ART EXHIBIT SCHEDULED

Some "individualistic and personal" paintings, sculptures and drawings by Ray Shead, head of the LaGrange College Department of Art, will go on view this week.

This will be the first campus showing of the artist-teacher's work since he joined the LaGrange faculty. It will open with a reception from 3 to 5 p.m.

The exhibition will feature 12 paintings, four pieces which combine both painting and sculpture, and several drawings.

Professor Shead earned a bachelor of fine arts degree from the Atlanta School of Art, and a professional degree from the Art Center College of Design in Los Angeles, Calif.

Until assuming his position at LaGrange College in 1968, Mr. Shead lived and worked in New York City and Atlanta.

The artist-professor says that his art is "a vehicle for communication, a means of realization - an awareness of life." Art should not be "a mirror to nature," but as an articulation of man's intellectual, emotional response to life.

"I try to express my feeling about the world in which I live through my paintings and sculpture in my own individualistic and personal way," he adds.

His work has been exhibited in numerous national and regional shows. Exhibitions in which he has won awards include the New York Society of Illustrators' annual national in New York City, the Dixie annual at the Montgomery, Ala. Museum of Fine Arts, the Southern Contemporary, which originated in Atlanta but traveled nationwide, the Atlanta School of Art's Golden Competition, the Tuskegee, Ala., Heter-Art Gallery, the Wilconico Art League annual in Salisbury, Md., the Columbus, Ga., Square Fifth annual, and the sixth annual Callaway Gardens show at Pine Mountain.

In addition Mr. Shead has exhibited in the Southeastern annual, the Men's "Painting of the Year" show, the Atlanta Arts Festival, and the High Museum, all in Atlanta; and the Macon Museum; the Religious Arts Festival in Rochester, N.Y.; the New Horizons Gallery in Englewood; and Illusions Gallery in Tennyson, both in New York City.

Previously the artist-professor has been featured in one-man shows at the Unitarian Universalist Church in Atlanta, and at the Chattahoochee Valley Art Association center in LaGrange. He is scheduled to have one-man shows later this spring in the Haley Museum of Art in Albany and the Columbus Museum of Arts and Crafts.

Mr. Shead's work will continue on exhibition in the LC campus through March 6.

Presidents' Roundtable Meets

The President's Roundtable met in the cafeteria on Monday, Feb. 9. This meeting of the heads of the various organizations on campus discussed several topics of interest to the students of LaGrange.

First, the new hours for all girls' discos were discussed. These are:

- Freshmen: 12:30 Fri. & Sat.
- 12:00 Sun.
- Upperclassmen: 1:30 Fri. & Sat.
- 1:00 Sun.

Miss Mary Ellen Wayne was chosen as the new Quadrangle Queen.

SEMINAR CANCELLED

The Israeli Study-Travel Seminar has been cancelled for this coming summer. The reason given for the cancellation was that people were not interested in a Study-Travel Seminar in the summer of 1971, the Department of Religion would be glad to make the necessary arrangements. Students who would like to participate in 1971 should be prepared to make the down-payments during the Fall Quarter.

The political tensions in the Middle East appear to have discouraged some students from participating in the Seminar. Dr. McCook suggested that these conditions were influencing the travel industry as a whole.

Seminars sponsored jointly by the Departments of Art and Religion will remain open for applicants for several additional weeks. Persons interested should contact either Mr. Shead or Dr. McCook immediately.

Who Will Be Miss LC 1970

A night at the theater will be the colorful theme for the Miss LaGrange College Pageant to be staged the evening of February 28, 1970 in the LaGrange High School Auditorium.

The look of a theater front will be reflected in this year's set design and music for the parade of contestants that will open the annual pageant next Saturday night.

Three prominent judges have been selected by Tom Nelson, pageant chairman, to choose the new MISS LGARANGE COLLEGE. These three will score the points the girls earn in the competition in the fields of beauty, charm, poise, and talent.

The personable young girl selected Miss LaGrange College will gain the right to climb further toward additional honors in the Miss Georgia Pageant in Atlanta, S.C., and possibly toward the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J. Who knows? The lovely young lady selected Saturday night may well be the next Miss America. Imagine a L.C. student, Miss America? She is only 2 steps away.

Complaints about high prices for used textbooks with low trade-in prices has been the subject of concern for students. However, the matter of textbook shortage followed a close second.

LACK OF ACTIVITIES

Comments in this category reflected in 2 feelings that too great an emphasis is placed upon fraternization and sororities and 2 concern over lack of planned, directed recreation; proper medical care and counseling service.

