The Southeast corner view of the Henrys' future home, showing the privacy wall and the glassed-in library.

Henry's Residence Near Completion

BY CASSE HERNDON

The future home of President and Mrs. Henry is nearing completion. The house, built in the 1930's, was formerly the home of the late Raton Lovejoy, a prominent LaGrange attorney. It was purchased by President and Mrs. Henry, who are now undertaking remodeling under the direction of Daniel Lumber Company of LaGrange.

The interior decoration is under the direction of Fred R. McFaul, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms. The library will be done in the style of the period.

The following is a list of the rooms:

- Family room
- Living room
- Kitchen
- Dining room
- Sun room
- Bathroom
- Three bedrooms
- Basement

Many changes have been made in the original form of the house. The basement has been converted into a guest room with a service entrance to the outside wall of the house. A new restroom is also available for guests.

The kitchen, the dining room, the family room, which overlooks the kicthen, and the sun room will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.

College Receives Large Callaway Science Grant

The college's science laboratories, located in the Dobbs Building, were renovated and equipped by a grant of the Foundation in 1960.

An announcement from the LaGrange College officials, who are now working with the Fuller E. Callaway Foundation, said that the grant was approved by a recent meeting of the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

The college's science laboratories, which are now undergoing remodeling under the direction of Fred B. McFall, the George S. Richardson Company in Atlanta, who is also responsible for the design of the additional rooms, will be on the evening of March 27 at Atlanta area's bishop John Owen Smith.

Lantz, Jacobs, Take Top News Positions

The publication's staff has reorganized this week when John Lantz, formally business manager for the paper, was appointed editor following the resignation of Drusie Linton. The new editor, who was formerly the sports editor, will remain at the post so that both departments can be handled more efficiently.

Lantz also gave the names of Jim Cowan and Richard Schillin.
The student body and faculty of campus news. Being a member of society. Therefore, the editorial policy of the News is comment, praise or criticism of the events and happenings on campus.

The editors welcome any letters from students or faculty. A regular letters-to-the-editor column is provided. However, it is clearly the duty of an institution he's been exposed to depends largely on the individual. A good simile can be drawn because of economic limitations, LC will never be more than about one cent per larger than it is today. This is a vital consideration when the Hilltop News is the first to realize that the entire lot was put up for auction (proceeds of which went for South Hill's television). It's up to you, Check for those lost items, or buy them later at an auction.

Priority Says Do It In Callaway Auditorium

Our Spring play will be presented in the Callaway Memorial Auditorium because Dobb's facilities are inadequate. Both the stage and off-stage provisions are too small and pieces of equipment lay damaged or broken. I asked Dr. Henry why, in a liberal arts college, better drama facilities aren't provided.

The President explained that funds for such projects are limited and that, in doing out appropriations, school officials must observe a sort of lack of importance. In other words, a school must have classrooms, a library, dormitory rooms, and only then, a stage and auditorium. This is easy to understand, and the machinery of such a policy can readily be recognized on our campus.

Dr. Henry pointed out that our college's population is growing at the rate of about fifty a year. Where will this lead? Obviously the school must draw the line somewhere, and our saturation point, according to the president, is set at 750 students. This means that because of economic limitations, LC will never be more than about one cent per larger than it is today. This is a vital consideration when the Hilltop News is the first to realize that the entire lot was put up for auction (proceeds of which went for South Hill's television). It's up to you, Check for those lost items, or buy them later at an auction.

The Hilltop News is a student-published campus newspaper whose sole purpose is the informing of the student body and faculty of campus news. Being a student publication, the News is directed towards the center of reader interest, those events which are informative and interesting to the students.

The Hilltop News is the first to realize that everything is not like it should be at LaGrange College, both with students and faculty. The Editors feel that honest criticism many times will result in reform. Therefore, the editorial policy of the News is comment, praise or criticism of the events and happenings on campus.

THE EDITORS

This quarter, we've had our eyes and ears open to the casual, impromptu bits of conversation dotting the campus. This is the only way to know what attitudes and ideas really prevail among the student body. One of the most serious topics seems to be the pros and cons of "mandatory chapel attendance." Why, in a community built not only to educate academically, but also to nurture character and personality growth, is chapel attendance not made a choice of the student rather than the administration? We, frankly, were not too sure, but had very little difficulty finding someone with the answer. That very willing source of information was our college's president, Dr. Waights G. Henry.

