This forum is sponsored by a group of local citizens and LaGrange College. It's purpose is to assemble all interested people, especially college students, in order to discuss the pertinent facts about and viewpoints toward the Vietnam situation. It is intended to laberize the public on the different aspects of this war from several viewpoints. This committee does not represent any specific political opinions.

The speakers for Tuesday through Thursday are Dr. D. Weatherby, Dudley Weeks, and Dr. Mose Harvey respectively. All these speakers are the most knowledgeable in their fields in the United States today. They are non-political and willing, who are sure to relate to us the correct information possible. This committee does not represent any specific political opinions.

After each lecture there will be a question-and-answer period for all those interested in obtaining further information or details.

The cost of this forum which will be well over $2,000 has been contributed by LaGrange College and local businesses. All college students will be admitted free of charge.

This is to be one of the most significant events in LaGrange College, state and national television will cover the events that take place in this small southern town. Guests are expected from several surrounding states, as well as from other colleges. This is to be one of the most important events in the history of LaGrange College, and one of paramount importance to all of us.

VIETNAM FORUM OPENS TONIGHT

The Hilltop News

Modernization Through Liberalization

Vol. X

The Hilltop News, LaGrange College, LaGrange, Georgia, February 12, 1968

No. 4

Mr. and Miss LC

For 1968 Named

The Student Government President and a student actress have been named "Mr. and Miss LaGrange College for 1968."

The two seniors elected by the student body are Rosemary Neely of Pine Mountain, a mathematics education major, and William McCarty of Dallas, editor of the 1968 college yearbook. The Student Government Association said the two outstanding seniors were elected on the basis of their contributions to the college and their classes and will be featured in the next edition of the yearbook.

Eight other seniors and the two "most representative" freshmen were also elected and will be represented in the honors section of the yearbook.

The "outstanding" seniors are Jeffrey Apew of Atlanta, Pamela of Orlando, Fla.; Patricia H. Brown of Fairburn; Daniel Dawson of Columbus; Thomas Desouza of Raleigh; William Hardy Jr. of Tamps; Pat Holms of New Castle, Ky.; and Nancy Shropshire of Cartersville.

Two students, Judy King of Tamps and Randall Roy of Jackson, were named "most representative" of the freshman class.

"Miss LaGrange College" has starred in three annual musical productions at the college and has the lead in the upcoming production of "My Fair Lady." Miss Neely has also acted and worked with the technical crew of eight other productions and with the college's summer theatre at Callaway's "Theater Under the Stars." She is a student of the Georgia pageant, and in a member of the judicial council of the college Student Government.

Mr. LaGrange College," in the homecoming week in 1967, Miss Georgia paging, and in a member of the judicial council of the college student government.

About Those Profs....

By Linda Northcutt

Another new arrival to the "High" is Dr. George T. Anderson, who was added to the faculty at the beginning of last school year. A native of Colfax Park, Georgia, and previously on the faculty of North Georgia College, he joined the psychology department with the rank of associate professor. Actually, this is a homecoming for Dr. Anderson, for he attended LaGrange College as an undergraduate, having been graduated in 1959 with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology. Further studies include a Master of Science in experimental psychology (1963) and a Doctor of Philosophy in clinical psychology (1965). His father was a Research Professor at the University of Georgia, where from 1964 to 1966 he was a Research Assistant (Civil Defense Research).

Dr. Anderson is a member of several organizations in his field. These are the American Psychological Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Phi Chi Honorary Psychology Fraternity, and the Southeastern Psychological Association. In 1966 he presented a research paper on page 5.

Greek News

By Tom Conway

Following is a list of freshmen who accepted bids this quarter.

PI DELTA KAPPA: Sparky Walter, Doug White, Craig Shively, Bill Hendricks, Howard Smith, Sammy Lander, Larry Travas, Ronnie Allen, Lloyd Fox, Ronnie Allen, Lloyd Whitner, Pug Hitt, Charlie Stearns, Mike Savage, George Courtwright, Al Stroop, Chimney White, Bruce Brownlow, Charles Jenner, and Phil Wilson (affiliates)

KAPPA PHI DELTA: Cheryl Althas, Katelyn Ashby, Anne Marie, John McIntosh, Nancy Nigh, Susan Nolan, Linda Herbert, Rachel Rice, Penny Hansen, Conde Lyke, Karen Mansey, Carol Veague, Linda Davis, Janet Halt, Paul Nichols, Sally Walden, Karen Rose, Angela White, Debrae Cruze, Susan McNeely, Julie Cole, Brenda Holland, Lexi Carr, and Donna Murphy.