It is thought that improving both of these will also serve to de-emphasize the latter. The committee urged that immediate steps be taken to improve the present situation especially since this is a major source of dissatisfaction toward the College.

It should be understood that the following statements are in the form of recommendations, only. These will be considered in detail by the Committees actually in authority.
A CHRISTIAN WITNESS BY Gene Collum

A man was reading his newspaper, and in it he found a picture of the world. He cut the picture out and thus saw the world up by countries. He handed the pieces to his young son. "Son, I want you to see what you have learned. Let's see you put this world back together." The boy was gone only a short time before he returned with the picture completed. The father was amazed and asked how his son could have possibly done such a task in only a few minutes. The son replied, "Dad, there was a picture of a man on the back. When I got him right, the world was O.K. too."

A lot of folks are setting out today to straighten out the world. They see the big problems of war, racism, poverty, corruption, and many more. If only they would see that the problem can only be solved by getting man straight. Man is out of alignment with himself because he has become separated from his Creator and from the eternal purpose for which he was created. This is the root cause of every problem that mankind has today.

It cannot be attacked by the simple treatment of symptoms. Most of our efforts are as effective as trying to cover measles by the covering of the spots with makeup. This certainly applies to the current situation in school integration. The bussing of student, the "acceptance" of plans by HEW, stringent zoning, and all the rest merely treat the symptom.

We need a wholesale attack on the problem cause. That which causes a "white" man to think himself to be better than a "black" man is pride. And that pride is separated man from God. The same pride has created the extreme movements in the "black" community. How can this "pride" be effectively cured? Is religion the answer? Decidedly Not!

Religion is simply a philosophy that it is better to live in a certain way than to live in another. This will never solve the world's problems. What will? Since our problems arise out of a separation from God, our God must not only be cured by reconnecting our selves to Him. How is this to be done? Man desperately seeks to do this, even those who do not admit or even know it. However all of our efforts are in vain, we cannot reach God by our own efforts. Realizing this, God has reached for us. He has provided a path by which we may be reunited with Him. That path is Jesus Christ.

Pascal, the Frence physicist and philosopher, put it this way, "There is a God-shaped vacuum in the heart of every man which only God can fill through His Son, Jesus Christ." Even someone who is reading this column is seeking a way to fill that vacuum. I plead with you to try Jesus Christ.

EDITORIAL

Heretofore, this space has been allotted to complaints and criticism of campus affairs. Occasionally, however, something happens so deserving of attention that it completely overshadows my "criticism of the week." This past week, two such events occurred, and I think we need to take time to look at them.

Via campus mail, I received a memo informing me of the change in procedure for advance registration. The first sentence struck me: "An effort will be made to improve situations..." And surprisingly, after that sentence, things got better. Since I happened to be one of those students who got "closed out" of a class last quarter, I was awarded "closed out" of a class this time. A committee did investigate those responses, did make specific recommendations, did ask for considerations of problems, and has brought the whole affair back to the student body. That seems to me, to be a sign of better communications to come, and a sign of possible changes to come.

For such a long time now, people have shied away from situations, yet they have not dared to act upon them. It seems to be that it is time to stop screaming complaints and ideas and to set about the business of correcting the wrongs and living the ideas.

So, to those who took the time to investigate the answers on the questionnaire and to those who will now take time and make an effort to do something about the problems posed, I say "Thanks!"

Also, I'd like to comment on the article on page 1 of this week's paper concerning the results of the questionnaire student completed. Like most students, I thought that this was just another questionnaire filled out and forgotten. This was not the case this time. A committee did investigate those responses, did make specific recommendations, did ask for considerations of problems, and has brought the whole affair back to the student body. That seems to me to be a sign of better communications to come, and a sign of possible changes to come.

If you take a look around any student desiring to run for any office may submit a list of twenty names to any member of the executive council.

Chapel Should Not Be Obligation

by Edward Martin

Why are we forced to fill through one hour of chapel every other week? The subject is an old one and one that has been discussed many times. I hate to bring it up again, but after every assembly I can't help feeling that another hour, which could have been put to good use, has been wasted.

If you take a look around while the guest speaker is giving his speech, you'll see people talking, writing letters, sleeping, laughing, and maybe a few listening. The reason for this lack of communication between speaker and audience is not necessarily due to the speaker's inanity but to the irrelevance of the subject.

