AN INDEPENDENT VIEW

By Charles Alvord

The Hilltop news, which is one being published on a weakly basis, as some interesting and important information contained within its pages is the most important and interesting information to the total student body is not in this paper. This is not necessarily the fault of our editor but probably the responsibility lies in the hands of those who fail to see the importance of having the information distributed to all students.

A good example of the inefficient communication on campus are the numerous special announcements sheets that we have to daily clean from our campus mail boxes. Other very important information is placed among the helter-skelter confusion of numerous bulletin boards located on the campuses of which are kept in an improper order and usually contain outdated information. Will the day ever come when I can let my fingers do the walking through the HTN? If you do not happen to take your meals in the dining hall, you are not even considered as needing to know such information as the outcome of the recent special election. Our SGA, which supposedly represents the total student body of the campus, never sees fit to announce its meetings in advanced in the HTN or does it see any need to inform the total student body of any business that it has conducted?

How many of you have ever seen a budget published letting you know how your student activity funds are being spent? School has never been in session for over two months as I am writing this article (September 23rd) and I understand that the most current budgets of several of the campus organizations have not been received but that the General Fund itself lingers in despair, not knowing if the student activity funds will be a propitious so to speak for our “hew yearbook.”

Ed., how about letting all the students know what’s going on in the meetings and publishing in the HTN a completed budget giving the amount of money received by the SGA in student activity funds and how they are to be disbursed? Dean Love, would it be possible to have the campus calendar and all announcements that are made in the dining hall printed in the HTN? If there is to be a HTN, let it be used efficiently and productively.

This is not the only place where school has begun. I received a letter last week from an old girl friend of mine. Some of you may remember Tilly from her short stay here at LaGrange last year. I thought you might enjoy my sharing her letter with you. She writes, “Dear Gene, I sure do miss being with you at your excellent school. You just would not believe some of the things that go on here at Placebo University. This week all the students here at dear old P.U. were herded down into a nearby barn at the bottom of the hill to hear some guy read us his old tattered and torn speech titled, “Generation Gap, No. 47.” It turned out to be a rehash of high school social science. I guess he was invited because he was some kind of big shot. Thank goodness, we had someone there to explain to us how important it was or I would have been rather bored with his marathon monolog. When I remember all those great speechs we ever had last year at dear old LC, I could almost cry. At least here at P.U. they have great faith in the integrity of the students. Just to prove it, they play this cute little game with cards that change color every time we have to go to Assembly. They tell us this has something to do with the fact we’re all grown up now but I still haven’t quite figured out the connection. I know we are grown up, but I begin to wonder about them. But then, maybe it’s easier to hate that than the kind of programs that you don’t have to force people to do. I think that’s a bad sentence, but its no worse than some of the programs. Well, I have to go now. I don’t want to miss one of the biggest events in several years. They are going to let the students inside the Chapel this morning. Maybe if lots of folk go to a voluntary assembly the other folks might get the message. If I try to write anything as things happen, Love, Tilly.”

I hope you enjoyed hearing from Tilly and want you glad you’re here at this excellent school instead of at dear old P.U.

Hey, you know, maybe old P.U.’s only happen where students don’t care.

"All these things are good," says Dean Haskell, but first ask your capacity first then join if you can make your grade.

According to the LC dean, the main thing for freshmen to remember is: "Don't just be concerned about getting an education simply for making a living."

"The most important aspect of getting an education is that it helps you to make a living," he concluded. "If you can make a living, you can make a living."