By Tom Conway

Sigmus Pi Fraternity: George Davis, John Hasbrouck, Fred B. Pitts, Arthur Clayton, and Jim Hudson.

Alpha Phi Beta: Donna Johns and Melissa Allen.

Avery Award Given

A large oil painting by a junior art student has won the top award in the annual LaGrange College student art exhibition.

John Old of Marietta won the freshman Avery Purchase Award for his work, "Death and Marriage of Two Irras." The juror was Jerry Beach of Columbus, an art instructor at the Columbus State College of Arts and Crafts, said the...
HILLTOP NEWS EDITORIALS

Alan Hamby, Editor
Clyde Smith, Business Manager

HILLTOP NEWS STAFF

Managing Editor: Oscar Humphrey
Sports Editor: Buddy Sullivan
Cartoonist: David Ather
Layout Editor: Tom Conway
Information Editor: Linda Northcutt
Exchange Program: Tom Conway, Gene Frame, Marc Chandler, Penny Hanson, Jim Mengoe

A student's responsibility to himself and his college consists of many different aspects. First, he should be mature enough to attend and use all academic and social resources. Second, he should conduct himself in such a way as to reflect credit upon himself and his institution. Third, he should be able to face his mistakes, be willing to make amends for them. Fourth, he should be willing to take an active part in the total make-up of his college, trying always to improve and modernize it. Many LaGrange students can qualify in some of these respects. The average student, who in all probability make up 95% of our student body, have little desire for these attitudes to be attributed to them. Such individuals are content to establish their own "little" world, never realizing that no matter what eminence they attain within their own cliques, they will never achieve any real importance in the world beyond.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

Hilltop News Speaks Out!

By Tom Conway

A revision of the LaGrange Student Government Association Constitution has been proposed for some time. During the latter part of last year a committee of students was formed to discuss the matter with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring into effect. The committee, in this last, the results of their work met with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring about a vote by the student body. However, the Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the changes proposed before they are asked to vote on them.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

Hilltop News Speaks Out!

By Tom Conway

A revision of the LaGrange Student Government Association Constitution has been proposed for some time. During the latter part of last year a committee of students was formed to discuss the matter with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring into effect. The committee, in this last, the results of their work met with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring about a vote by the student body. However, the Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the changes proposed before they are asked to vote on them.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

HILLTOP NEWS EDITORIALS

Alan Hamby, Editor
Clyde Smith, Business Manager

HILLTOP NEWS STAFF

Managing Editor: Oscar Humphrey
Sports Editor: Buddy Sullivan
Cartoonist: David Ather
Layout Editor: Tom Conway
Information Editor: Linda Northcutt
Exchange Program: Tom Conway, Gene Frame, Marc Chandler, Penny Hanson, Jim Mengoe

A student's responsibility to himself and his college consists of many different aspects. First, he should be mature enough to attend and use all academic and social resources. Second, he should conduct himself in such a way as to reflect credit upon himself and his institution. Third, he should be able to face his mistakes, be willing to make amends for them. Fourth, he should be willing to take an active part in the total make-up of his college, trying always to improve and modernize it. Many LaGrange students can qualify in some of these respects. The average student, who in all probability make up 95% of our student body, have little desire for these attitudes to be attributed to them. Such individuals are content to establish their own "little" world, never realizing that no matter what eminence they attain within their own cliques, they will never achieve any real importance in the world beyond.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

Hilltop News Speaks Out!

By Tom Conway

A revision of the LaGrange Student Government Association Constitution has been proposed for some time. During the latter part of last year a committee of students was formed to discuss the matter with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring into effect. The committee, in this last, the results of their work met with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring about a vote by the student body. However, the Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the changes proposed before they are asked to vote on them.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

HILLTOP NEWS EDITORIALS

Alan Hamby, Editor
Clyde Smith, Business Manager

HILLTOP NEWS STAFF

Managing Editor: Oscar Humphrey
Sports Editor: Buddy Sullivan
Cartoonist: David Ather
Layout Editor: Tom Conway
Information Editor: Linda Northcutt
Exchange Program: Tom Conway, Gene Frame, Marc Chandler, Penny Hanson, Jim Mengoe

A student's responsibility to himself and his college consists of many different aspects. First, he should be mature enough to attend and use all academic and social resources. Second, he should conduct himself in such a way as to reflect credit upon himself and his institution. Third, he should be able to face his mistakes, be willing to make amends for them. Fourth, he should be willing to take an active part in the total make-up of his college, trying always to improve and modernize it. Many LaGrange students can qualify in some of these respects. The average student, who in all probability make up 95% of our student body, have little desire for these attitudes to be attributed to them. Such individuals are content to establish their own "little" world, never realizing that no matter what eminence they attain within their own cliques, they will never achieve any real importance in the world beyond.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-

Hilltop News Speaks Out!