LC students are notoriously apathetic - Why not bring in speakers who will show us there is more to life than a cup of coffee? Why, week after week, are we exposed to people who seem to choose their subject just because of its basality? I'm sure there are hundreds of Black Panthers, John Birch Society members, social workers, missionaries, communists, ultra-conservatives, dope addicts, doctors, politicians, etc., etc., who are dying to be asked to speak somewhere. Sure, a lot of these people are going to step on our toes, but the best way to develop a philosophy of life is to listen to everybody and then make up our own minds!

I don't want assemblies to be suspended. On the contrary, I want to be able to listen to other people's opinions and to tell them my own. It does no good to listen to somebody talk for fifty minutes without being able to question their beliefs and express our own feelings on the subject.

If assemblies are made attractive enough and are made to serve their purpose, they might serve as a link for communication between the student body and the administration. Students might begin to feel that assemblies are a right, not an obligation.
A LOOK AT INTRAMURALS

The "game of the week" featured Kappa Phi and the Indies in a real defensive thrill. The game saw the KO de- featured Kappa Phi and the magnitude, the loser can beaten teams in a fierce game matched two once-results. 19-17. Both defensive thrills, forced their opponents into taking numerous bad shots re-forcing the faculty into numerous turnovers. With the momentum going their way, Kappa Sig built a 29-18 halftime lead. The Faculty exhibited much better ball handling in the second half but could not overcome the consistent play of Kappa Sigma.

Despite a gallant effort by the Faculty, Kappa Sigma combined balanced scoring with excellent defense to emerge with a 53-29 victory over the Faculty. The Faculty came on shooting and built an early 8-2 lead. Kappa Sig, which had opened the game playing a 2-1-2 zone defense, then switched to a pressing man-to-man defense forcing the faculty into numerous turnovers. With the momentum going their way, Kappa Sig built a 29-18 halftime lead. The Faculty exhibited much better ball handling in the second half but could not overcome the consistent play of Kappa Sigma.

In recent action, the Panthers beat Berry 71-70 and lost to Armstrong 69-62. The win over Berry was the 100th win for Coach Mariotti since coming to LaGrange. Their record is now 6-17 over all and 3-6 in the GIAC.

The win over Berry was a very fine team effort. Further than scored 31 points in the win. Bob Eble, Frank Parsons, Sid Smith and The Doll all turned in good efforts.

Last Wednesday at the Berry game, the student support was the best that it has been all year and certainly had a lot to do with the victory

by: Mark Williams

For a change the students really appeared involved. As a matter of fact, they were so involved that our President had to attempt to calm the students down over the microphone. In a way, this was very unfortunate, because it is hard enough to get the students to support the team in the first place. In my opinion, a basketball game is always much better when the people in the stands are alive and active. So what if the fans get unruly, it shows that they really care about the game.

Saturday night the Panthers did not play well in their loss to Armstrong. Bob Eble played an outstanding game, making shots from all angles but he had little support as the rest of the team was cold.

the gym should be opened every night for student recreation and the Laundry building should be opened on Sunday afternoons and nights. A motion was also approved to make provisions for movies on a bi-weekly basis. The school has already ordered a screen and project for the gym. The room was also discussed.

The last thing of interest discussed was that of the New Admission Plan which would involve acceptance of some students on probationary status. These students would be required to take special training courses without credit. The only students eligible for this special program would be those that are accepted on condition of future work. Those fitting this group would be special border-line cases only.

Last Saturdays night, before a very small crowd, the East All-Stars defeated the West All-Stars by the score of 59-52. Taking advantage of their superior speed, the East team was able to capitalize on the fast-break and overcome a 6-20 second half deficit. The East led at halftime, 26-21, but the West, behind the shooting and rebounding of Pug Hill, rallied in the second half to take the 6 point edge, before the East "two-way" to win. Hill scored 29 points, and grabbed 12 rebounds to keep the West in the ballgame. Ronnie Garrett and Karlton Howard did not score; and James Lee had 6 points; Teel scored 4 points.

Other scores for the game were: for the West: Hitt, 29; Ralph Sims, 9 points; Robert Wood, 5 points; Greg Clapper, 4 points; Kelly Larson and Segrest scored 2 points each; Vic McDaniel, 1 point; David Covington did not score; and James Lee Garrett and Karlton Howard were not present. For the East in addition to Mason and Courtright, Bill McGough scored 10 points; Russ Holden missed an exciting and fast moving basketball game.

The new MISS L.C. will be crowned by Kit Wilmot Newman, last year's winner, and will reign in position for a period of 1 year. In addition to the coveted title, come lucky girl will also win a trophy and a $200.00 clothing expense account for the Miss Georgia Pageant.
