Johnny Tillotson, the Atlanta Tams Set For Quadrangle Dance
Tillotson Holds No. 11 Spot In Charts
The Tams Are No. 96 With Silly Little Girl

Johnny Tillotson, the Atlanta Tams, and the Martiniques will headline the first annual Quadrangle Ball at LaGrange College on February 6, 1965.

Tillotson, one of the top-singers in the country, has been contracted for the dance, according to the Student Entertainment Committee. The Tams, a rhythm and blues group from Atlanta, will also be in the show.

According to the SEC, tickets will go on sale for the February 6th dance starting January 46th. Prices will be $4.00 for couples and $2.00 for singles. Tickets will be on sale at the college and at Mansour's downtown.

Tillotson is known for his hits as "Gonna Build A Mountain," "Free and Easy," "Poetry in Motion," "This Back Troubling Life," and others. Newspaper reviews have called Tillotson "a clean-cut, articulate young man, who has an engaging personality and a fine voice." Said one columnist: "He has a smile that disarms everybody in the room."

The Atlanta Tams, a group whose fame has spread in recent months, are famous for their hit "Kind of Fool Do You Think I Am" and "Boy Girl, Don't Bother Me."

Currently the Tams have "Silly Little Girl" on the pop top 20 list.

The Martiniques, the band who will play following the Tams, are a show-band from Atlanta. The Martiniques have performed throughout the southeast, on college campuses and in night club contests, and have been formed a "smashing success."

The Martiniques have backed many performers on their shows around the country, including Johnny Tillotson.

The Student Entertainment Committee pointed out that this will be a show as well as a dance. Tickets are in limited supply, and the committee has urged students to get their tickets as soon as possible.

The Quadrangle Ball will be sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Student Entertainment Committee.

The Tams Are No. 96 With Silly Little Girl

Johnny Tillotson
Panthers Take On B'Southern Tonite

LaGrange College will try to regain its winning ways and send the B'Southern basketball schedule both Tuesday night when the Panthers host Birmingham-Southern and the following day in Macon despite a 39-point loss to Mercer University Saturday.

The Birmingham-Southern Panthers are expected to bring a much improved team to LaGrange Tuesday night. Last year in the first competition between the two schools LaGrange defeated the Birmingham players 85-71 and 90-67.

Corless' 29-point output Saturday was the second largest number of points scored against a four-year college by a LaGrange player. The record is held by Jerry Carom who scored 41 points against North Georgia College in 1961.

Corless, a 6-2 forward from North Carolina, S. C., also hit 19 out of 22 free throws to set new marks on both attempts and free throws made.

Friday Will Be Last Day To Buy Annual

Friday, December 11, will be the last day that a LaGrange College student can purchase his 1965 Quadrangle. "We have to know the number of covers to order, we must have the Student Entertainment Committee To Discuss 'Riot Rule' Again

Lowery Tillotson, president of the Student Government Association, told the Hilltop News last week that the so-called riot rule would come up again in the Legislative Council meeting Thursday night.

Tillotson said that he had discovered that there is no place to put this controversial rule in the SGA Constitutions so he is going to suggest to the Council that it be put into the rules section of the Student Handbook instead.

The controversy rule reads: "Any student who commits a breach of discipline and is found guilty of a breach of discipline will have his name removed from the list of students eligible to participate in any activity sponsored or financially assisted by the Student Government Association."

The Judicial Council has been observing the situation of the glasses is a direct result of the students not turning glasses over that are left on the tables of the glasses."

The Judicial Council has been observing the situation of the glasses being left on the tables of the glasses. The Judicial Council has been observing the situation of the glasses being left on the tables of the glasses. The Judicial Council has been observing the situation of the glasses being left on the tables of the glasses.

(Continued on Page 6)

The Judicial Council
LCChorus Will Present Chapel On Wednesday

The college choir will present a program of Christmas music tomorrow at Chapel at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Tomshay Kay, Dean of Chapel, reported to The Hilltop News that the program will offer both religious and secular music on the Christmas theme.

Taking part in the program will be the choir with Renee Crooks accompanying on the piano and at the organ will be Judy Whiting. Soliists for the program will be Kathryn Merri, Rosemary Neeley, John Ver- thorn, Pam McFarland, and Carol Chorley.