By Tom Conway

A revision of the LaGrange Student Government Association Constitution has been proposed for some time. During the latter part of last year a committee of students was formed to discuss the matter with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring into effect. The committee, in this last, the results of their work met with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee, and now only the approval of the faculty in order to bring about a vote by the student body. However, the Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the changes proposed before they are asked to vote on them.

The Hilltop News wants to bring out some of the more controversial changes to light. In a brief outline of pertinent sections of the proposed constitution, inquiries com-
Inexperienced hands.

The State Department has informed us that in the event of Mr. Dunlop's absence, an equally capable and well-informed speaker would be summoned to discuss his topic, "The Communist Menace?"

"Of paramount importance is the nature of communism and what communism is doing in our society. Is it to be protected or isolated?" This was the theme of a late edition of one of America's leading weekly news magazines. "Is it at all fair for a man who is supposedly one of America's leaders to challenge our society to pass such a value judgement? If you think so, consider the following:

Some two hundred years ago, several drunken colonists literally covered their German, Serbo-Croatian and Indonesian politics.

The nature of communism and what communism is doing in Southeast Asia will be the topic of Donald W. Weatherbee during the forthcoming series of lectures.

The South Carolina professor has been a visiting professor at universities in the Southeast.

He has also contributed to leading journals on international relations and South-Asian studies. From 1957 to 1961 he worked and traveled in Indonesia, as a member of the Inter-University Program on Asian Studies. During this time, he was acting director of the group.

A native of Maine, educated at Bates College where he graduated "magna cum laude" in 1954, Weatherbee did graduate study at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) in Washington, D.C.

Before joining the faculty at South Carolina, he was engaged in a program of research on Indonesian politics.

The nature of communism and what communism is doing in Southeast Asia will be the topic of Donald W. Weatherbee during the forthcoming series of lectures.

He has also contributed to leading journals on international relations and South-Asian studies. From 1957 to 1961 he worked and traveled in Indonesia, as a member of the Inter-University Program on Asian Studies. During this time, he was acting director of the group.

A native of Maine, educated at Bates College where he graduated "magna cum laude" in 1954, Weatherbee did graduate study at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) in Washington, D.C.

Before joining the faculty at South Carolina, he was engaged in a program of research on Indonesian politics.

The South Carolina professor has been a visiting professor at universities in the Southeast. He has also been a consultant to leading journals on international relations and South-Asian studies.

He is a consultant to the South Carolina State Department of Education.

Lecturer, author, professor, national studies association, consultant on world affairs—these are among the descriptions worn by Dudley L. Weeks.

Weeks, assistant director of the Center for the Study of Teaching about Peace and War, Detroit, Mich., will speak on "Vietnam Nationalism" on Wednesday, Feb. 14.

"Dudley Weeks is an amazing young man of outstanding intellectual and capabilities with the experiences to back up his successes," Flink's Choice Flowers for All Occasions

Choice Flowers for All Occasions

JUNGLE GARDENIA

"It is not the nature of the American way to be able to protect?" In such protest just the bit of action that we need, lest we become totally stagnant in our often-wasted at colleges and the nature of these questions, the answers would hopefully reflect that these people may not be heretics. Indeed, these may be the very people to whom we owe our current progress.

At any rate, let's not judge people by the way they dress, big or small, Ralby, let's look deeper and try to understand the common sentiment upon which they operate. Certainly, through such as means, one is able to uncover the "outer layer" of the movement—that faction which is merely parasitic for the purpose of identifying—and is rendered digressed. Let's over all our doubts and incalculable aspects of our protests lead us into the slavery that ultimately prevents us from struggling to find the truth behind their action.