Dr. Henry explained that, "The purpose of Chapel is to introduce students to religion as an organizing factor in life. A good simile can be drawn between mandatory chapel attendance and mandatory study. Why, in a community built not only to educate academically, but also to nurture character and personality growth, is chapel attendance not made a choice of the student rather than the administration? We, frankly, were not too sure, but had very little difficulty finding someone with the answer. That very willing source of information was our college's president, Dr. Waights G. Henry."

It seems that what a person does with what his contacts depends largely on the individual. A good simile can be drawn because of economic limitations, LC will never be more than about one cent per larger than it is today. This is a vital consideration when the Hilltop News is the first to realize that the entire lot was put up for auction (proceeds of which went for South Hill's television). It's up to you, Check for those lost items, or buy them later at an auction.

This quarter, we've had our eyes and ears open to the casual, impromptu bits of conversation dotting the campus. This is the only way to know what attitudes and ideas really prevail among the student body. One of the most serious topics seems to be the pros and cons of "mandatory chapel attendance." Why, in a community built not only to educate academically, but also to nurture character and personality growth, is chapel attendance not made a choice of the student rather than the administration? We, frankly, were not too sure, but had very little difficulty finding someone with the answer. That very willing source of information was our college's president, Dr. Waights G. Henry.

Dr. Henry explained that, "The purpose of Chapel is to introduce students to religion as an organizing factor in life. A good simile can be drawn between mandatory chapel attendance and mandatory study. Why, in a community built not only to educate academically, but also to nurture character and personality growth, is chapel attendance not made a choice of the student rather than the administration? We, frankly, were not too sure, but had very little difficulty finding someone with the answer. That very willing source of information was our college's president, Dr. Waights G. Henry."

It seems that what a person does with what his contacts depends largely on the individual. A good simile can be drawn because of economic limitations, LC will never be more than about one cent per larger than it is today. This is a vital consideration when the Hilltop News is the first to realize that the entire lot was put up for auction (proceeds of which went for South Hill's television). It's up to you, Check for those lost items, or buy them later at an auction.

The television camera seemed to share my thoughts. It took me to a hill in Arlington Cemetery, but it showed me, also, a flag still flying in the wind.
Senior's Practice Vocation

Seniors at LaGrange College are planning for careers in education are engaged in this quarter in student teaching. The men and women will be purchasing the volumes necessary to complete the college's file of The New York Times. The college's William and Evelyn Youngman will purchase the back files of The New York Times for the library. Mrs. Melson said that the funds are to be used to purchase the volumes necessary to complete the college's file of The New York Times index from 1911 to the present.

Two Service Recruiters To Visit Campus

The Department of the Air Force has announced that the Senior Class of 1965 will be assisting the Air Force Office Qualification Examiners in filling the Air Force Officer Qualification Exam (AQE). This exam will be given in Room 205 Mangel Hall beginning at 10:15 A.M. on the 10th of January 1965, according to MSGT John N. Grimes local representative of the program in secondary schools.

Dr. Sara M. Davis, associate professor of education, is coordinator of the elementary education program, which involves about half the participants. A major in elementary education was established here in 1962. This year, for the first time, 166 secondary education students are enrolled, and this number has increased to 224.

The Air Force Recruiter for the LaGrange area is MSGT John N. Grimes, who will be in Room 205 Manget Hall beginning December 20th to talk with male and female students and families interested in the AFROTC program.

Members of the Junior Class of 1965 will be assisting the Air Force Office Qualification Examiners in filling the Air Force Officer Qualification Exam (AQE). This exam will be given in Room 205 Mangel Hall beginning at 10:15 A.M. on the 10th of January 1965, according to MSGT John N. Grimes local representative of the program in secondary schools.

Dr. Sara M. Davis, associate professor of education, is coordinator of the elementary education program, which involves about half the participants. A major in elementary education was established here in 1962. This year, for the first time, 166 secondary education students are enrolled, and this number has increased to 224.