The men's Quartet and the Girls' Quartet will also appear.

Highlighting the performance will be selections from Hayden's Messiah including the well known Hallelujah Chorus.

(Judicial Council continues on Page 6)

Jim Evans, cafeteria manager, has a good excuse for not having enough cups available when the annuals are sold. "Representing Georgia's Oldest Independent Institution of Higher Learning"
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Professor Criticizes Use Of Story

Dear Editor:
I should like to comment upon the article in last week's Hilltop News, entitled "Jews Differ on Chapel Programs," as I am one of those individuals who feel that the article was not written with the utmost care and fairness. The article mentioned that there was opposition to the use of a particular story in the student newspaper, The Hilltop News. As I understand it, the story in question was intended to be presented in a respectful manner, and it was presented in such a manner.

I believe that the article was written in good faith, but it is important to note that in order for a story to be effective, it must be presented in a way that allows for open discussion and understanding. As such, I feel that the article did not fully capture the views of those who were opposed to the use of the story in the student newspaper.

In conclusion, I would like to emphasize the importance of presenting stories in a way that allows for open discussion and understanding. As a member of the student body, I believe that it is important for all students to be able to present their views in a respectful and constructive manner.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
Giant Choir To Present Handel’s Messiah Sunday

By Marilyn Clements
News Staff Writer

Sunday, December 13, at 3 p.m., the Callaway Auditorium will be the scene of over 400 voices singing Handel’s Messiah under the direction of Dr. John D. Anderson, head of LC’s Music Department. The giant choir will be composed of the college chorus, the high school chorus, and church choirs from LaGrange and the surrounding area.

Rotations for the event are: Jimmy Jackson, bass; Mr. Russell Everitt, baritone; Jane Yarbrough, soprano; Mr. Paul Doster, bass; Katherine Merritt, soprano; Pam McFarland, soprano; Carol Clyburn, soprano; and Sandra Smith, soprano. All of the soloists are students of the college except Mr. Russell Everitt, who is head director for Callaway Junior High and choir director for the First Methodist Church and Mr. Paul Doster, of the LC Music Department.

The choir will be accompanied by an orchestra. The wind players in the orchestra are made up for the most part by college students. Scarcity of string players in this area has caused the music department to seek string players from Auburn University to augment the orchestra. Some high school students also play in the orchestra.

In a recent interview, Dr. Anderson expressed his appreciation for each person participating in the production of Messiah. Participation is strictly voluntary except for a few string players who have their expenses paid.

Last year was the first time such a community effort was tried, and the main floor of the Callaway Auditorium could not seat the crowd. Even better attendance is expected this year.

Dr. Anderson stated that this year’s performance will be even better than last year’s and worthy of this type of support. There is no admission charge.

It has been announced by the dean of student’s office that Miss Haviland Houston of Emory School of Nursing will address the student body to speak to students interested in nursing.

Free Delivery to Dorm Anytime
Hugh Corless led the "Panthers" with 39 points, but could not get quite enough help to overcome the tall "Bears".

The first half was an exciting period. The Panthers match the Bears for basket for basket. Half way through the first period the score was 22-22. And at half the Bears led by one point 22-21.

LaGrange was hampered by fouls as Reome Myers fouled out by half-time, and Phillips had four fouls at half-time. Phillips, Lord, and Hugh Corless fouled out before the game ended.

At half-time the Panthers led the Bears in percentages. LaGrange had hit 50 percent of their field goal attempts and 60 percent of their free throws. Mercer only had 46 percent of their field goals.

When the second half began the Mercer "Bears" jumped out at the hands of a strong Mercer team, 90-82.

Pi Delt scored first when Phillips scored on a 2.0 lead.

Half way through the first period the score was 23-23. And at half the Bears led by one point 23-22.

Pi Delt scored first when Phillips scored on a 2.0 lead.

In the second half Pi Delt's scoring was hampered by the tall "Bears".

Pi Delt scored first when Phillips scored on a 2.0 lead.

In the second half Pi Delt's scoring was hampered by the tall "Bears".

Pi Delt scored first when Phillips scored on a 2.0 lead.