THE HILLTOP NEWS, LaGrange College, LaGrange, Ga., February 12, 1968

HARVEY

DUNLOP

FOUR TOP MEN TO SPEAK

The woman who is supposedly one of America's leaders to challenge our society to pass such a value judgement? If you think so, consider the following:

Some two hundred years ago, several drunken colonists literally covered their German, Serbo-Croatian and Indonesian politics.

The nature of communism and what communism is doing in Southeast Asia will be the topic of Donald Weatherbee during the forthcoming series of lectures.

He has also contributed to leading journals on international relations and South-Asian studies. From 1957 to 1961 he worked and traveled in Indonesia, as a member of the Inter-University Program on Asian Studies. During this time, he was acting director of the group.

A native of Maine, educated at Bates College where he graduated "magna cum laude" in 1954, Weatherbee did graduate study at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) in Washington, D.C.

Before joining the faculty at South Carolina, he was engaged in a program of research on Indonesian politics.
Continued From Page 3

FOUR TOP MEN

statements," Dr. William W. Fricke, a member of the LC Faculty and Chairman of the Forum's Steering Committee, said. "We and the other forum speakers are among the best qualified individuals on their respective topics to be found in America."

A leading teacher and consultant on international cultures, world affairs, and the teaching of peace concepts, Weeks also is Director of the World We Share International Cultural Program (WWS). These responsibilities are in addition to his serving as assistant director of the Center for the Teaching about Peace and War, a part of Wayne State University in Detroit.

Weeks' activities range over the globe. He is a professor and curriculum coordinator for the Africa Institute of Languages in Greece. He is scheduled to be the U.S. representative to an international education conference in Europe, his experiences have included the organizing of schools in two countries, correction of public health problems in Asia and the Middle East, the teaching of vegetable farming in the rural areas of Malaysia, and the teaching of political sciences in both Greece and America.

In addition to lecturing at more than 200 American Universities, colleges and high schools in more than 50 states, Weeks has written extensively of Orange Crush. Watch out, Senator Everette Dirksen in America."

Fuzzy Wuzzy hadn't reached the FBI yet.

Fuzzy Wuzzy was a bear.

A lecturer, teacher and consultant on international cultures, world affairs, and the teaching of peace concepts, Weeks also is Director of the World We Share International Cultural Program (WWS). These responsibilities are in addition to his serving as assistant director of the Center for the Teaching about Peace and War, a part of Wayne State University in Detroit.

Weeks' activities range over the globe. He is a professor and curriculum coordinator for the Africa Institute of Languages in Greece. He is scheduled to be the U.S. representative to an international education conference in Europe, his experiences have included the organizing of schools in two countries, correction of public health problems in Asia and the Middle East, the teaching of vegetable farming in the rural areas of Malaysia, and the teaching of political sciences in both Greece and America.

In addition to lecturing at more than 200 American Universities, colleges and high schools in more than 50 states, Weeks has written extensively of Orange Crush. Watch out, Senator Everette Dirksen in America."

Fuzzy Wuzzy wasn't even around when he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.

When asked about future plans, Omar expressed a desire to continue in school as a pre-doctoral dental candidate, but added that graduation seems a little more than two dollar bills.

Consequently, he may seek employment in private practice with the intention of entering Special Investigations, or he may return to his native Pensacola, Fla., for flight training with the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Omar Humphrey"

This week, the BFN honors a transfer member of the senior class from Dothan, Alabama, Omar Humphrey. Before attending LaGrange, Omar had a job as a student at both Furman University and the Dothan Center of the University of Alabama. While at Furman, he was a halfback on the freshman football team and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social fraternity. As a hobby, Omar claims a most unusual endeavor. At this time he is fully qualified to interested in sandal diving techniques and safety. During the summer of his freshman year, he worked with an oceanographic institute in Cape Cod, Mass., performing salvage and exploratory work.

While at LaGrange, Omar has maintained the high GPA grade point average with which he came last summer. In addition to this, he is a member of the Circle K, the student affiliate of the BFN, and is soon to become a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) national social sciences honor society. His major is Social Studies.
Middle East Tour
of McCook Takes Trip

BY LINDA NORTHCUTT

Some college students and public school teachers spend the summer months traveling; others combine their studies during June and July. But a group of students from LaGrange College and other institutions of higher learning interested in certificate renewal plans to combine study with travel this summer.

