Religion Week Begins Monday

BY NANCY HAMMETT

LaGrange College students will be able to attend a performance of the drama department's production of "Death of a Salesman." According to the LaGrange College drama department, "Death of a Salesman" by Arthur Miller is a play that "tells the story of a man and his family, trying to make sense of their lives, only to realize his mistakes, and consciously make it so. It is about the things that are important, which is what we ourselves must be able to witness a performance well worthy of watching, when the play opens on November 18." The production will be held in the LC stage Friday and Saturday evenings.

Despite the consolation of his wife, Willy Loman, the hopelessly disillusioned and frustrated salesman in Arthur Miller's modern tragedy, "Death of a Salesman." Billy Hearnburg of LaGrange has the starring role as Willy, while Nancy Osborne of Winder is cast as his wife, Linda. The drama will be performed on the LaGrange College stage by the Speech and Drama Department Friday and Saturday evenings.

Clocks: Credit Is Due

"Give credit where credit is due" the old adage says so to Mr. Kermit Fowler, Campus Engineer and to Mr. Modie Woodyard, his assistant we extend our compliments and thanks for correctly setting the clocks on campus.

Checking all of the clocks on campus, we found that all of them were showing the same time. Although the clocks being corrected will remove a student's excuse for being late for class, at least he'll definitely know he's late.

The Newcomb Faculty Show Opens In Art Gallery

Members of the Arts Students League were held at a reception held Sunday afternoon in the College Gallery. The reception marked the opening of the Newcomb Faculty Show in New Orleans. This exhibition, which will remain in the Gallery through November 28, includes 24 chairs, 50 prints and wash drawings.

Professor James McLean, head of the LC, Art Department, describes the show as one which "demonstrates the importance of drawing as a medium of expression rather than just a preliminary for the other media."

The Newcomb Art School is a department of Tulane University and is considered to be one of the most outstanding art schools in the South.

Dance Termed Very Successful by Committee

The Student Entertainment Committee reported to The Hilltop News last week that it considers the Homecoming Dance very successful a total success.

A unofficial count by the SEC showed that 953 people attended the dance, although many more remained in the UC. The committee said that apparently many ticket holders did not come to the dance.

The dance is also being considered a financial success as a profit of approximately $200 was made. Original plans called for the group to just break even on the event.

The SEC also reported to The Hilltop News that similar events are being planned for the future. The committee is also planning several smaller dances.

To plan for these future events, the committee has sent a letter to each student on the dance, asking each student to name the artists and the type of music the student body prefers. The response to the survey will give the committee assistance in obtaining artists for future events.

College News Briefs

From the Dean of Students' office, George Sullivan has warned LC students not to get involved in a chain letter scheme that features government savings bonds. Apparently this scheme is making the rounds again.

Dr. C. Lee Harwell, campus United Fund Chairman, has announced that the faculty, staff and other college employees for the first time in many years gave 100 per cent to the United Fund Campaign of LaGrange, Georgia.

The Scroll, the literary voice of the LaGrange campus, has undergone several changes since last year.

In the past each member of the Scroll had a specific job. There was an editor, an assistant editor, an art editor, and so forth.

Now, a new system has been established. An editorial board, composed of Bill Sewell, D. A. Johnston, and Glenn Hunter, is in charge.

Those students who are interested in being represented in the Scroll through works of writing, art, or photography should submit all material to a member of the editorial board. It must be in a neat form and submitted before the 23rd of November.

All material that is submitted will be reviewed by the editorial board. That material considered superior by the editorial board will be printed in the Scroll.

The editorial board invites everyone to enter his work. All work will be returned.

The first issue of the Scroll is to be distributed around Christmas free of charge to each student. Another issue is to be printed in the Spring.
