given the opportunity to see and hear Senator Thurmond. In not offering this opportunity to some students, these professors are guilty of removing one of the advantages of a liberal arts education, of that of hearing the message of a controversial national figure.

A Chance To Give

On Monday, October 25th the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on the LC campus. The Hilltop News takes this opportunity to urge each student to give blood. The returns on this investment are great.

Each time you give blood, you receive a card which entitles the holder and his immediate family to receive blood free for the next six months if the need arises. Without this card blood costs run as high as $35 a pint.

Last year LC donated 101 pints. This year lets hit a 150 and more.

Homecoming A Day to Remember

BY DEAN OKEY

Homecoming:

In less than two weeks this campus will experience the first in a series of recording talents that the National Recording Artist Roy Orbison and his Candy Man. Homecoming was decided upon to introduce this new endeavor as well as to give you, the student, a chance to attend a Homecoming.

THEMEN REMAIN ONLY 12 HOURS FOR TICKETS TO BE SOLD! Tickets are being sold from 10:00 till 1:00 on school days in the Student Center and at Manse's.

Now, I've got a couple and a $1.00 tag—there will be no tickets sold at the door. We solicit those of you who are planning to attend the Homecoming Dance but have not purchased a ticket to do so TODAY!

"Homecoming '64" is a day devoted to the students of LaGrange College. With your participation and enthusiasm this year's Homecoming, "Homecoming '64," will indeed be a day to remember.

Homecoming is not only a time to celebrate the institution of the university, but also a time to recognize the worth and potential of the individual.

For some reason, LC seems to want to be unique in this instance. Maybe it is a way of manifesting its concern for the student. No matter, the clocks are still all wrong.

This situation does present difficulties. It is serious to have to leave the Student Center at 1:00 and find that the clock on the third floor of Manse is not even on the same floor. The clock in the Student Center at 10:05 and arrives in class on the third floor of Manse at 10:00, as on the second floor at 20 after, or in the basement at 1:15. If you point out here, though, that the clock on the second floor is something as much as twelve hours off, I have found that I move from one building to the other that I can gain as much as twenty minutes. This is like living twenty extra minutes or saving twenty unnecessary minutes. In fact, it's almost like crossing the International Date Line.

But, seriously, wouldn't some individual in the administration take it upon himself and do something about this situation that is faintly reminiscent of the Walter Jenkins affair. This would appreciate it very much that the student body would appreciate it very much that the student body would.

This situation does present a problem. All of the clocks on this campus are not of the same make, and the clocks in this school all show different times. I hereby challenge anyone to examine the candidate, and we must reject him. In their hearts, the German people believed Hitler to be right, and history records what they have backed emotionalism did to a great country.

A Challenge

I hereby challenge anyone to say that there was not a better choice than Senator John L. Hill for the Nobel Peace Prize! Signed Jim Edge.

Student Body Praised

The Editor:

Please allow me the use of your column to express my sincere appreciation for the manner in which the student body of LaGrange College received the distinguished Senator from South Carolina on the campus Friday.

It was evident that a great deal of effort had been put forth by the students to make his visit a memorable one.

I appreciate, too, the show of force of those who repre- sented the student body to those who are seen in an unexpected manner. In fact, this is a challenge to the student body to receive our nation to Constitutional government. Opposition is always healthy. A working two-party system is extremely healthy. When it comes to opposition, there can only be dictatorship. We must not fear to oppose those in office when we feel they are wrong. God expects nothing less. May He deliver us from a system that would destroy individuality to any person.

Thank you for inviting Senator Thurmond to your campus and for the warm welcome that was given the young ladies and gentlemen who comprised your student body for the grand display of hospitality that was a part of his reception.

This situation expressed his appreciation for me to the students, enthusiasm and I commend all. We will be proud of us all.

Honors Program Involves Forty LC Freshmen
By Nancy Hammett

This year is our way of offering greater opportunities to some of the better qualified students. Dr. Louis Harwell, academic dean, made this statement concerning the freshman honors program.

The program is new, included under this special program are about forty of these freshmen. They were admitted to the honors group if they had high College Board scores in determining the good high school grades.

Under the direction of Dr. Frank McMillan, the honors program hopes to offer a special challenge to these students.

These students will be held through the regular College College testing week that is familiar to every LC student.

The honors program this year includes special class sections in English, history, math, and science.

"Best Yearbook Ever" was used by Johnathan Harris, President of LC's Alumni Club, when he said that the 1965 Quadrangle will be unlike any other yearbook that this school has ever produced.

In discussing the policy change in selling annuals, Johnson went on, "we hope to make this the best yearbook ever, and a few surprises," according to Johnson.

"As usual," Johnson went on, "we plan to sell annuals, and a few surprises," according to Johnson.

"The 1965 Quadrangle will have more old ideas, and a few new ones, and a few surprises," said Mickey Johnson, co-chairman of the Quadrangle, in a recent interview. "This year," Johnson went on, "we hope to make this the best yearbook ever, and a few surprises," according to Johnson.

Pi Delt Blanks Sigma Knights

By John L. Carter

Pi Delta won its second game last Tuesday with a 26-0 decisive win over Sigma Nu.

Larry Horton leads the offense with his powerful passing. He completed 18 of 30 passes for 260 yards and one touchdown. Horton scored four touchdowns on the day, including a two-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Matthews. The extra point was kicked by Randy Edgar.

In the first half, Pi Delta scored three touchdowns but missed two extra points. Horton passed 48 yards to Goodman for the first touchdown and Lord made the point after touchdown for a 7-0 lead.

In the second half, Pi Delta came on a nine-yard pass to Stevens and a two-yard pass to Goodman. This ended the first half with Pi Delta leading 19-0.

Sigma Nu had a good passing attack but Pi Delta's defense was just too much for them. The hard running of Lord, Whitman, and Austin confused Sigma Nu and, by doing so, kept them from scoring. Pi Delta made six interceptions, one each by Neal Lord and Richard Mendez and two by Chuck Stevens and Randy Edgar. Charles Corbett still leads interceptions with four. He caught against Gamma Phi in the opening game.

In the second half, Pi Delta scored on a five-yard run by Horton. The extra point was made by Lord.

Sigma Nu pressed Pi Delta several times but the Pi Delta defense was able to push them back.

The game that was rained out last Thursday between Sigma Nu and Gamma Phi will be played at the end of the regular season's play.

Volleyball competitions between sororities started yesterday evening. Alpha Kappa Theta and Alpha Phi opened the season. Wednesday evening at 5:45 Kappa Phi will take on the Freshman girls.

The LaGrange College Panthers are working out every afternoon. I have watched them two or three times and they are looking good. Watch the paper for more information on the Panthers.

The Men's Athletic Association has adapted flag football for fraternity games. The only trouble is there are no flags.

Randy Edgar, president of the MAA, said the flags have been ordered and should be here any day.

In general, the games will follow the same procedure. In place of tagging the ball carrier, the defense will have to pull off the flag.

When asked for an opinion about flag football, Chuck Norriss said, "It will increase the running game, and there will be no question about a player being tagged."

Jimmy Matthews had this to say about this new method, "There will be some higher scores. It will help frivolous football."

Everybody seems to like the idea of using flags. We only need the flags.

After the first round of play in football, the strong Pi Delta team holds first place. They have very decisive victories over both Gamma Phi and Sigma Nu. Gamma Phi beat Sigma Nu in the opening game and therefore holds second place. The scores were Sigma Nu 26 and Gamma Phi 14.