They are enrolled in the LC Study-Tour Seminar which is scheduled to visit the Holy Land. A rangled by the College’s Department of Religion, seminars are being finalized for the seminar during the month of February. However, one need not enroll for credit in order to participate in the seminar, according to Dr. C. F. McCook, department head and seminar director.

Dr. McCook said, “In addition to the student section of the seminar, there may be an adult section for those who do not desire course credit. It is designed for people who want to really learn more about the Holy Land than they would on a mere sightseeing trip.”

“Students and adults in the seminar will have exceptional opportunities for relating biblical history and heritage to the areas where it originated,” Dr. McCook said. “They should gain an appreciation of their biblical heritage not afforded the average individual traveling to the Holy Land.”

The study-travel seminar, a recent innovation in the LC curriculum, will be going to Israel for the first time. Last year the first seminar consisting of 17 members toured historic church sites throughout Europe.

This summer’s seminar itinerary includes Tel Aviv, Jaffa, Gaza, Hebron, Jericho, Bethlehem, Jerusalem (“New” and “Old” cities), Nazareth, Capernaum, Caesarea, and other Israeli cities.

Because of their relation to biblical history, the cities of Corinth and Athens, Greece, and Rome and The Vatican, Italy, will be visited also, Dr. McCook said.

Prior to their departure the seminar participants will engage in a week of intensive study and lecture in biblical archaeology, history, and literature.

Compliments of

THE CITIZENS & SOUTHERN BANK
OF LaGRANGE

156 Main Street

WEnt sparkling refreshment?
Call for Coke!

GORKERSON CLEANERS
PROMPT PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
Deluxe Window Cleaning and Laundry Service
Phone 884-4665
211 GREENVILLE STREET

Dow Jones
BY JIM MENGES

This month’s food special at the local cafeteria seems to consist of an overrated product for which the students rapidly seem to be acquiring a taste.

How many days a week can a human being’s system tolerate chili in its many amusing forms which the kitchen keep inventing daily? Thus far the crazed students have come up with an assortment of edible foods which were made inedible by a simple application of that world famous ingredient -- chili sauce.

Chili with rice, noodles, spaghetti, in a bowl, on hamburgers, and on hotdogs are not uncommon treats that greet the students of LC daily as they make their unwilling pilgrimages to the cafeteria.

The question is, why? First of all, why does the management permit uneatable meals to be served and over again? An allocation of 49¢ is made for each serving.

Continued on Page 8
Continued from Page 5

Loewe from Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion. With Shaw's inherent interest in dialect and phonetics, it was inevitable that he would write a play based on the lives of Eliza and Themes of Pygmalion.

According to Kenneth Pearson, Shaw's Pygmalion... is a piece of apparatus used to do the job... In 1951 Pygmalion was Gabriel Pascal. In 1954, Shaw approached Noel Coward, Pierce, Porter, Rogers and Hammerstein. The show was then known, and to outdo Pygmalion, Lerner and Loewe rewrote the musical three times. Although more than 30 musical items were originally written for the show, only fifteen were used in the production.

Pygmalion serves as an axis formed by the characters of Eliza and Professor Higgins. Eliza, with her new personality, the result of a scientific experiment, is the center of the musical's fulminating performance at the Strand and, as Higgins' subsequent winning of this wager with Colonel Pickering, she becomes more aware of her surroundings, where she found them, giving her a better understanding of a Spanish philosophy coupled with a modern meaning.

As a social document, the play demonstrates a society that is profit-wise, money-wise, or the lack of it, to degrade or elevate human beings without regard for their intrinsic worth. Shaw tells us that class-distinctionlessness are un- civetlized, the worst manners spring from class-consciousness, and class-consciousness from difference in pronunciation and accent.

The originator of the dream of the musical version of Shaw's Pygmalion was Gabriel Pascal. In 1951 Pascal approached Noel Coward, Cole Porter, and Rogers and Hammerstein about the adaptation. In 1952, Shaw wrote to Alice Jay Lerner, who, after discussing the proposal with Frederick Loewe, decided to do the adaptation upon returning to New York in May. After working for three months, Lerner and Loewe abandoned work, "I wasn't that we felt it couldn't be done," Lerner said later. "I was more that we didn't know how to do it." In July of 1954, remodeled Pygmalion by the death of Gabriel Pascal, Lerner and Loewe hilt upon a way to adapt the play. The first thing Lerner did was to ask Herman Levin to produce the musical. Levin accepted and started to negotiate with the Gabriel Pascal estate for the rights to the musical.