The Air Force Recruiter for the LaGrange area is MSGT John N. Grimes, who will be in Room 205 Manget Hall beginning December 20th to talk with male and female students and families interested in the AFROTC program.
Panthers Meet Rebels Saturday

The Valdosta State Rebels will invade the LC, gym. Let’s all give the Panthers that extra something and power on Valdosta. The team seems to be improving with each game. Its best game this season was against West Georgia. T. J. Thompson has really been at his best in the last few games, Hugh Corless continues good performance but has recently been in a scoring slump.” That is, if you consider over 19 points per game average as being a slump.” Hugh has broken the record for the most points scored by a LaGrange player. The previous holder of this distinction was Jerry Carden with 903 points during three years as a Panther, Hugh now has over 938 points. He will soon own all personal scoring records at LaGrange, if his present rate continues.

This Panther has about run out of things to say for now, so until next week, whatever you do – “be a good sport.”

The Valdosta State “Rebels” will be in LaGrange Saturday evening to play our “Panthers.” The Rebels, who are Atlantic conference champions, will be out to overcome the Panthers and reach for the conference title again. The Panthers will open all weapons to stop the Rebels.

Other games in the coming week are with Berry College in Rome Wednesday evening and Birmingham Southern in Alabama Monday evening.

Coach Colson of Valdosta thinks his Rebels are better than last year. His Rebels include Ledson Plant (6-4 center) with 14 point average); Mike Terry (6-4 forward) with 13.7 point average.

The past record with Valdosta stands a 15-7 with LaGrange leading. The last two years the Panthers have split with the Rebels. This game is important to both teams.

The Berry Violets are the tallest team in the conference. Examples of their height are these three starters Bob Rutron, 6-6; Dan Arp, 6-5, and Tim Whison, 6-5. Their high point man is Donnie Jenkins with a 14.2 point average.

Birmingham Southern will be after the LaGrange team because of the 67-62 defeat handed them by the LC men early in the season.

Intramural Basketball is in full swing for the 1965 season. All three fraternities are out to win and each has a good team. Pi Delta Kappa has jumped off to a lead with two wins, Gamma Phi Alpha has one win and one loss while Sigma Nu Pi has two losses. Tonight, Pi Delta will be going against Sigma Nu at 6:45 p.m.

Let me take this opportunity to congratulate all students who have been supporting the Panthers. Your loyalty and support mean much to the team. This week you have an opportunity to continue your strong support when the Panthers go to Berry, Wednesday, but especially Saturday evening when the Valdosta Rebels will invade the LC, gym. Let’s all give the Panthers that extra something and power on Valdosta. The team seems to be improving with each game. Its best game this season was against West Georgia. T. J. Thompson has really been at his best in the last few games, Hugh Corless continues good performance but has recently been in a scoring slump.” That is, if you consider over 19 points per game average as being a slump.” Hugh has broken the record for the most points scored by a LaGrange player. The previous holder of this distinction was Jerry Carden with 903 points during three years as a Panther, Hugh now has over 938 points. He will soon own all personal scoring records at LaGrange, if his present rate continues.

This Panther has about run out of things to say for now, so until next week, whatever you do – “be a good sport.”

The Valdosta State “Rebels” will be in LaGrange Saturday evening to play our “Panthers.” The Rebels, who are Atlantic conference champions, will be out to overcome the Panthers and reach for the conference title again. The Panthers will open all weapons to stop the Rebels.

Other games in the coming week are with Berry College in Rome Wednesday evening and Birmingham Southern in Alabama Monday evening.

Coach Colson of Valdosta thinks his Rebels are better than last year. His Rebels include Ledson Plant (6-4 center) with 14 point average); Mike Terry (6-4 forward) with 13.7 point average.

The past record with Valdosta stands a 15-7 with LaGrange leading. The last two years the Panthers have split with the Rebels. This game is important to both teams.

The Berry Violets are the tallest team in the conference. Examples of their height are these three starters Bob Rutron, 6-6; Dan Arp, 6-5, and Tim Whison, 6-5. Their high point man is Donnie Jenkins with a 14.2 point average.

Birmingham Southern will be after the LaGrange team because of the 67-62 defeat handed them by the LC men early in the season.

Intramural Basketball is in full swing for the 1965 season. All three fraternities are out to win and each has a good team. Pi Delta Kappa has jumped off to a lead with two wins, Gamma Phi Alpha has one win and one loss while Sigma Nu Pi has two losses. Tonight, Pi Delta will be going against Sigma Nu at 6:45 p.m.

