Cheryl Coggins, a brown-haired sophomore from Newnan, was crowned Homecoming Queen Saturday afternoon and reigns over the parade and other activities of the day, she was selected for the honor from 24 candidates representing campus organizations.

The Queen's maid of honor was Nancy Killman of Columbus. First runner-up was Pamela Talmage of Orlando, Fla.; second runner-up was Judith Walf of Jacksonville, Fla.; and third runner-up was Mary Anne Daniel of LaGrange.

Alumnae returned from such places as New York, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, and Florida, according to Mrs. Carolyn B. Barrows, LC Alumni Director.

Mrs. Barrows said, "This was the best-attended Homecoming, at least in recent years, and everyone seemed to have an enjoyable day."

Parade honors went to Sigma Nu Fraternity float for its boat. The theme was a pun on Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," but it featured a "Knight's Midsummer Dream" and included a white knight and a pretty girl (Susan Gallaway of Atlanta).

Student Homecoming chairman, Bill McCartney, announced the winners of the float competition at a dance Saturday night. Carl "Bucky" Lockman of LaGrange is president of Sigma Nu Fraternity, which received a trophy and a $50 cash prize from the alumni association.

All of those who enjoy first-rate theater will look forward with pleasure to the forthcoming production of the current season. During January, the ver- popular, "mister Roberts," will be featured; in February, Anouilh's "Becket," a fine play, made famous by the film version in which Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole were starred; and in the spring, a musical production not yet announced.

Lafayette is indeed fortunate to be given a series of stage productions as those being presented by the Speech and Drama Department, under the direction of Dr. Maxie Hatch.

The spontaneity of the production as a whole indicates that it was labor of love for all who participated, both on stage and behind the scenes. The various technical crews around the campus served a multitude of other individuals, supported well the work of the cast, thereby contributing much to the success of the production.

The LaGrange College Chorus will participate in the Vet- erans' Day Program which will take place Friday, November 11. The program will be on the city square and is sponsored by the Veterans' organizations of LaGrange.

General Paul S. Stone, Stone of Waycross, will be the featured speaker. General Stone is the recipient of many honors and awards for his military services.

Dear Hortense,

I am a female Kenmore wash-machine.

Must I always be separated from my beloved like Pyramis and Thisbe by an Impenetrable wall? Oftentimes during my wash-clean cycle, I ponder my fate. Will I never again feel my love's cool, white, enamel side next to mine?

Our cries ring out to each other in the dark hours of the night. They are echoed by two concerned friends. They use as their victims girls who usually mention a boy's name.
How can we let these boys know what we want fellowship but not through Cupid's arrows????

Victims of Circumstance,

Dear Victims,

Meet them in the locker room after the first homegame, like in locker 19 and whistle three times.

Dear Hortense,

There are fifteen of us LC girls in this room, and we all have the same problem. We cannot get a date for Homecoming. Why?—because all of the desirable LC coeds have up for the weekend. What are we supposed to do come Saturyday night???

Fifteen Steers

Dear Steers,

Since this column was started, I have received a number of letters in this effect. This number—884-9927—has had surprising results.

Dear Hortense,

The other night at a strip show I fell deeply in love with one of the stripers. I asked her for a date, but she told me that she was a career girl and only dated men who could help her career along. I know that deep down this girl really has something, but she has been led astray by unprincipled businessmen. Should I try to help, or do you think she is beyond repair?

Goggle-Eyed

Dear Goggle-Eyed,

I'm sure she has something,
but I'm not down deep inside.
The deadline for contributions for the fall quarter edition of THE SCROLL has been set. Anyone who wishes to submit anything must do so by November 28. Short stories, poems, prints, etc., are needed.

I'm sure she has something,
but I'm not down deep inside.

President Looks Forward To Career In Music

By Elizabeth Kendall

One of the well known members of our senior class here on LaGrange College campus is Pam McFarland from Deentur, Georgia. Pam is the president of Alpha Phi Beta sorority.
This is one of the activities which takes up the majority of her time. As result of being president of Alpha Phi, she is a member of the Panhellenic Council. Last year she lead the Alpha Phi's in step-singing which held each spring here at LaGrange. Pam's loyalty and love of Alpha Phi was obvious when she said, "If there's anything I love, it's my Alpha Phi friends." Pam likes to do "just about anything" but it is singing that she loves best. Among her many talents, playing the piano also ranks high on Pam's list of favored activities. Because of these two interests Pam is a music major. She is a member of MENC. Included in her plans for the future is to Teach music on the elementary school and private level. Pam's ambition in life is to sing professionally. She likes to sing in front of people because "I'm a ham." When the Drama Department put on "The Lily Bus-dy," Pam, then a sophomore, played part of "Olympa," a minor yet very important role.

Preview Game To Be Exciting
By Buddy Sullivan, Sports Editor
LaGrange College looks to a big rematch with Columbus College in the annual Panther Preview game tomorrow night, after losing the Bobcats in Columbus last Friday, 68-48. The Panthers also have a season-opener game slated tonight with Southern Union of Wadley, Alabama. All interested students are invited to attend.

The Panthers assumed an early lead which was steadily increased throughout the contest. A 28-point lead was attained before a cold shooting spell by LC enabled Columbus to close the gap somewhat. High-scoring Bill Goodman, eased by Gamma Phi, ran 12 and 11 counters respectively. The top three were backed up by Thompson, Steve Fry, and Big Jim with eight points each.

PI DELTS Win Fifth Straight Against Gamma Phi

Horton hit tackle Hinton for 35 yards to the Gator 25 to set up the first score. The payoff came on the next play as a 13-yard Horton-to-Goodman aerial.

Following a punt, Dick Lachter intercepted for Gamma Phi, returning to the Gator 33. James Browning threw three to the end-zone where Mike Skipper made the catch for the tying touchdown. Blake Clark opened the second half with an interception, but Dick Del was forced to punt. Browning hit Lacher for 35 yards and this, coupled with a pass interference penalty gave the Gators a brilliant opportunity on the Gator 1. However, a bad center snap prevented a touchdown.

Browne, Del't and Hinton scored, coupled with a pass interference penalty gave the Gators a brilliant opportunity on the Gator 1. However, a bad center snap prevented a touchdown.

Bill Hardy Makes Room for Larry Horton, Larry went on to score for Delta's second touchdown in the game.
