Top candidates heard at LaGrange College forum last Monday night

BY JOHN CLERK

Monday night live five of the six announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for the top two state offices were on campus. This political forum was sponsored by the Circle K Club at LaGrange College, Approximately 150 students, faculty and visitors attended to hear each candidate make a five minute summary of their platform, followed by questions and answer period. Questions were asked by a panel of representatives including two LC students, Rick Rahn of WLAG and John White of WTOP. Members of the audience were given a chance to write down any questions and submit them to the panel for asking.

Dr. Davis introduced the moderator, Judge Jackson of the LaGrange court, who presided and kept the time. The candidates were introduced in alphabetical order and allowed ten minutes for their speech.

W. W. Bedgood and Judge Al, Athens, a candidate for the office of Superior Court Judge, was the first to speak. Some of the proposals made by Mr. Bedgood included lowering the age for entrance into the vocational schools, reforming the prison system and alleged ten minutes for their speech.

The second to speak was Carroll Smith of Byrd who had a bill in the legislature which he would like to see passed.Contained in the bill would be a new school for the governor.

Dr. and Mrs. Waights G. Henry of Savannah, were a member of the program committee and the 1967-68 Sweetheart, Miss Peggy Bowers, announced candidates for the office of Governor and the Department of Labor, Mr. Bedgood said that the post of lieutenant governor be made available to fill in for the Governor. Dr. and Mrs. Waights G. Henry of Savannah, were introduced by Dr. and Mrs. Henry. Mr. Bedgood said that the post of lieutenant governor be made available to fill in for the Governor.

There is no need for a student to see the news to confirm the success of the Pi Delt Sweetheart Dance. The event proved to be one of the best dances of the year as students and alumni enjoyed the music of the Right Shadows. The impressive moment of the night was the crowning of the 1967-68 Sweetheart, Miss Peggy Bowers, Peggy, a junior business major from Doolow, Ga., began her reign Saturday night with a beautiful smile and the acceptance of the Sweetheart crown. The pi Delta pledge class and will be passed to the editors and business manager. No Quadrangle supplement will be published this year.

The pinkie power strikes fear in heart of certain member.

The press's power strikes fear in heart of certain member. In attempting to ascertain the reason for the delay, two members of the Publications Committee were quoted. Mr. Graysby Bradley, Chairman of the committee, told the HTN editor that the delay was due to the fact that the committee had to work out the financial arrangements for salaries to the editors and business manager. In regard to provisions statement by the Federal Government.

Mr. Alan Thomas told the HTN editor that the delay was due to the fact that there was only one application made for editor of the Quadrangle, and the committee did not want to make an appointment until after this year's yearbook was presented.

A few hours later Mr. Thomas told the HTN editor that the delay was due to the fact that there was only one application made for editor of the Quadrangle, and the committee did not want to make an appointment until after this year's yearbook was presented.

Because of the small number of applicants, there will not be a new Quadrangle supplement this year," said Dru Linton, Managing Editor of Quadrangle.

Linton said that there were only 150 supplements sold, and that at least 500 copies were necessary to pay for the publication.

"Those people who bought the supplement will be reimbursed tomorrow when the 1966 Quadrangle is distributed," according to Linton.

Linton said that the circulation of the supplement was only 150, not 500, as was necessary to pay for the printing.

According to Dr. Henry, thirty young people will make the trip, can't, can't on inside page

"Joy In The Morning" featured by Alice Turner

The FMA movie this week is "Joy In The Morning" starring Richard Chamberlain and Yvette Mimieux. It is the story of a young family with two children. She is a beautiful story of young love, starring two very beautiful people.

All action takes place at 7 p.m. Friday night in Mangel 101. Y'all come!
EDITORIALS

SNIFF, SNUFFLE

Traditionally, in the last issue, our outgoing editor leaves the college with a swag and image, but not this year. I have been a bitbetter and something special for this issue. There have been many positive things that have gone on here at LC, and I sincerely hope that next year will be even better.

As editor, I have been greatly impressed with one basic fact of life: It is impossible to please everyone. Some like all of the paper, others like some of the paper, and still others found absolutely nothing to like in the paper.

Because of the nature of the material printed this quarter, we did not write any modern day classics. While some may have felt that the INTN belonged in the garbage can, it was at least read before being disposed thereof.

People discuss the opinions reflected in this paper — as in the drama, in the classroom, at Qi linen Rhythm and elsewhere. Granted, we are always agreed with, but we were not.

There were many hours spent preparing these weekly papers. Fortunately, you staff did not insist on the hard work. But if I were to be honest, I sincerely hope that next year's edition will be better. I hope that next year will be a year of success for this newspaper.

There were even more hours spent answering the reigns to next year's editor. So, here we go.

There were many hours spent preparing these weekly papers. Fortunately, you staff did not insist on the hard work. But if I were to be honest, I sincerely hope that next year's edition will be better. I hope that next year will be a year of success for this newspaper.

There were many hours spent preparing these weekly papers. Fortunately, you staff did not insist on the hard work. But if I were to be honest, I sincerely hope that next year's edition will be better. I hope that next year will be a year of success for this newspaper.

There were many hours spent preparing these weekly papers. Fortunately, you staff did not insist on the hard work. But if I were to be honest, I sincerely hope that next year's edition will be better. I hope that next year will be a year of success for this newspaper.
GRAND OPENING
THURS.-FRI.-SAT.

SPECIAL DURING THE GRAND OPENING.

triple treat only
50¢

FREE COKES AND DOOR PRIZES ALL THREE DAYS

Home of the world's greatest hamburger—still only 15¢

People on the Go...Go Burger Chef

First, a lean, juicy hamburger cooked over open flames. Then a brimming bagful of crisp golden fries. Top it off with a rich, full-flavored milk shake. You've got a Triple Treat, a real appetite bargain!

CASH FOR BOOKS

BRING YOUR BOOKS TO THE BOOKSTORE ON MON. AND TUES., MAY 30 AND 31

We buy ALL books of value - whether used on this campus or not.

Will Be There to Buy All Books of Value