By February 1955, Lerner and Loewe had written seven songs for My Fair Lady, as the show was then known, and an outline of the script. With these they flew to London with Lerner to try to convince Sir Lammers to play the part of Henry Higgins. Pamela Harrington's verdict they approached Noel Coward, and Cyril Hitchard, and arranged over the possibilities of John Gregiel, Michael Redgrave, George Sanders, and Trevor Howard. Finally on March 30, 1955, Rex Harrison agreed to play the part.

Before they departed for London, the trio had already dis- cussed with John Holliday and Dulores Gray about the part of Eliza. When they heard that Mary Martin might be inter- ested in the part, all other possibilities faded into the background. But after Miss Martin heard five songs from the musical she didn't want the part. She insisted all over! Fred, only twenty- five, then starting in The Boy Friend, was signed to play the part in April 1955. In mid-June, Moss Hart agreed to stage the show after hearing "Why Can't the English?"

During the writing of My Fair Lady, Lerner and Loewe wrote the musical three times. Although more than 30 musical items were originally written for the play, only fifteen were used in the production.

My Fair Lady opened in New York on Thursday, March 15, 1956, proving to be the most successful production produced, it finally closed on September 29, 1956 after 3,717 performances. My Fair Lady for the first time, James Thur- ber wrote: "Can it still be heard pro- claiming on the street corners that My Fair Lady has restored perception and grace.*

Viewpoint

Continued from Page 2

A Historical Fiction

On January 3, 1966, the day before registration, a biological warfare agent from the local chapter of the U.S. B. (United social sex revolution) signed into law in the U.S.

The next day most of the LaGrange College students arrived on campus with a sound body, if not a sound mind, unaware that within the next week most of us would be bed- ridden with the disease, which the U. S. B. agent had planned at all campus.

Days of students, their bodies crippled with pain, checked into the infirmary, while loud shouts of “Palm!” arose from the faculty.

Meanwhile, our capable counter—intelligence agent, headed by one of our deans and the Flying Nun, discovered the foreign agent and con- sommate to run him out of Geor- gia.

Within fifteen minutes the enemy agent was driving out of LaGrange, laughing into his beer can, while the Flying Nun, who was hysterical with di- sappointment, ran madly after him, screaming, “Klick him out, klick him out!”

This whole mad scene was covered up by the “LaGrange Daily” as a wild fit epidemic.

Visit our new "VILLAGE SHOP"

Now Open

Broad St. or Parking Lot

Entrances

Spring goes to a VILLAGE® collector's head (and every place else with shoes and lingerie end)

Village Shops

Mansour’s VILLAGE SHOP

An Equal Opportunity Employer

The S.S. Kresge Company is the lastest growing major retailer in the world.

The S.S. Kresge Company has over 1,930 stores located in the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

The S.S. Kresge Company tripled its sales in the last 9 years and has doubled its sales in the last 3 years. ($1,090,000,000—1966)

The S.S. Kresge Company has opened over 1,126 K mart Discount Department Stores since March of 1962.

This means Challenge! Opportunity! and Fulfillment!

Store Management and Executive Positions reached in RECORD TIME!

EXECUTIVE TRAINEES

Careers Opportunity?? UNLIMITED!!

PROSPECTIVE GRADUATES

Did You Know...

The S.S. Kresge Company is the fastest growing major retailer in the world.

The S.S. Kresge Company has over 1,930 stores located in the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

The S.S. Kresge Company tripled its sales in the last 9 years and has doubled its sales in the last 3 years. ($1,090,000,000—1966)

The S.S. Kresge Company has opened over 1,126 K mart Discount Department Stores since March of 1962.

This means Challenge! Opportunity! and Fulfillment!

Store Management and Executive Positions reached in RECORD TIME!

—WRITE TO—

J. R. Lynch

S.S. Kresge Company

2381 Piedmont Road, N. E.

Address

City Atlanta State Georgia 30324 Zip Code

KRESGE * JUPITER

Divisions of the S.S. Kresge Company

Mansouri's VILLAGE SHOP
PREVIEWS AND REVIEWS

BY BUDDY SULLIVAN, Sports Editor

The streaking LC Panthers are heading toward the finest season in the history of the college, with three games left to be played on the regular season schedule; they are at the same time presenting Coach Al Mariotti with his most rewarding season since assuming the head coaching duties in 1962. The Panthers have upcoming games with Berry, Piedmont, and Georgia southwestern the Piedmont affair being the last home encounter of the season. As recents go, LaGrange is currently rolling along at 16-4, not counting a Saturday game at Valdosta State. The previous high for number of victories in a single season is 15, posted back in 1946. That team lost twice games, so this year's edition of the Panthers definitely have their sights set on breaking that mark.