Let me take this opportunity to congratulate all students who have been supporting the Panthers. Your loyalty and support mean much to the team. This week you have an opportunity to continue your strong support when the Panthers go to Berry, Wednesday, but especially Saturday evening when the Valdosta Rebels will invade the LC, gym. Let’s all give the Panthers that extra something and power on Valdosta. The team seems to be improving with each game. Its best game this season was against West Georgia. T. J. Thompson has really been at his best in the last few games, Hugh Corless continues good performance but has recently been in a scoring slump.” That is, if you consider over 19 points per game average as being a slump.” Hugh has broken the record for the most points scored by a LaGrange player. The previous holder of this distinction was Jerry Carden with 903 points during three years as a Panther, Hugh now has over 938 points. He will soon own all personal scoring records at LaGrange, if his present rate continues.

This Panther has about run out of things to say for now, so until next week, whatever you do – “be a good sport.”

The Valdosta State “Rebels” will be in LaGrange Saturday evening to play our “Panthers.” The Rebels, who are Atlantic conference champions, will be out to overcome the Panthers and reach for the conference title again. The Panthers will open all weapons to stop the Rebels.

Other games in the coming week are with Berry College in Rome Wednesday evening and Birmingham Southern in Alabama Monday evening.

Coach Colson of Valdosta thinks his Rebels are better than last year. His Rebels include Ledson Plant (6-4 center) with 14 point average); Mike Terry (6-4 forward) with 13.7 point average.

The past record with Valdosta stands a 15-7 with LaGrange leading. The last two years the Panthers have split with the Rebels. This game is important to both teams.

The Berry Violets are the tallest team in the conference. Examples of their height are these three starters Bob Rutron, 6-6; Dan Arp, 6-5, and Tim Whison, 6-5. Their high point man is Donnie Jenkins with a 14.2 point average.

Birmingham Southern will be after the LaGrange team because of the 67-62 defeat handed them by the LC men early in the season.

Intramural Basketball is in full swing for the 1965 season. All three fraternities are out to win and each has a good team. Pi Delta Kappa has jumped off to a lead with two wins, Gamma Phi Alpha has one win and one loss while Sigma Nu Pi has two losses. Tonight, Pi Delta will be going against Sigma Nu at 6:45 p.m.

Let me take this opportunity to congratulate all students who have been supporting the Panthers. Your loyalty and support mean much to the team. This week you have an opportunity to continue your strong support when the Panthers go to Berry, Wednesday, but especially Saturday evening when the Valdosta Rebels will invade the LC, gym. Let’s all give the Panthers that extra something and power on Valdosta. The team seems to be improving with each game. Its best game this season was against West Georgia. T. J. Thompson has really been at his best in the last few games, Hugh Corless continues good performance but has recently been in a scoring slump.” That is, if you consider over 19 points per game average as being a slump.” Hugh has broken the record for the most points scored by a LaGrange player. The previous holder of this distinction was Jerry Carden with 903 points during three years as a Panther, Hugh now has over 938 points. He will soon own all personal scoring records at LaGrange, if his present rate continues.

This Panther has about run out of things to say for now, so until next week, whatever you do – “be a good sport.”

The Valdosta State “Rebels” will be in LaGrange Saturday evening to play our “Panthers.” The Rebels, who are Atlantic conference champions, will be out to overcome the Panthers and reach for the conference title again. The Panthers will open all weapons to stop the Rebels.

Other games in the coming week are with Berry College in Rome Wednesday evening and Birmingham Southern in Alabama Monday evening.

Coach Colson of Valdosta thinks his Rebels are better than last year. His Rebels include Ledson Plant (6-4 center) with 14 point average); Mike Terry (6-4 forward) with 13.7 point average.

The past record with Valdosta stands a 15-7 with LaGrange leading. The last two years the Panthers have split with the Rebels. This game is important to both teams.

The Berry Violets are the tallest team in the conference. Examples of their height are these three starters Bob Rutron, 6-6; Dan Arp, 6-5, and Tim Whison, 6-5. Their high point man is Donnie Jenkins with a 14.2 point average.

Birmingham Southern will be after the LaGrange team because of the 67-62 defeat handed them by the LC men early in the season.