Greek Officers Are Announced

Officers of all fraternities and sororities at LaGrange College have been elected and are announcing their organizations. In addition, officers of Panhellenic Council have also been elected, and the council sponsors the Greek social groups and promotes cooperation, according to Cliff E. Clinton, president of the university, who is in charge of the college catalog.

There are three fraternities and three sororities at LaGrange and are unique in that every LaGrange student has the opportunity to join one of the groups.

Officers of Panhellenic Council are Judy McCall of Columbus, president; Ted Hitchcock of Fernandina Beach, Fla., vice president; Charyl Mahaffey of Columbus, associate; and Jim McLean of Athens, secretary and editor-in-chief of the college catalog.

Define: “Riot”

Coming up before the student body some time between now and Christmas vacation is what we termed last week the proposed ‘riot rule’.

Before this new amendment to the SGA Constitution can become effective it must pass a vote by the student body. The term student body means however as many people that go to Dabbs when the meeting is called and vote on the amendment. If only 10 people show up for the called meeting and these 10 people pass the amendment it becomes law.

This amendment will affect every student on campus. With this rule in the Constitution, any student can punish severely, even expelled from school, if they are found at the scene of what someone considers a riot.

Incidently the term riot is not defined in the amendment.

First of all, let me make myself clear on one thing. The girls in Turner Hall are not against the opposite sex and some do have just as much interest in them as all other girls. However, we do like privacy and the problem with privacy is that we have very little of it.

It is extremely disconcerting to be walking out of your dorm room, unattended appropriately for the dorm, and to suddenly find yourself staring the opposite sex in the eye. What do you do? Smile or Run?

This situation presents itself quite frequently when couples are standing in the doorway and people are constantly opening the door and going in and out of dorm. Each time the door opens, the living area of the dorm is thrown wide open for viewing. Also when couples are "sitting" each other good-nite in the doorway and people are trying to pass through, it presents an awkward situation to say the least.

Although it is very convenient to have men carry your luggage to your room, when it goes on from early afternoon till eleven o'clock at night it certainly makes it rough for the girls in the dorm. Isn't there someway that this luggage carrying activity could be done before 7 p.m.?

Student Volunteers Wanted For Archaeology Hunt in England

A new and exciting opportunity in England is now offered to college students wanting to spend next summer in Europe in archaeology.

You may help to reveal the secrets of a Roman villa, an Iron Age hill fort or traces of a medieval town or an Anglo-Saxon cathedral. Before they disappear, perhaps forever.

Expanding housing programs, city center development and new highway projects in Britain today have opened up many new possibilities for archaeological investigation.

You may help in this important work, earn credits, make international friends and receive valuable training in archaeology, by joining a programming supported by the Association for Cultural Exchange, the British nonprofit organization.

Volunteers first join a three-week research center in British archaeology and excavation techniques at Westminister College, Oxford. Then they split up into small groups for three or more weeks "digging" on an archaeological site. Total cost of the trip is $750 dollars, including round-trip air transportation from New York.

Should you choose to participate, you must be a student with a "B" average. The selected volunteers will be among the first American students ever to excavate the site of the Anglo-Saxon Minster at Winchester, England, last summer, alongside the existing medieval Cathedral.

Elections: Are They Necessary?

(RACP) - Moved by a desire to rid Southern Methodist University (Dallas, Texas) of fraternal clubs, the student senate is discussing the elimination of underclass officers. The senate had studied the function of class officers and concluded that, with the exception of the seniors, they have none.

This proposed elimination, a courageous move in that it may be unprecedented, makes sense, says the SMU campus. What reason is there for holding an election so soon after the freshman election that 80 or 70 people may campaign for nothing more than another picture of themselves in the yearbook?

If the abolition of officials does take place, there is a subsequent proposal to replace them with class favorites. It is said that the three lower classes would select boy and girl "Favorite," presumably those would be the people with the least merit and the most GLORI-able\thushy\tish during election season.

Why would the Student Senate be so eager to rid themselves of their offices? One reason is the difficult problem of underclass officers. The student body is faced with the problem of selecting officers for the upperclassmen. As a result of the student body's increasing interest in the local news, the Student Senate has decided to eliminate the offices of underclass officers, and then Herbert Archer. She served as chapel organist.

Since transferring to Lagrange College to continue her study with Miss Cliff, Miss Walding has held membership in Music Educators Conference and Alpha Kappa Theta sorority, which makes Chapel so objectible to them with class favorites, it is said that the three lower classes would select boy and girl "Favorite," presumably those would be the people with the least merit and the most GLORI-able\thushy\tish during election season.

Coach's Remarks

"Team Is Improving"

The LaGrange College "Panthers" play two big games this week, The Hilltop News Sports Writer will cover both games. Jimmy Wilson will cover the game Thursday evening with Jacksonville State College, sports editor, Harold Tarpley, will cover Saturday evening's game with Mercer University.

In a recent interview, Coach Al Mariotti had several remarks about the games this week. The interview proceeded as follows:

Q.: What do you think about the game?

Mariotti: "It will be a real test for us eight to nine."

Q.: How are the "Panthers"progressing in practice?

Mariotti: "During Thanksgiving they may have eaten too much turkey and dressing. These days of practice that were missed will hamper the boys Thursday. We have three days to get back in shape.

Q.: What shape is the Mercer team in this year?

Mariotti: "Last year we beat them twice, and the year before we split with one win each."

Q.: What shape is the Mercer team in this year?

Mariotti: "They are big and strong. They have several big boys such as Copeland who will play center probably. They are a running-shooting team."

Q.: What do you think about the game?

Mariotti: "They are big and strong take over the first place."

Q.: How do the "Panthers" stand with Mercer?

Mariotti: "No".

Q.: What do you know about Jacksonville State before?

Mariotti: "Nothing".

Q.: Will they "sparkle" in winter quarter?

Mariotti: "Yes!"

Next fall PI Delta Kappa will be defending their undefeated record of last year, and Sigma Nu Pi and Gamma Phi Alpha both will be fighting to take over first place.

Football will end this afternoon at LaGrange College for this season, The All Stars will play Pi Delta at 4:00 p.m.

In the Southeastern Conference, the University of Georgia "Bulldogs" treated the Ga. Tech "Yellow Jackets" like fools last Saturday in Atlanta. Bullhog's coach Vince Dooley was named "SEC coach of the year" and he will take the Bulldogs to the Sun Bowl.

My pick in the game at Athens was the University of Georgia. Another "pick" of the mine had the "Crimson Tide" over Texas in the 1965 Orange Bowl.

Another "pick" of the mine had the "Crimson Tide" over Texas in the 1965 Orange Bowl. Basketball is already in the spotlight of most sports fans, especially at LaGrange. The "Panthers" have high hopes and may very well reach their goals.

Framatome basketball will begin in winter quarter, So there is plenty of basketball action ahead at LaGrange College.

In my opinion there are more deer hunters than deer hunters at LC. Speaking of hunting, I believe Jimmy Mathews has had some pretty good luck bird hunting, so far.

Back to basketball, we have a chance to support the "Pan-

Students Must Display ID's

Mr. Antolin Z. Cook, Business Manager of the College, in an interview last week reminded students that they must display their Identification Card to gain entrance into home basketball games.

He pointed out that many students were admitted to the Alabama game without showing their card. He said that from now on all students will have to have a card or will have to pay admission.

This card was distributed to all full-time students during registration at the beginning of this quarter.