The last home game this Saturday with Piedmont should be a good one. The Lions, coming out of a dormant period in the round ball sport, have one of their best teams this year and have surprising several upsets over the season.

Last year Piedmont failed to win a single game, but already this year the Lions have knocked second place Berry and have rolled up impressive scores on other opponents. Columbus College was cruised by a 56-point margin and the Lions have gone over the 100-mark several times this season.

In an earlier game played before the Christmas holidays, LaGrange downed Piedmont by an 80-78 count at Decatur. Piedmont currently has a fall record for the season and stands in fifth place in the GIC with a 4-6 mark.

Since a 58-77 overtime loss to Berry on January 26th, LaGrange has come on to win four of its last five games, all by impressive margins.

In Savannah, the Panthers gained a measure of revenge over Armstrong State, rolling over the Pirates 87-70. LC was in control throughout the game and Coach Mariotti expressed a great deal of pleasure over the outcome, stating that it was one of the best efforts the Panthers have made this season.

Returning home on January 30th, LaGrange routed West Georgia by a 68-49 margin after a slow first half. However, the second twenty minutes were an entirely different story as Continued on Page 8

---

RUMINATIONS

Several high school basketball teams will invade the LC campus this week, as the sub-region 3-4 Tournament will be held Tuesday through Friday in the Panther gymnasium. The tourney is a single elimination affair to determine state tournament berth for any of those who might be in the least interested, the Macon TV GHSL WAVE will participate.

There appears no stopping the Valdosta State Rebels this season in the Georgia Intercollegiate Conference race. The Rebels are definitely the class of the league and should represent our state in the national championships at Kansas City very favorably.

LaGrange College can consider itself somewhat, for the Panthers thus far this season have won more games than any team in the league, with 16 victories locked away and only three games remaining on the schedule.

Saturday's home game with Piedmont will be the last local appearance for four LC seniors in their career. The absences of Tom Duckett, Earl Holmes, Neal Chancey and Steve Gandars will certainly be felt next year.

Surely Smith, a standout forward on the Gamma Phi intramural team now has someone to carry on the sports tradition in his family. Chris gave birth to a 7 1/2 pound boy last Saturday, February 3.

Some comments have been floating around campus concerning the presence of students on the faculty basketball team. This corner has seen only one such player, and has to be given a certain amount of leeway, in view of students teaching job last quarter. So why all the fuss?

Hilltop News Sports acknowledges the fine effort on the part of the Circle K Club of LaGrange College in providing the concession facilities at LC home games, someone has to do it and I can't think of a better group to handle the responsibilities involved here. With all the snow and ice around us lately, it seems of little to talk about sports, but LaGrange College expects to field a team next quarter and possibly track and field outfits.

FOT SHOT

Mike Zimmerman got a "snowball" against Sigma Nu last week.

Bill Wilson has decided to enter the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France in the ski competition.

Neal Chancey finally got into a ball game the other night against Shorter. He got six points, too.

Yours truly will be glad to see the basketball season and this year, after covering a total of 35 games and logging over a thousand miles on the road thus far in 1967-68.

---

Intramural

The standings in LC's Intramural basketball became much clearer after the season cleared from several big games last weekend.

Laser Adams' Independents emerged as the team to beat, posting wins over Sigma Nu, Pi Delt and Gamma Phi, as the Bellas are in quest of their second straight Intramural basketball title.

Pi Delt entrenched itself in second place by rolling over Sigma Nu, while Gamma Phi came up with a win over the Faculty.

The Independents scored the surprise this far for this season, rolling over Pi Delt by a 33-31 margin behind the hot hand of their student teaching job last quarter, so why all the fuss?

Hilltop News Sports acknowledges the fine effort on the part of the Circle K Club of LaGrange College in providing the concession facilities at LC home games, someone has to do it and I can't think of a better group to handle the responsibilities involved here. With all the snow and ice around us lately, it seems of place to talk about sports, but LaGrange College expects to field a team next quarter and possibly track and field outfits.

---

NOTICE

LaGrange is currently rolling along at 16-4, not counting a Saturday game at Valdosta State. The previous high for number of victories in a single season is 15, posted back in 1946. That team lost twice games, so this year's edition of the Panthers definitely have their sights set on breaking that mark.

The last home game this Saturday with Piedmont should be a good one. The Lions, coming out of a dormant period in the round ball sport, have one of their best teams this year and have surprising several upsets over the season.

Last year Piedmont failed to win a single game, but already this year the Lions have knocked second place Berry and have rolled up impressive scores on other opponents. Columbus College was cruised by a 56-point margin and the Lions have gone over the 100-mark several times this season.

In an earlier game played before the Christmas holidays, LaGrange downed Piedmont by an 80-78 count at Decatur. Piedmont currently has a fall record for the season and stands in fifth place in the GIC with a 4-6 mark.

Since a 58-77 overtime loss to Berry on January 26th, LaGrange has come on to win four of its last five games, all by impressive margins.

In Savannah, the Panthers gained a measure of revenge over Armstrong State, rolling over the Pirates 87-70. LC was in control throughout the game and Coach Mariotti expressed a great deal of pleasure over the outcome, stating that it was one of the best efforts the Panthers have made this season.

Returning home on January 30th, LaGrange routed West Georgia by a 68-49 margin after a slow first half. However, the second twenty minutes were an entirely different story as Continued on Page 8
Student Poll

QUESTION: What is your opinion about the Vietnam War, and do you think the Forum is getting enough attention?

BY JANKIE KLEORE

Pat Macias - I wish that they would get the Vietnam War over with, I think the Forum is one of the best things they have come up with, because there are many people who are doing a lot of talking, but they really don't show us what they are talking about. The Forum would give everyone a chance to learn, and that includes me.

Jim Menge - About Vietnam, the general public is uninformed. The Forum is a good opportunity to give the people a better understanding of what is taking place.

Carolyn Mitchell - I really can't say anything about Vietnam because there is so much information we get from the news that seems so untrue. There seems to be so much propaganda spreading around. The Forum is a good idea. It would be awfully smart for everybody to go, especially the boys, and the war comes directly through us also. If we were to go out in war again, girls and women would have to participate even more.

James Browning - I'm sorry we are over in Vietnam, but since we are as we are we might just as well stay and finish it. The Forum is a good idea, but the biggest problem is to get the students to respond. From some reports it only has a small number of students present at the meetings.

LC College students generally - We don't know much about Vietnam. Fighting over there is a waste of time, Vietnam is not our responsibility. What is a Forum? Did you say "Forum" or "normal"?

Sullivan

Continued from Page 7

the Panthera stole the ball on numerous occasions, converting most of the steals into easy layups.

Two days later, LaGrange scored a heart-stopping victory over a fired-up band of Georgia Southwestern Hurricanes who breezed in with visions of springing an upset over the second place Panthers.

LC was in control throughout most of the contest, but GWU came back to even things midway the second half and turned the game into perhaps the most thrilling of the season.

In the last seven minutes of play the Jags swapped hands 12 times and was tied on eight occasions. Behind 76-75, Spurky Whitmer popped in a 15-foot jumper and shot the free-throw line with a mere two seconds left on the clock to give the Panthers a 77-75 win. Karl Haafke drilled in 23 points to lead all scorers in the contest.

The Panthers scored a hard job in the game, however, when starter and leader Ted DeBirk sustained a knee injury and was forced to sit out the next three outings.

Powerful Valdosta State moved in Saturday and left little doubt as to whether it deserved top ranking in the conference, stopping LaGrange by a 55-46 margin. Whitmer, filling in for the injured DeBirk, led his team with a 16-point output and was one of the best all-around players for the Panthers this year.

Finally, last Wednesday, LC routed Shorter for the second time this season, rolling up its 16th win and scoring its second highest point total of the season in a 97-73 decision over the visiting Hawks.

The Panthers were in control all the way and were never threatened after the first seven minutes of play. LaGrange rolled up a big 30-point lead midway of the second half and coasted in for the victory behind a fine effort posted by the Panther aces. Larry Adams led the way with 23 points with Earl Holmes chipping in with 19. Carl Trapp took it from there.

The comedy itself was written by Mallory in 1664, and premiered in 1665. To date, it has been one of the most popular comedies of the French stage.

The performance will be for one night only, and tickets will go on sale at LC's Department Store for $3.50 and also through the Language Department of LaGrange College.